VILLAGE ANNEXES 32 ACRES

Takes in Two 'Island' Areas

Arlington Heights Village Board Monday annexed roughly 32 acres in two locations under state involuntary annexation provisions.

The move took in two "islands" of unincorporated land recently surrounded by the village: a parcel of about 30 acres at Arlington Heights and Algonquin Roads and a smaller parcel east of Buffalo Grove Road and south of Palatine Road.

An attorney representing 10 property owners in the larger chunk sought unsuccessfully to have the board postpone its decision. Annexation ordinances first were presented to the board on July 19.

TRUSTEES HAD withheld action, asking the village administration to notify property owners of the pending annexation beforehand.

The owners retained Atty. Howard Kaufman, Elk Grove Village, who sought the further contiuance. Kaufman said his clients had raised objections over potential loss on investments in wells and the like and the possible effect on one client's liquor license.

He said he wanted time to research their objections and present them in legal terms to the board. Even if they were subject to forced annexation, he said a better spirit would exist if they were given time to present their objections.

APPARENTLY wary that another postponement would mislead residents on the board's intent, trustees approved immediate annexation. Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel said in granting communities the right to annex surrounded areas of 60 acres or less the Legislature had recognized a community's interest in such areas.

He advised the board Kaufman "could not go to the legalities . . . there is no legal impediment (to annexation)." Trustee Carl F. Mees said he had urged the first postponement because "I felt if we were going to annex . . . the residents should know it was coming. I am satisfied they have had notice."

Most of the larger parcel is northwest of the Arlington Heights-Algonquin roads intersection. Part, however, extends south of Algonquin, and another part juts across Arlington Heights Road, just south of Seeger Road.

A zoning hearing was scheduled Wednesday (last night) before the plan commission. Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson said property owners south of Algonquin are seeking a change from county commercial zoning to B3 (general service, wholesale and motor vehicle) classification.

Total 380 Units

Apartment Projects Win Tentative Okay

Two apartment developments at opposite ends of the village were approved tentatively by the Arlington Heights Village Board Monday.

One, Ivy Hill subdivision's Unit 3, provides 140 units in nine buildings.

The second, at Algonquin and Goebbert Roads, provides 240 units in five arc-shaped buildings.

The board had withheld approval of the Algonquin project on July 19 because it included studio or "efficiency" units. The board gave tentative approval to the project — minus studio units — pending drafting of final plans. Developers appeared confident the changes would be minor and would not jeopardize final approval.

THE PLAN commission had recommended approval of the developer's original plan, including studios, but called the board's attention to the fact studios are not mentioned in the zoning category being sought, R5. The developers said the site—south of Forest View High School — would be "ideal" for studio apartments.

After their initial rebuff, they came to Monday's meeting with a suggestion to decrease the number of studios and increase their size. The board still balked.

At that point, Atty. Howard Borde, representing the developers, presented the plan agreed to by the board. It involves 140 one-bedroom and 90 two-bedroom units. Plans for the posh-looking development include creation of a small lake-retention basin, pool and recreation area.

IVY HILL developer Ben Pekin also sought tentative approval of his planned development east of Arlington Heights Road and south of Valley Lane. It includes 68 two-bedroom, 68 one-bedroom and 4 three-bedroom units in brick buildings of neo-colonial architecture.

Pekin said he wanted to be certain of board approval of the concept before investing in engineering surveys for utility easements. He added the F&L Construction Co., Westchester, had "pulled out" of the development after controversial plans for a duplex development were rejected by the plan commission and the apartments were substituted.

He presently plans the development himself, Pekin said, probably breaking ground in October. Borde said the Algonquin developers also anticipate a start this year.

Insurance Firm Move Slated for Saturday

Northwestern Mutual Insurance Co. will move its 10-state regional office from Chicago's loop to 1200 N. State Rd., Arlington Heights, on Saturday.

Spokesmen expect to have the new office in operation Monday. It will have an opening labor force of 85 to 90, with employment levels to reach 100 in the future.

The office serves 825 agents in states from Ohio to Kansas, from Minnesota to Kentucky, processing $7 million in premium sales a year.

The State Road building actually will house two firms operated by a joint management: Northwestern Mutual writes policies for fire and allied lines and casualty. The second firm, Northwestern Security Insurance Co. provides "automated" home owners and auto policies through a computerized processing system.

H. G. HOLMES, midwest manager, said the 64-year-old Seattle-based firm's midwest office had been in the Loop for 24 years. He said the move was precipitated by the advantages of suburban location and of Arlington Heights, a desire to "identify" with a community and have the community identify itself with the firm.

A dedication ceremony for the $500,000-plus glass, concrete and steel building is planned Oct. 29. The only major work remaining is landscaping.

Although the move itself will take only a day, months have gone into its preparation, including the major factor of developing an Arlington Heights-based working force.

THE MOVE TO Arlington Heights has been anticipated for several years. Ground for the new office was broken last August. It follows the building design which won a national award for small office building construction drafted by Raleigh, N. C., architect G. Milton Small.

Small's building was the firm's Raleigh regional office. Actual construction here has been supervised by Arlington Heights architect Joel Bennett.

Arlington Plays Today In Opener

Arlington Heights will play host team Carmi today (Thursday) at 1:30 p.m. in the opening game of the Illinois American Legion baseball tournament.

Arlington, Carmi, Rockford, Galesburg and Nokomis will participate in the double elimination meet with the champion advancing to the regional tourney in East Chicago, Ind.

PADDOCK Publications will have special operators available to handle calls on the progress of the Arlington Heights team. Call CL 3-1520.

Details on the state tournament and the sports bulletin service will be found in the sports section.

Stuart R. Paddock, editor emeritus of Paddock Publications, has moved back to California after a brief stay in Dunedin, Fla.

He is much improved after suffering an illness in Florida. Mrs. Paddock is also recovering after surgery in Florida.

Address of the Paddocks in California is 21 Willow Road, Apt. 15, Willow West Apartments, Menlo Park, Calif.

Youth, 17, Injured In 'Mock' Accident

Near tragedy occurred Saturday when a 17-year-old Arlington Heights boy was rolled and dragged 48 feet under a car in a mock-accident-come-true.

The youth was taken to Northwest Community Hospital after receiving multiple scrapes and bruises on face and body and having his clothes shredded.

He was reported in "fair" condition Tuesday in the hospital's intensive care unit.

HIS COMPANIONS told police he had lain on the pavement in front of the car to make an approaching motorist believe he had been hit; he actually was hit when a companion in the car, unaware of his action, moved the vehicle out of the path of the second car.

Police said Robert Myers, 311 S. Patton Ave., had been driving his father's car westbound on Rockwell Street along with two friends, John C. Erfort, 18, 541 S. Vail Ave., and Michael Tomei, 17, 535 E. Orchard St. Near Bristol Avenue, they stopped abreast of an eastbound car occupied by three teenage girls.

Myers and Tomei got out to talk. They said when another car approached Tomei lay down on the street, in front of Myers' car.

Erfort, who had remained in the car, saw the other vehicle approach and decided to move Myers' car. The others watched in horror.

The youths called police and a private doctor, Werner F. Cryns. A nearby resident, John Schaff, 515 E. Rockwell St., had cut Tomei's trousers to free them from the car's undercarriage. Police issued tickets to the three boys.

High Rise Proposed For Church Property

A plan to build a high rise apartment building on the old St. Peter Lutheran Church property, incorporating an existing gymnasium structure, was referred to the plan commission by the Arlington Heights Village Board Monday.

Developer Joe Bernstein explained the plan would require significant variations from the village's new B5 (90-foot commercial-residential) ordinance. That ordinance permits nine story, mixed commercial-residential buildings in the downtown core.

THE ST. PETER property, in the block bounded by St. James, Eastman, Vail and an extension of Highland, is zoned B5. That category requires the first floor be used for commercial purposes.

Bernstein said he hopes to use an existing gymnasium building, of recent vintage, to satisfy the commercial requirement. That structure would be remodeled to blend in with a proposed seven story structure.

The new building would have parking and utilities on the first and second floors and basement level.

A SECOND AREA in question is the extension of Highland Avenue. Bernstein said the extension is a private drive and should be used in computing land lot area — the basis on which the number of permitted apartment units will be determined. He said use of the land in computations had been questioned by the building department.

BERNSTEIN SAID the third area of contention was whether the gymnasium building should be considered in determining the square footage of buildable lot. Asked whether referral of his questions to the plan commission for its recommendation would delay building, Bernstein said he did not plan a start in construction this year anyway.

Village Pres. Pro Tem John White said the St. Peter property represented a "unique problem of an existing (gym) building that's certainly not ready to be torn down."

Cross Burned; No Explanation

Arlington Heights police reported a cross burning incident late Sunday at the home of Harry Schurtleff, 1616 W. Euclid St.

Schurtleff said he heard a noise in his backyard at about 10:45 p.m. and saw the cross burning. It measured about three by four feet. Police were unable to find an explanation for the vandalism.

Thieves Cool It

An air conditioning unit, still crated and valued at $238, was taken from an apartment at 2630 Bel Air Drive, Regent Park, last Tuesday or Wednesday, subdivision superintendent Elmer Hamning told Arlington Heights police.

Advertise Again, State Says

Bids Can't Be Taken Until Plans Okayed

The Illinois Highway Department has told Arlington Heights to re-advertise for bids on the Grove Street-Pine Avenue improvement—after the state has approved plans for the project.

The action sets back plans of the board of local improvements (BOLI) for an early start on the work, involving extension of Grove from State Road slightly more than a block to a point east of Pine, and extension of Pine across Grove.

BOLI had authorized advertisement for bids on the project—before final approval of plans by the state in hopes of having the improvement completed this year. Whether or not the state's action will delay the work until next year is uncertain.

THE IMPROVEMENTS board had been warned by Norman Hennessee, a representative of Consoer Townsend & Associates consulting engineers, that the state might balk at the procedure. BOLI members had been critical of the consulting engineers for not getting approval of plans while the spe-

Downtown High Rise Plan Still Undecided

Action on a request for R6 (high rise apartment) zoning in the 200 block of West Campbell Street was put off by the Arlington Heights Village Board Monday.

Trustee Carl Mees, head of a special committee appointed to negotiate with developers for extension of Chestnut Avenue from Campbell to Wing Street, said his group had no report.

Agreement on the street extension has held up board approval of the zoning, which would permit erection of the $475,000 structure proposed by developer Robert Babbin at 1 N. Chestnut. Developers had indicated cost of the street installation would make the structure unprofitable, and Mees' group was to find a solution.

ONE PROPOSAL considered by his committee, Mees said, was a suggestion by Babbin that he pay for installation of the east half of Chestnut, adjacent to his building. Mees estimated that contribution between $5,800 and $7,500.

"That still leaves the problem of (acquiring) the right-of-way." Property owners have estimated the value of right of way they control at $20,000; the remainder of the right-of-way is occupied by a house and lot the village has options to buy.

Mees said the present owner of the land, William Lawler, had suggested paving the street by special assessment — a procedure the developers initially indicated would be too costly.

ATTORNEY DUDLEY Sullivan, representing Babbin, agreed those had been the positions. He urged Monday, however, that the street be put in by special assessment and separated from the pending action on zoning.

"The acquisition of the street is an element that has been injected into the case . . . and it frankly doesn't belong in the case at this time."

At the heart o fthis issue is how much of the improvement's cost will be borne by the village and how much Babbin's group will pay. Sullivan said Babbin's position is that the street is entirely a public benefit and "no benefit derives to the (Babbin) property."

IT APPEARS likely that in a special assessment program the courts would find a relatively high degree of public benefit in the project. And it appears obvious the village wants to settle the question of costs before approving the zoning change.

Members agreed in the absence of a recommendation from Mees — and in the absence of two members who have an interest in downtown development (Village Pres. John G. Woods and Trustee Jack Walsh were not at Monday's session) — to delay action until the Aug. 16 meeting.

Flags Lowered In Memory of G. F. Schneberger

Flags were lowered to half staff at village installations earlier this week in memory of George F. Schneberger, a former village trustee and former high school board member who died suddenly last Thursday at his home, 615 N. Haddow Ave.

He was stricken at his home and pronounced dead by a private doctor after a fire department inhalator team worked unsuccessfully to revive him. Services were held Monday.

He was 71.

Schneberger owned and operated the Arlington Elevator Co. on Northwest Highway from 1916 to 1963. A World War I Navy veteran, he served six years on the Arlington Heights Village Board starting in 1935. Earlier, he had served on the board of High School District 214 from 1926 to 1932. It was during this period that the first addition to Arlington High School was begun.

He was a member of the Arlington Heights American Legion, Elks and Masonic lodges. In 1915, he was honored by Northwestern University as the only man to earn four letters in sports. His were in baseball, football, basketball and track.

3 Pre-Annexation Hearings Aug. 18

Pre-annexation zoning hearings on roughly 25 acres on the east side of Arlington Heights Road, south of Central Road, will be held by the Arlington Heights Plan Commission Aug. 18.

Three hearings, starting at 8 p.m., have been scheduled on the three separate petitions for annexation.

Involved are one large tract and two smaller ones, all currently zoned residential. The large parcel fronts 850 feet along Arlington Heights Road, from White Oak Drive to Cedar Street. It is immediately north of the state highway garage.

DEVELOPERS HAVE asked for 6.35 acres of B3 (general service, wholesale and motor vehicle district) zoning in the area along Arlington Heights Road. Behind it, they propose 15.4 acres of R5 apartment zoning. On a small strip jutting north of the extension of White Oak Drive, they propose two R3 single-family lots.

A second petition involves four lots between Central Road and Magnolia Street, facing Arlington Heights Road. They are proposed for annexation and rezoning to B1 limited retail business; two lots immediately south of them, already in the village, are proposed for the same classification.

Two lots, 50 feet south of Magnolia and facing Arlington Heights Road, also are proposed for B1 zoning upon annexation. The individual lots, all in the Arlington Manor subdivision, have 25-foot frontages.

X-Ray Unit In Village Next Week

A week-long summer community chest X-ray survey will be held in Arlington Heights Aug. 16-20.

The mobile X-ray unit will be in front of the Ben Franklin store, 9 W. Campbell St., Aug. 16 and 17. It will be at Arlington Market shopping center, Kensington and Dryden, Aug. 18 - 20.

Hours are from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Aug. 16 and 19, from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Aug. 17 and 18, and from 1:30 to 8:30 p.m. Aug. 20.

"We hope residents of Arlington Heights who are not able to visit the mobile unit during its regular monthly stops will take advantage of these expanded hours to have their chests X-rayed," said Mrs. Maria Coburn, director of health services. "It is a useful preventative measure."

ACCORDING to Mrs. Coburn two Arlington Heights residents currently are hospitalized with active cases of tuberculosis, one of them with a noncommunicable form of the disease. During 1964, 13 persons with Arlington Heights village or mailing addresses were hospitalized with the disease.

"Five women's groups will be assisting during this survey, with one group assigned each day. They are the senior group of the St. James Women's Guild, the Catholic Women's Club of Our Lady of the Wayside, the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club, the Arlington Heights Nurses Club and the PTA Council."

3 Crossings Will Have Stop Lights

Traffic lights for three Arlington Heights intersections were approved by the village board Monday.

Involved are the Euclid Avenue-State Road, Minner Street-State Road and Kensington Road-Northwest Highway intersections. The board approved a resolution appropriating $80,000 in state motor fuel tax funds for the controls and accessory street lighting. Village Mgr. L.A. Hanson said the appropriation was inflated to cover contingencies, and actual cost was not expected to reach $80,000.

AT THE URGING of Trustee Carl F. Mees, the board told Hanson to include a left turn arrow at the Euclid-State intersection where plans had called for a delayed signal to permit turns. Hanson said the change would cause about a month's delay to resubmit plans to the state, but installation is still expected this year.

Signals will be added to a fourth intersection this year in plans already approved. It is the State Road-Sigwalt crossing.

Trustees Honor Nike Commander

A resolution honoring Col. James P. Strauss was approved Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

Colonel Strauss was commander of the 45th Artillery Brigade at the Arlington Nike Base for two years until his transfer in July. He was cited for fostering "the highest degree of cooperation with the community."

Arlington Girl Named Teen Queen

BONNIE PEDERSEN

Bonnie Pedersen, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Pedersen, 804 W. Campbell St., was named Teen Queen in a contest held last Friday in connection with Arlington Heights Sidewalk Days.

She is an eighth grade student at Our Lady of the Wayside School. She and her brother, 15, a sophomore at Arlington High School, also were given plaques and $10 gift certificates at Persin & Robbin jewelers in the teen dance contest.

The teen events were conducted by the Talented Teen Foundation, Itasca. Music was provided by the P. K. Five, recent winners of the Palatine Talented Teen search, with entertainment by award winning talented teen acts. The teen program, Davis and Campbell was interrupted by Friday evening's intermittent showers, which also held down attendance. (A

Cedar Glen Wins Plan Body Approval

An amendment to the approved plan development layout to allow construction of a swimming pool and recreational area in the proposed Cedar Glen development won approval from the Arlington Heights Plan Commission last week.

The proposed development, which includes eight buildings containing 80 units over 4½ acres, did not stipulate a recreational area, an architect for the developers told the commission.

"We have decided our development would be incomplete without allowing for proper recreational facilities for children and a central meeting place for adults," he explained.

IN ADDITION to the swimming pool the amendment also calls for the construction of a contemporary styled shelter of aluminum covered with a neophrene skin.

Member Charles Catlin told the commission that he commended the developers for creating a recreational area for young people.

"This is a fine example and is the type of thing we don't see enough of. I think it should be standard fare."

The proposed amendment will be reviewed by the village board Aug. 16. (A

Leasing Use Tax Approved

A half-cent "use" tax on leased and rented personal property was approved Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board. Effective Sept. 1, it will be added to a new state use tax of 3½ per cent.

The state tax, and authorization for municipalities to add a half cent for their purposes, was signed into law July 20 by Governor Kerner. Its operation is similar to the sales tax.

MOST OBVIOUS target, in Arlington Heights at least, is the auto rental and leasing business. Less significant are general equipment, trailer and other leasing businesses.

Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson and Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel both were uncertain how much new revenue would result. The tax applies to gross receipts on leasing operations.

Local Businessmen Send Two to School

Aided by $2,000 scholarship money from local businessmen, two District 214 teachers recently participated in a unique project at Northwestern University.

June Ellingsen, teacher of history and economics at Arlington High School, and Samuel Leopardo, history teacher at Forest View High School, were part of the Mid-West Project in Business History and Economic Concepts this summer.

The project was part of a joint attack by education and business on the problem of economic illiteracy" among high school students. Major aim of the teaching project, according to Howard Bennett, chairman of Northwestern's Business History Department, was to develop an "economic readiness" in secondary school students.

THE TWO LOCAL teachers attendance was financed through fellowship grants from the following firms: Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan (Paul Collins, pres.), Lattof Motor Sales (Nicholas M. Lattof, pres.), Bank of Arlington Heights (W. C. Wolfe, pres.), Charles Bruning Company (S. C. Amren, vice president), Mark Motors, Inc. (Mark Heller, pres.).

A. O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc. (Earl Leake), Arlington Heights National Bank (Arthur Franzen, pres.), Memory Gardens, Inc. (W. J. Pailey, pres.) Norval B. Stephens, Wilson D. LeVan, Ford Sales and Service (George H. Poole), Morton Pontiac, Inc. (Morton H. Kantoff, pres.) Bill Cook Buick (Bill Cook), and Mount Prospect State Bank (William Busse, pres.).

THE TEACHERS were taught the case method of presenting students with economic situations experienced by American business from colonial times to the present decade:

Through the study of specific historic situations and the men in business and government who guided them, students are introduced to the basic needs and conflicts which underlie economic activity in a democratic society.

A teacher-training workshop, the project consisted of three weeks of classroom instruction in American business history and economics. Three weeks of experimental teaching in cooperating high schools in communities adjacent to Evanston were included.

Miss Ellingsen was a member of the lab school teaching team at New Trier High School.

Leopardo was part of the team at Niles East High School, Skokie.

THE WORKSHOP grew out of a similar project conducted in the Newton, Mass., public schools with the cooperation of the Harvard graduate schools of business and education.

Miss Ellingsen studied at North Park College and the University of Chicago, receiving her Master's degree in International Relations from the latter institution in 1946. After several years in the business world, she returned to the academic world, taking her Master of Arts in Teaching degree at Northwestern in 1963. She joined the faculty of Arlington High School in 1963.

Leopardo is a graduate of DePaul University, receiving his B.A. degree in 1958. He also holds a Master's degree in history from DePaul. After teaching at St. Ignatius High School, he joined the faculty at Forest View in 1963.

THERE WERE races to determine the slowest bike rider. Winners in this event included Bob Marzec, Conrad Pinigis, Jack McCarter and Linda Jolly.

There was also a contest to see who could drop the most washers into paper cups while riding their bikes. Winners in this event were Mary Harbaugh, Bob Marzec, Robin Heiser and George Kman. Other event winners included Tom McEnerney, Bob Shehan, Yvonne Andejeski and Laurie Gorman. (A

Sidewalk Canopy Approved for Mayfair Store

Arlington Heights Village Board Monday granted a variation to construct a permanent canopy extending over the sidewalk at a former roller rink at Northwest Highway and Kennicott Avenue.

The variation was requested by Doug Brown of Mayfair Interiors; Brown is remodeling the building for his furniture store. The present Mayfair Interiors at 1136 E. Northwest Hwy., Palatine, will be removed for highway construction.

With an eye on sales tax revenues, Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson told the village board, "We're glad he's coming back to Arlington Heights."

New 214 Residents Asked to Register

New residents of High School District 214 are being urged by school administrators to register high school students before the opening of school.

Appointments should be made by telephone with counselors who are at all four of the district high schools. Students must undergo a series of tests and probably will need counseling assistance in working out their programs of studies.

Residents who are not sure of the high school area in which they reside should check with the District 214 central administration office, CL 9-5300, to determine in which school the student should be registered.

The four district high schools are Arlington (in central Arlington Heights), Wheeling (in Wheeling near Prospect Heights), Prospect (in the north area of Mount Prospect) and Forest View (in the far south section of Arlington Heights in Elk Grove Township).

Schools are open for registration Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Richard Stanowski, director of District 214 summer guidance, stated registration of new students should be avoided during the week of Aug. 23-27, if possible. This is the week set aside for collection of school fees and distribution of textbooks to all students, and counselors will not be available to work with new students. (ACM-E

Parties, Trips fill Passing Summer Hours

As I began writing this column on Sunday it was a gloomy, drizzly, grey day, and about the only pleasant thought which occurred to me with respect to the weather was that thus far we've had surprisingly few days like it. But that has now changed, and if the TV weathermen are to be believed, even the horrible hot, humid days most of us are reminded of when thinking of August are going to be few and far between this season.

Somehow, I can't help wondering where the summer has gone, although it's no doubt a bit early to be thinking along such a line. Still, it seems as though only yesterday it was the beginning of May, with the first flowers pushing their heads out of the earth in the hope that the sunshine they need will be there to greet them.

MR. AND MRS. James R. Wellman, 222 S. Pine, spent last week in the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Box Jr. who are moving to New Jersey in September. The Wellmans were staying with their grandchildren, Jimmy and Matthew, while their parents were in the east looking for a new home.

The James Wellmans, residents in this area for a number of years, left Arlington Heights Saturday to make their home in La Grange. Several farewell parties were given for them, including a luncheon feting Mrs. Wellman held at the Rolling Green Country Club.

Miss Susan Bodine, of New Rochelle, N.Y., is arriving on Sunday, Aug. 8, to visit for a week at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bodine, 602 S. Highland.

MRS. NELLIE Wilson, formerly of Arlington Heights but who made her home for the past few years in Comanche, Iowa, with her daughter, Mrs. Philip Stimpson, died last week. Mrs. Wilson, a semi-invalid for the past two years, was 97 at the time of her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Opsahl, 1116 N. Walnut, hosted a recent farewell party for the William Heinrichs who have moved to a new home in Mount Prospect. Twenty friends and neighbors were present to extend their best wishes and to present the Heinrichs with a small gift as a remembrance of their former neighbors.

Dawn Eileen Sillin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Sillin, 312 S. Walnut, was guest of honor at an unusual celebration in the home of her parents on Sunday, following her christening at Our Lady of the Wayside. The festivities were unusual for the reason that in addition to a visit from her grandparents, the Harry Sillins and Mrs. Catherine Dean, all of Chicago, the young lady was treated to a visit from three of her six great-grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Roman Domanski and John Moreth from Chicago.

MR. AND MRS. J. Sam Clark Jr., 608 S. Walnut, returned Sunday after a 10-day vacation in Wisconsin. Their first stop was Green Lake, where they visited the Stan Billicks for two days. They traveled next to Rhinelander, where they were joined by their son, Brent, who had just completed a stay at Camp Deerhorn, and visited with their daughter, Kristin, who is spending the summer at Camp Bryn Afon, which was just across the lake. Mr. and Mrs. Clark and Brent then continued to Sturgeon Bay, where they visited Mr. Clark's parents, the senior Sam Clarks.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pomerhn and daughters, Janice, Nancy and Susan, 615 S. Ridge, returned Sunday evening from a month's motor trip through the west and Canada. They visited Grand Teton National Park, spent several days at Yellowstone National Park and then traveled to Lake Louise and Banff National Park, where they vacationed for a week.

The Edward J. Grabow family, 1201 N. Mitchell, returned Sunday from a week's holiday at Michillindn Beach Lodge in Whitehall, Mich. The Grabows, who have vacationed there for the past four years, were accompanied to Arlington Heights by Ann Adams of Cleveland, with whom the Grabow children have been friends from past vacations. Ann will spend a week here before she returns by train to Cleveland.

LARRY ANDRES, son of the William Andres, 1145 N. Belmont, was 14 July 26, but celebrated with activities covering the whole weekend. On Saturday, he treated Mark Kushman, Dennis Hill and Bob Shay to a movie; on Sunday, his friend Mark had dinner in the Andres home, and a number of members of the family stopped in to extend their best wishes to Larry; Monday was spent at a cook-out with his boy friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Petersen and son, Donald, 2505 E. Grove, were recent visitors at the New York World's Fair. Among the attractions was a ride on the AMF Monorail, which is suspended some 40 feet above the fair's exhibits, and the Petersens were provided with a panoramic view of the fair's countless points of interest as well as an enjoyable ride.

Mrs. Norbert J. Hruby, 618 W. Campbell, opened her home Tuesday for a morning coffee honoring two new neighbors, Mrs. Gerald Gaughran, formerly of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Herbert Moehling Jr., a recent resident of Rolling Meadows. Co-hostess was Mrs. James P. Freeman. Approximately 20 neighbors were present.

WEEKEND VISITORS in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wilkins, 751 Belmont, were their son and daughter-in-law, the Paul Langos of Brentwood, Mo. A family brunch was held Aug. 1 at Rolling Green Country Club for the entire Langos family, in order that Mrs. Langos might get acquainted with members of her husband's family whom she had been previously unable to meet.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Malcolm, 311 E. Rockwell, entertained in their home over the weekend on the occasion of the 90th birthday, July 31, of Mrs. Malcolm's mother, Mrs. Ida Field, who is spending the summer with them.

Arriving on Friday to take part in the celebration were Mrs. Field's niece and her husband, the Charles Alcorns, of Houston, Tex.; a sister, Mrs. L. C. Burchfield, Mrs. L. Ware, a niece, Mr. and Mrs. Ross T. Warner, a sister and brother-in-law and nieces and their husbands, the Jack Harlows and Bill Caverts, all of Tulsa, Okla. Other guests were nieces and nephews, the Fred Deardorffs, Miss Ruth Deardorff and the Pete Friars, all of Oklahoma City. From Hudson, Ohio, came the family of another niece, the Sherman Thomases and Mrs. Field's daughter and son-in-law, the Melbourne Phipps. A daughter from Washington, D. C., Mrs. Ogden Coffin; a nephew, Frank Parker of Joliet, a grandson and family, the Bill Malcolms of Mount Prospect, and close friends, the Ed Hills of Chicago.

A FAMILY brunch was held Sunday at the Arlington Carousel, at which Mrs. Field was the guest of honor. Following a dinner Sunday evening in the Malcolm home, sides in Mrs. Field were shown, beginning when she was just two years old and continuing to the present. The evening was climaxed when Mrs. Field's great-grandson, 5-year-old Scott Malcolm read for the assembled family the valedictory speech which Mrs. Field had presented when she was graduated from high school at 15 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bredehoft, 201 Wilshire, recently spent a long weekend in Stoney Lake, Canada, where they visited the John Bankes. Stoney Lake, which is north of Toronto, is located on a chain of lakes where many of the inhabitants, like the Bankes, live on their own islands. Mrs. Bredehoft reported that one of the highlights of their trip occurred on Sunday, when they attended services at St. Peter of the Rock Church, which is on another island. It was necessary to leave in plenty of time not to find a parking place, but in order to be certain to get a place at the dock for mooring purposes.

THE F. W. Hamiltons and daughters, Sue and Sandra, 127 S. Brighton, returned Saturday from a three-week vacation in Mercer, Wis., where they enjoyed fishing, swimming and sunshine. They reported an especially interesting day at Apostle Island, in Lake Superior, where they visited a fur trading post and several museums.

They spent two days at the New York World's Fair, and report that it is most impressive at night. Traveling into Canada, they spent several days on Prince Edward Island and later lunched in Nova Scotia. The highlight of their vacation began on the Gaspe Peninsula where they boarded a ship for a trip down the St. Lawrence Seaway. They stopped at Quebec, Montreal and Ottawa, and came on to Chicago by way of the locks at Sault Ste. Marie, ending a highly enjoyable trip.

MR. AND MRS. Henry R. Parts of Kennicott, Walnut Labeled 'Collector' Streets

The Arlington Heights Plan Commission has followed almost entirely the first report of its special sub-committee investigating the proposed village master traffic plan by approving the designation "collector streets" for segments of Kennicott and Walnut.

After a lengthy discussion last Wednesday, the commission agreed that Kennicott, from Thomas to Oakton and Walnut from Oakton to Northwest Highway, should carry the designation of "collector" streets and be paved 36 feet wide. They also approved Walnut, from Oakton to Thomas as "local" new construction, 32 feet wide. However members were deadlocked on whether Kennicott from Oakton to the Northwest Highway should be a collector width or the narrower 28 foot local type its residents prefer.

THE ACTION by the majority of the six attending members, hastily gathered by president Harold Carlson to compose a voting quorum, overruled the original recommendations of Tec Search Inc., Evanston firm hired to re-survey the village's traffic needs.

Last month Rolf Cambell of Tec Search had told the commission that both Walnut and Kennicott should be "collector" streets.

In presenting the sub-committee's recommendation against naming all of Kennicott as a collector street, Fred Ainslie, chairman of the special group, told commission members the committee felt traffic should be diverted away from Northwest Highway. He said a traffic light would be needed there if Kennicott was a collector and he doubted whether the state would allow another light.

Ainslie added that Walnut from Oakton to Northwest Highway, was more suitable as a collector because a traffic light will have to be installed there anyway due to the proposed hook-up of Ridge and Walnut.

"OUR FEELING is that the traffic would flow down Kennicott from Thomas to Oakton, so that segment should be a collector. At that point it will tend to turn along Oakton and then down Walnut to the Northwest. Therefore the lower segment of Walnut from Oakton also should have collector status."

Clyde Ferry, a commission member, argued that all of Kennicott should naturally be the same width. "The shortest distance between two points is a straight line. What we need is a second north-south throughway to relieve the load on State Road."

Chairman Carlson pointed out that the designation "collector" was not an attempt to turn a street into a major traffic highway. "These streets are set up to serve internally, collecting the local traffic and then quickly and easily dispersing it. There should be no intention of providing a flow from one community to another."

Don Peto, representing Tec Search, said he had driven along Kennicott to Northwest Highway and it was his opinion that it could easily serve as a collector. "Basic problem is the Lutheran Home for the Aged. We'd like to go right through."

"I KNOW THE area," added Charles Catlin. "The segment between Oakton and Thomas is not paved, so there would be no problem here. I am sorry to say this but I feel we must widen the Oakton-to-Northwest segment so we can maintain the natural north to south flow. I see no logical reason why one street should be 36 feet wide in one part and then 28 feet in another."

Chairman Carlson stated he approved of the idea of wider streets, from a safety aspect. "We can have wider streets that are not necessarily race tracks. It seems to me that the automobile is here to stay. If we are to spend money let's make sure that what we do is not outmoded in two or three years. I doubt whether the 36 foot width would really destroy the area."

BECAUSE OF the absence of seven commission members, three of whom had served the special sub-committee, Carlson suggested that discussion of this particular segment, Kennicott from Oakton to the highway, be postponed until a full commission was present.

In discussion centering on Walnut, the commission 5-1 approved the segment Oakton to the Northwest Highway as a collector and followed the sub-committee recommendation 4-2 that the Oakton to Thomas section be labled as local new construction with a 32-foot width.

"This is where I disagree," dissented William Hannum. "I think the logical place to put in 36-foot wide streets is in new areas where patterns have not been established. This part of Walnut is ideal for that reason."

DON PETO answered that the natural traffic pattern in the area flows southeast. "Walnut, from Thomas to Oakton will really not collect much traffic. We feel that most will tend to go down the Kennicott segment before they reach Walnut."

At the close of the meeting Ainslie reported that his committee will meet shortly to review other areas in the proposed plan.

After full consideration by the plan commission, the total plan will be presented at a public hearing slated for Wednesday, Sept. 22.

cial assessment procedure was still pending in court.

The work was cleared quickly through the court after BOLI Atty. Kenneth Stonesifer arranged out-of-court settlements with all property owners who had objected to their assessments.

The State Highway Department letter noted that bid invitations cannot be advertised until after it had approved plans. And raising several questions on the engineering plans as submitted, it said state engineers are likely to take longer than usual in completing their approval.

Money for Jr. College Due Monday

The initial $100,000 state grant for Community College District 301 has been received from Springfield by Noble J. Puffer, Cook County superintendent of schools.

The money will be sent to E. C. McAuliff, college treasurer, and should be ready for deposit in the college account by Monday, Puffer said.

Since the first tax funds for the new college district will not be received until next spring, the initial grant provides operating funds for the first year.

The money will be used during the organizational period for rental and operation of office space, payment of consultants used for selection of a college president, the salary of the college president and any additional personnel, payment for other consultants and initial printing, legal and equipment bills. Busy Baby Boom

On June 1, 1900, the population of the United States was 76,212,168 and on June 1, 1965, it was an estimated 194,437,000—a 155 per cent increase in 65 years.

Northwest Community Room Rates Going Up

Daily room rates at Northwest Community Hospital, Arlington Heights, will be raised in October.

Approval of the new room charges has been given by the hospital executive board and by Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

The raise will be the first since the hospital opened in December, 1959.

While the in-patient income per day rose to an average of $46.78 this year from $45.58 last year, the daily per patient cost went up from $49.95 to $53.96. This is a rise in income of $1.20 or 2.6 per cent compared to a rise in cost of $4.01 or eight per cent.

The difference in per patient cost and expense is met through other hospital charges, primarily through out-patient income.

THERE WILL BE no change in private room rates, which will remain at $32 per day. The cost of a two-bed room will go from $24 to $26. Pediatrics bed costs will be increased from $18 to $20 and nursery charges will rise from $8 to $10. Charges for beds in the intensive care section will go up from $40 to $45.

Leonard Genung, assistant administrator, stressed these new rates would be no higher and in some cases lower than other area hospitals in suburban Cook County.

Genung noted that financial contributions to the hospital were used for expansion programs only and not for operating expenses. This was necessary because of the rapid population growth of the area, he said, putting greater pressure on the hospital for needed additional beds.

EVEN HIGHER operating costs are expected by the hospital starting in September. Nursing personnel salaries will be increased by more than four per cent. This will mean raises for registered nurses, practical nurses, orderlies and nurses aides ranging from about five cents to 15 cents per hour.

Present beginning salary for nurses aides is $1.30 per hour.

In addition, for the first time a differential will be paid for afternoon and night shift work.

MONEY OF THE Northwest Community Hospital building fund in the amount of $2,000 was presented to Nicholas M. Lattof (center), chairman of the hospital financial development committee, by representatives of Jewel Tea Co. last week. The money is the second part of a total $5,000 pledge. With Lattof are Paul Raff (left), meat department manager of the Arlington Market Jewel store, and Ron Jezowit, grocery department manager of the central Arlington Heights Jewel-Osco store. A spokesman for the company stressed that "only through sharing can Jewel rightfully take a place of responsibility as a corporate citizen of the community." (Staff Photo) (B-10

They gave me the needle for the last time this morning and I'm happy about it. The needle was actually my last vaccination needed before I embark on August 22 for a trip around the world. They gave me one shot for smallpox, two for Cholera and three for typhoid and para-typhoid.

Add to this, I have to be in possession of a valid passport, plus seven visas — from India, Hong Kong, Lebanon, Japan, Taiwan, Philippines, United Arab Republic and Jordon.

My route, by air all the way, also includes Spain and Italy on the way to the convention of the American Society of Travel Agents in Hong Kong, plus a stop on Honolulu on the return. I'll be checking on the hotel reservations already made for my next escorted tour to Hawaii leaving in March of 1966 for two weeks.

Yes, preparing for a trip around the world is a bit more trying than a trip to Wisconsin, but I'm looking forward to it.

Study Proposal On College Land Swap

The proposal of Community College District 301 to swap 180 acres of property adjacent to Busse Woods and Alexian Brothers Hospital for 150 acres of forest preserve property is "under study."

The site desired by the college district lies at the southeast corner of Golf Road and Route 53.

Arthur Janura, general superintendent of the Cook County Forest Preserve District, said the proposal had been submitted to his office for study and recommendation by Seymour Simon, president of the county board and forest preserve district. The college had addressed their proposal to Simon.

The proposal, submitted last Wednesday, involved land with which Janura was familiar, according to his comments this week.

HE SAID THE district had no recommendations to date and could give no approximate time for completion of the district's study.

Janura noted that the forest preserve district had never traded or sold property in the past. He mentioned the proposall by the University of Illinois several years ago to acquire Miller Meadow near Hines Veterans Hospital for a Chicago area campus which had been turned down. The university later acquired the now operating Chicago Circle Campus site instead.

Janura stressed that this did not mean a decision had been made to turn down the proposal of District 301. This would be decided by the forest preserve commissioners, he explained.

There was a district general policy of keeping land which had been acquired, whether developed for public use or not. By merely keeping large open tracts the district was performing one of its objectives, he explained. This was the preserving in natural state areas of the county which might otherwise be lost to various types of development.

EIGHT DIRECTORS
– with over 200 years invested here!

They are all local people, the eight men who direct the policies and shape the management of this Association.

These Federal Savings directors live in the northwest suburbs. Together they have invested over 200 years of their own lives here. Two of them are third-generation members of Arlington Heights families. Even the "newcomer" of this group will soon boast 20 years in this area.

What does this mean to a financial institution? It means stable management loyally committed to the long view of what is best for the community, not the short, come-and-go glimpse for quick profit.

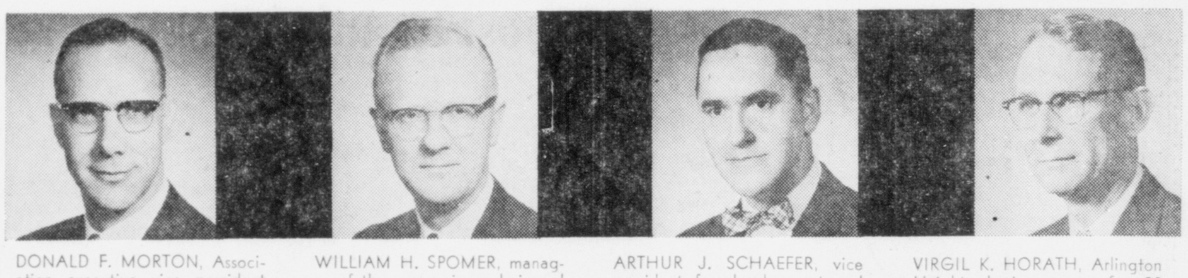
These men have been here for a long time. They plan to remain here for years to come — as proud and respected citizens.

IRVING T. RINKER, chairman of the Arlington Heights Federal Savings board and president of Glennon & Kern, Inc., Chicago, has resided in Arlington Heights since 1935.

PAUL E. COLLINS, board vice chairman and Association president, lives in Palatine after residing in Arlington Heights since 1937. He is past president of A.H. Chamber of Commerce.

ALVIN A. POPP owned the Arlington Heights Roller Mill serving the area for a half-century and resided in Arlington Heights since 1934. He now manages his Crystal Lake farm.

CARL G. KLEHM is owner of Charles Klehm & Son, nursery and peony farms founded by his father in Arlington Heights in 1902. Mr. Klehm is a native of Arlington Heights.



DONALD F. MORTON, Association executive vice president and past president of the A.H. Chamber of Commerce, has resided in the northwest suburbs since 1945, lives in Mt. Prospect.

WILLIAM H. SPOMER, manager of the economic analysis and planning department of the Pure Oil Company, has lived in Arlington Heights for 25 years and has served in civic capacities.

ARTHUR J. SCHAEFER, vice president for development and public relations at DePaul University, has resided for almost 20 years in Des Plaines and Park Ridge.

VIRGIL K. HORATH, Arlington Heights business man for 30 years, past president of the Lions Club and past senior commander of the American Legion, has resided here since 1929.

Report from Washington

Home Rule for D.C. Gains Support; Success Certain

by BRUCE LADD
Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Northwest suburban residents have expressed some concern over the proposal to establish a representative local government in the District of Columbia.

The question of home rule for Washington, D.C., should be of interest to all citizens.

Washington, federally-operated since the United States' government was organized, contains the Capitol Building, the Senate and House, the Supreme Court, the Library of Congress, and scores of other historic and government facilities.

Since its inception, the District of Columbia has been sort of a "no man's land." For the first time in history, last year the District's 800,000 residents were permitted to vote in a Presidential election.

BUT WASHINGTON taxpayers have never been permitted to elect their own city council, their own school board, or other local officials. These offices are filled through appointment by the federal government.

In a very real sense, Washington residents live under a system of taxation without representation.

Now, for the sixth time in the last 12 years, the Senate has passed a bill (S 1118) providing for home rule. The bill has been sent to the House, where it has died five times.

The Senate bill provides for local election of a mayor, a District council, a non-partisan board of education, and a non-voting delegate to the House.

It also authorizes automatic annual appropriations of federal funds to the District on the basis of a flexible formula reflecting the value of federal property in the District, and establishes a similar formula for determining the limit on District borrowing.

THE BILL MAKES its provisions contingent on approval by Washington voters in a special referendum.

Home rule strategists on the House District of Columbia Committee have voiced confidence that they have the necessary votes to squeeze out a bill.

In the past, home rule has been stymied by members of the District Committee. A majority of southern Democrats and conservative Republicans has refused to report the bills on home rule from the committee to the House floor.

Home rule advocates are confident they will have the necessary 13 votes to get the bill out of committee — eight Democrats and five Republicans.

Seven Democrats and five Republicans on the committee have said publicly that they are for home rule. Another Democrat on the committee who had not previously made known his views — Rep. James W. Trimble of Arkansas — this week said he is willing to vote for "a good home rule bill."

The bipartisan group needs to take a united stand in a full committee meeting against their chairman, Rep. John L. McMillan (D-S.C.), who in the past has blocked all home rule efforts.

VARIOUS EXCUSES have been given for failing to report past home rule bills, but it is believed the underlying reason is that a majority of Washington's population is Negro.

The recent demise of both southern Democrats and Republicans on the District Committee makes chances for House passage of a bill brighter than ever before.

The citizens of Washington are becoming more and more aware of their inability to elect their own officials. Various groups have been formed to actively promote the home rule cause and considerable pressure is being put upon all members of Congress.

If a home rule bill does not pass this session of Congress, it will surely pass the next.

Legal Committee Reviews Park Plan

The much-studied plan for a park site on MacDonald Creek is under review again, this time by the Arlington Heights Village Board legal committee.

Involved is a proposal by Meister-Neiberg Builders to donate land along the creek for park purposes. The plan commission has reviewed the proposal intensively, and while it has not made a recommendation to trustees, its members obviously find the suggestion interesting.

THE PARK district board also has given greater-than-usual attention to the proposal and is expected to approve it along with the changes the board has suggested.

A hitch developed, however, at a plan commission meeting July 14. Plan board members noted lots in the parent Meister-Neiberg development, a unit of Ivy Hill, averaged 9,700 square feet. When the area was annexed, the village board had set a lower limit of 10,000 square feet average.

The plan commission told builders only the village board could reduce that, and its approval of the smaller lots would be necessary before planners would consider the entire project. Jerry Neiberg thought he had a relatively simple question to put to trustees, but Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson interjected questions about the creek — maintenance, flow, etc.

NEIBERG ASKED the reduction to 9,700 square feet because of the unusual costs he said were involved in donating the creekside park, compared with a standard land donation required by the village.

Pres. pro tem John F. White, indicating the question of the creek was "intrinsic" to the question of lot size reduction, suggested a legal committee review.

Replacing tubes in your TV set is not like replacing light bulbs in a lamp. Maybe you can do it a time or two with some sort of efficiency, but are you sure that some remote misadjustment is not causing tubes to wear out ahead of time?

When you consider your time and viewing pleasure and the chance you are taking to check the whole set, you're better off to call a reliable TV servicer with proper servicing equipment. LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Arlington Greens

Mr. and Mrs. George Lett of N. Belmont, chairmen for couples bridge sponsored by the Arlington Greens Community Assoc., will prepare schedules for the coming season late in August. Those wishing to participate should call 253-5195 before Aug. 20.

Monday of last week ended a 17-day vacation trip west for the Al Radcliffe family of N. Hickory. Their mobile home covered seven states, stopping to see the sights at Grand Teton National Park, Yellowstone and the Black Hills.

Also ending their vacation the weekend before last were the Ben Zaborowski family of N. Hickory. A resort at Lake Lawn, Delavan, Wis., was their choice for a week of swimming, horseback riding, fishing and relaxing. Bernadette, youngest member of the family, celebrated her seventh birthday Tuesday. Nine neighborhood friends were guests at her afternoon party in pink.

Houseguest in the Richard Persicke home on N. Hickory beginning last Tuesday was an aunt, Mrs. Walter Girsson of Phoenix.

DETROIT LAKES, Minn. was the vacation choice for the Tony Tomasos and son, Bob, of E. Clarendon. Their two weeks of fishing, swimming and relaxing at Bambi Resort began mid-July, after a day's stop in Minneapolis to visit friends. The Robert Letzel family of N. Chestnut were their "neighbors" for the holiday.

Former Beverly Lane neighbors, Ed and Pauline Podwojski of Santa Barbara, Calif. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Roby on Saturday. The family, on a vacation visit to the Midwest, plans to return home this week.

More vacation returnees last weekend were the Don Heffernans of N. Beverly Lane. Their first week was devoted to summer cottaging in Wisconsin's Tomahawk area, at Duck Point. For most of last week, Mr. and Mrs. Hefferman motored to Mackinac to attend an electrical contractors' convention.

Also enjoying the fishing, swimming, golf and water skiing at the same resort were the John Langhenrys of E. Olive for the first week of their holiday. A visit with grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Wolfarth in Hustiford, Wis., and more boating, swimming and water skiing ended their summer respite Friday.

Lake Julia in the Rhinelander area was the Wisconsin vacation choice for the Charles Fisher family of N. Douglas. A motor trip home Saturday ended their two weeks of fishing, swimming and relaxing.

MRS. ELEANORE West of Levittown, Pa., was houseguest in the Dick Averill home on N. Hickory from Thursday through Saturday of last week. On Friday, Mrs. Averill and her guest attended a reunion of classmates from North Park Academy in the Wilmette home of Mrs. Mary Christiansen. Twenty ladies from Chicago and the suburbs gathered to fill in the 10-year lapse.

A motor trip home on Saturday ended a month's vacation for the Mark Jenkins family of N. Haddow Court. Florida was their destination and a visit with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Burge and the Charles Poiles, a sister at Clearwater. Part of their sightseeing included St. Petersburg, where they toured the wax museum of historic figures. Another highlight of their holiday was boarding the "Bounty" of "Mutiny on the" fame, another of the tourist attractions.

Twelve-year-old Billie Keller celebrated her birthday Saturday. Guests at her evening party were grandparents, the Max Kellers of Chicago and the Robert Gentiles of Arlington, aunt and uncle, the Arthur Goebelts of Lincolnwood, George Maier family of Chicago, Miss Jean Jamieson and school chum, Monica Torretto, both of Arlington.

HICKORY MEADOWS

Couples interested in Hickory Meadows Round Robin Bridge which will begin sometime in September are invited to call Mrs. Marilyn Rogers, 259-5026, or Mrs. Lee Culver, CL 5-1560, before Aug. 22.

A vacation trip to Cleveland early in July for the Albert Scheuermans, was almost over when Mrs. Scheuerman Jr. entered a Cleveland hospital for emergency surgery. Her husband and daughters, Sandy and Kathy, drove back and she returned by plane a week later. The family moved to the Meadows from Ohio last fall.

Their return home last Wednesday ended a two-week vacation trip east for the John Rogers family of E. Marion. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Herman, a sister and family in Philadelphia. Both families and grandmother, Mrs. Frank Rogers who flew east from her Milwaukee home, toured the World's Fair, New York City and Washington, D. C., during their stay. (A

Dan Grey Wins Bike Marathon

Colorful bikes and bike riders were in abundance and a full series of competitive events was held at last Thursday's bike rodeo in Recreation Park, Arlington Heights.

Among the highlights was a two and one quarter mile marathon race won by Dan Grey (in six minutes, 33 seconds). Also held was a "marksmanship in motion" contest where wooden disks were dropped into coffee cans as the bike riders raced by the cans. The winner of this contest was Bernard Scheaffer in 18.3 seconds. (A

Eastwood Events

George and Lor Brinke are home at 307 Lincoln Lane, after a week's vacation at the Lodge of the Four Seasons, Lake of the Ozarks, Mo.

After two weeks of vacationing in Colorado Springs and Las Vegas, their son, George, arrived home in time to wish his father a happy July 27 birthday.

The Brinkes are now happy to have their 17-month-old granddaughter, Stacey, and their daughter, Jo Anne Randle, with them. The Randles drove in from Indianapolis and are spending a week in Eastweed while Mr. Randle does some business traveling.

Don and Marietta Derebey, 416 N. Hickory, served lunch to unexpected visitors Saturday, when Don's former Purdue University friends, Mr. and Mrs. Jo Youch came from Davenport.

That evening the Derebeys experienced an unusual supper date with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Moen of Evanston who own a cabin cruiser which they moor opposite Buckingham Fountain. After a late supper on the boat, viewing the color display of the fountain, they again cruised the lake and viewed the lighted Chicago skyline. The Derebeys returned home for a few hours sleep before entertaining on Sunday.

SUNDAY'S guests were Marietta's sister, Shirley Bruns who teaches first grade in Park Ridge, and their mother, Mrs. Bruns of Chicago. They all enjoyed making ice cream the old fashioned way after lunch.

Congratulations go to Lloyd Meyer, 307 N. Hickory, for coaching a team of champions. He coaches the Arlington Heights Junior American Legion baseball team. His team won Cook County's tournament Saturday so they are now in Carmi, playing against four other teams in the state tournament.

Wife Pat has been busy, also. Early this week she found herself acting as a travel agent as well as carrying on the usual work that belongs to a mother of four daughters. Pat had the responsibility of making hotel reservations for the team members and their families.

Joseph and Vi Corcoron, 507 E. Hickory, helped good friends, Charles and Marie Footh of Chicago, celebrate their wedding anniversary Saturday night by dining at the Martinique Restaurant. Dancing with the music of Jan Cook's band further enhanced the evening.

Recent houseguests at the John Klussmann home, 901 E. Euclid, were Joan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Prill who drove here from Brooklyn, N. Y., for a two and a half week visit.

Joan greeted them sporting an arm cast which she must wear for the greater part of the summer after falling from a horse. The visit allowed the Prills to better know their granddaughters, Kelly Jean.

DON AND Georgia Buxton and their sons, Jeffrey, Michael and Christopher, are home at 502 N. Hickory after a two-week vacation in the east. They stayed in Waterville, Me., at the home of Georgia's sister and her family, the David H. Lovejoys. A visit at the Lighthouse on Pemaquid Point proved very interesting. Later the Buxtons ate freshly caught lobster near the wharf at Pemaquid. There the boys were able to go on the wharf and watch a lobster boat unload.

A day spent on Mt. Desert at Arcadia National Park allowed the family a close look at some of nature's beauty. As Georgia was born in Cambridge, the Buxtons naturally visited that city and Boston for two days. They visited Old Ironsides and Bunker Hill and several art galeries. Their favorite souvenir is a seascape purchased from the artist, John Harris in Ellsworth Falls, Me.

A recent balmy Saturday evening found Gay and Joyce Jones, 703 E. Euclid, entertaining friends with a barbeque supper. Guests were Don and Marietta Derebey, Lloyd and Pat Meyer, Bob and Jo Dell Jochims, and Chuck and Katy Cassidy, all of Eastwood.

Michael Bartolone celebrated his eighth birthday twice this week. On Sunday, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Waldmueller, and aunt, uncle and cousins, the Ronald Keller family, all of Chicago, were evening guests. They were treated to a barbeque supper at 408 N. Hickory.

On Monday, it was playmate party time. Michael's brothers and sisters, Steven, Billy, Susan and Julie, were happy to welcome Leigh Thorton, Mike Buxton, Dan and Ted Ziarkowski and Garth Petzold. The celebrants ate lunch and afterwards enjoyed swimming in the back yard pool. (A

Mount Prospect Nurse

News Stories Start Writing Career

MRS. VICKI SOLTZ of 607 N. Elmhurst, Mount Prospect, got started on a career in writing after doing a series of news releases for Paddock Publications nine years ago.

News releases written for Paddock Publications nine years ago led to a writing career for a Mount Prospect nurse.

Mrs. Vicki Soltz of 607 N. Elmhurst wrote the stories to promote the development of community child guidance centers in the northwest suburban area. She worked at the centers in Chicago, starting out as a volunteer in a playroom in 1951.

Her articles were brought to the attention of the man who organized the guidance centers, Dr. Rudolf Dreikurs, and he asked: "For goodness sake, why don't you write a book?"

THE CHILD guidance centers "didn't really go over — Family Service was pushing theirs at the same time," but Mrs. Soltz followed Dr. Dreikurs' suggestion and started working with him.

They began work on "Children: The Challenge" in 1958, and the book is now going into its fourth printing.

In addition, she has worked on papers with Dr. Dreikurs, a psychology professor at the Chicago Medical School and director of the Alfred Adler Institute of Chicago, set up parent study groups, and is now working on another book, this one about teen-agers.

Dr. Dreikurs studied with Adler in Vienna before coming to Chicago in 1939 and as a proponent of the Adlerian approach represents psychological methods which vary in many respects from those commonly associated with Freud.

IN RELATION TO children, for example, "there's an awareness children have gotten out of hand. The recognized autocratic approach no longer works," Mrs. Soltz said.

Their book was written in popular terminology to express these theories because of "the need for something less scholastic." It outlines an approach to child guidance which emphasizes democratic techniques, rather than autocratic, within the family.

Sold on the popular market, it also has been used as a text. Mrs. Soltz used it, for example, in the two parent study groups she started last fall, at Norwood Presbyterian and River Grove churches. Most active child guidance centers now are on the North Shore.

Groups of this sort also have been formed in Canada, England, Germany, Greece and India, Mrs. Soltz reported. They all have something in common: "They're formed by parents harassed by children, parents who don't know what to do."

MAIN PROJECT currently for Mrs. Soltz is the book on teen problems, for teen-agers. She spend last summer "sleuthing" on the South Side of Chicago.

Although she is trained as a nurse, Mrs. Soltz also had some background for her career writing on psychology.

She had a basic interest in the field, since her father was a professor of psychology. She also has studied at the Adler Institute, and has two years toward a degree in sociology at Roosevelt University.

AND, SHE HAD worked as an unpaid editor for a journal of individual psychology from 1949 to 1951.

Now, she said with a smile, "I do an awful lot of writing for the wastebasket," working up drafts to her own satisfaction. She writes "when I can get to it," in the "office-study-sewing room" at her home.

Lay Readers Sought For District 214

High School District 214 is seeking qualified residents to serve as lay readers for English teachers at Arlington, Prospect, Forest View, and Wheeling High Schools.

The readers would work directly with English teachers on a part-time basis at home. Wages are $2 per hour.

Director of Personnel Nelson Lowry estimates that the district will have to hire about 15 readers for the coming school year.

Applications may be obtained at the Central Administrative Biulding, 799 W. Kensington Rd., Mount Prospect.

According to Lowry, applicants should have a college degree with a major or minor in English. Teaching experience in English is considered an asset but is not a requirement.

Applicants will be given a performance test at the Arlington High School library Aug. 24 at 1:30 p.m. Deadline for applications is Aug. 20.

Interscholastic Swimming Will End After Next Year

Swimming as an interscholastic sport will be ended by High School District 214 at the end of the 1965-66 season.

This was the decision of the school board in March 1964, and no reversal of this decision appears immediate.

Approval of the recent swimming pool referendum for construction of indoor pools at all District 214 high schools would have changed the picture. The referendum was defeated by a 2 to 1 margin on July 17.

BASIS FOR discontinuing athletic swimming competition would be the lack of a practice pool for the new Elk Grove High School to be opened in September 1966. Policy of District 214 calls for equal athletic programs at all district high schools.

In addition with the forming of the new Mid-Suburban League in 1966-67, the only school with a swimming pool in the league would be Maine West High School. None of the schools in District 214 or Palatine - Schaumburg District 211 have swimming pools.

Currently, Arlington and Wheeling High School swimming teams practice at the pool in St. Viator High School, Arlington Heights. Prospect and Forest View High Schools practice at the Northwest Suburban YMCA swimming pool. All practice sessions are held early in the morning before school opens, after school or in the evening.

IN THE FIRST year of swimming competition, Forest View High School used the swimming pool at the Flick-Reedy plant, Bensenville. Because this pool was designed for family-type swimming it proved too shallow for athletic practice, according to Howard J. Lester, District 214 director of athletics.

If the Mount Prospect Park District swimming pool adjacent to Dempster Junior High School were enclosed for indoor swimming at an early date this might provide a practice and competition site for either Forest View or Elk Grove High School teams, Lester noted.

ONE POSSIBILITY for swimming facilities at Elk Grove is a new proposal for village construction of an indoor pool on the high school site. Under the proposal the village would agree to lease a swimming pool building from an outside firm. The firm would actually construct the pool to village (and school) specifications. The village, in turn, could lease the pool to the high school district, with title going to the high school probably after a 20-year period.

Experts on the leasing program, along with two Elk Grove Village trustees, will appear at the District 214 regular board meeting Monday at 8 p.m. The meeting is descirbed as "informational only."

Initial estimates on the leasing cost to District 214 was about $25,000 a year.

A bill approved by the state legislature in its recent session gave villages the right to enter into such leasing projects.

Construction of a leased indoor pool at Elk Grove High School would permit continuation of the present athletic swimming competition for the whole district.

Lester stressed that as long as the teams had to use swimming pools away from the schools for limited-time practice sessions, the District 214 schools could not have "any future for athletic swimming competition."

IF THE LEASING proposal for the Elk Grove school proved feasible, school officials have suggested a swimming pool be included in planning the proposed Willow Road (Prospect Heights) High School. Approval of construction of this school will probably go before voters next February. If the referendum passes, plans call for opening the school in September 1968.

Cool Scene in Suburbia—The Ice Cream Man

Old Favorite Now A Modern Business

by KATHY GOSNELL
Staff Writer

Picture a warm summer day in a quiet suburban residential area.

Whether your thoughts are of today or 10 or 20 years ago, the picture is not complete without the ice cream man.

The ice cream truck with its ringing bells, blinking lights and friendly driver has become an American institution.

And like all institutions, the ice cream man business is facing modern-day problems with modern-day solutions — including a few state laws.

BUT THE friendliness remains. So, in some cases, does the nickel ice cream bar.

Carl Prell, Good Humor route sales supervisor for the Chicago office, says the biggest factor in his business — aside from selling ice cream — is the safety of the children.

His trucks carry four blinking lights to warn car drivers that children are present. Drivers should slow down or even stop when the ice cream man is serving his young customers. A state law now requires the lights.

"SOMETIMES they just don't realize," Prell said. "A kid could dart out from in front of the truck and not be seen."

The concern for safety has led most truck drivers to direct children across streets. Prell says he won't give a child his ice cream until the street is clear of traffic so the child may cross safely.

Good Humor has also initiated the "green ring of safety." Ice cream men check the front and back of their trucks to make sure children and bikes are cleared from the area before resuming their drive.

THE DAY OF an ice cream man usually starts at 9 a.m. He arrives at the distributing agency to receive a clean uniform and a day's supply of ice cream and sherbet bars, cones, sandwiches and small bulk packages.

By noon the business of selling his wares begins. Anywhere from 10,000 to 12,000 youngsters are served from one truck in a day. "That's not counting grown-ups," Prell said.

"Warm weather helps our sales." he said, "but if it's too hot sales are hindered. People would rather stay inside."

USE OF THE bell on the truck adds a Pavlov touch to selling ice cream.

"It's a drawing card," Prell said. "People react when they hear it and come out to buy ice cream."

Two- and three-year-olds are especially attracted to the bell, but in another way — they want to ring it.

"And nine times out of 10 we let them," Prell said.

A day of work for the ice cream man ends late. He returns to the central office close to 10 p.m. Then he must order the next day's supplies.

AFTER A LONG day selling ice cream to thousands of kids, does the salesman have an appetite for his own wares?

Yes! "I eat ice cream frequently. I like it," Prell says.

To qualify as an ice cream truck driver, a man must do more than drive a truck. A job interview is followed by a complete battery of tests including an eye test, a complete physical and a complete driver's test.

The new driver spends a day on the route with a route superintendent to learn the ropes. Then he's on his own.

ONE SUCH new man, Clyde Green, spent his first day in Arlington Heights Friday. Asked why he wants to work as an ice cream man, he gave a simple answer.

"I like kids," he said.

And that is probably the top qualification needed for the job.

"Children are the basis of our business," Prell said. "They might get out of hand once in a while, but you have to tolerate it.

"You have to appreciate that they're still youngsters." (A15

Lessons in English

Disputatious; inclined to dispute; argumentative; quarrelsome. (Accent third syllable). "She is one of the most cantankerous and disputatious women I have ever known."

Denunciation; the act of accusing in a threatening manner. "He made a bitter denunciation of his opponents."

Prosaic; dull; commonplace; uninteresting. "What inspiration can he expect to encounter in such a prosaic life?"

Student Interns Work At Rumsfeld's Office

There's a little bit of Illinois in Washington, D. C., this summer, and the 13th Congressional District seems to be particularly well represented.

Following a precedent set during his first year in Congress, Donald Rumsfeld (R-13) has selected well qualified and interested college students for six-week periods of employment in his congressional office.

This year Rumsfeld hired three North Shore students on a college intern basis, and is also "fortunate to have found a most willing and capable volunteer worker," Peter Baugher, a student at New Trier High School who is taking courses in modern government and world politics at American University's summer semester.

RUMSFELD'S FIRST intern this summer was Michael Scott of Skokie, who served his six-week stint in June and half of July. Mike is entering his senior year at Georgetown University in Washington, D. C., majoring in political science.

Tom Unterman of Evanston, joined the staff in early July and will stay into August. This fall Tom will be a senor at Princeton University, where he is stydying in the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs.

The two young men will be followed in August by Carole McMahon of Kenilworth. Miss McMahon is entering her senior year at Stanford University, majoring in international relations and political science.

THE INTERNS are assigned desks in Rumsfeld's staff office and share in routine office work. They are also assigned special projects by the congressman, generally dealing with pending legislation or his committee work. In addition to their office duties, the interns are invited to a series of seminars and speeches arranged specifically for all the interns working on Capitol Hill. They are also encouraged to attend committee hearings and debates in both the House and Senate.

In discussing the program Rumsfeld stated: "I thought it was a good idea when I first came to Congress, and we found the program to be so successful in our first year's effort that we have continued it — refining it a little each time.

"I am particularly pleased, however, that the House this year took action to institute a formal, approved congressional intern program with some type of organization and guidelines, so that these young men and women can get the most out of an experience of this type. Basically, while it provides members of Congress with some very able assistance during the summer months, its primary purpose is to expose these young people to the operations of the government and particularly the legislative branch."

RUMSFELD POINTED out that in addition to the four 13th District young people under his direction this summer, there "are at least eight other students from our district employed on various committee and congressional staffs in the Capitol."

One of Rumsfeld's interns, Tom Unterman, summed it up well: "The summer's experience is a real treat. It is both challenging and stimulating . . . and has given me a real appreciation of how busy the life of a congressman is and how complex the operation of the two houses of Congress has become."

Rumsfeld indicated he is now looking toward the summer of 1966 and urges interested college juniors, seniors and graduate students to contact him at 241 House Office Building, Washington, D. C. 20515, for additional information on the program.

An average of five people each week mistake Paddock Publications offices for the Arlington Heights post office, according to receptionist Mrs. Pamela Magnuson.

Mrs. Magnuson said the problem began about two years ago when Paddock installed American flags in front of the building. She does not recall anyone making a mistake before then.

THE NEWSPAPER offices are located at 217 W. Campbell, a block directly south of the post office building at 201 W. Wing. The similarity of architectural styles and the red brick fronting of both buildings appear to compound the problems.

"Sometimes they come in and ask; other times they come in, look around, and leave; often they just walk up to the door and turn back," she said.

Occasionally they ask for stamps, and not until she rejects the request do they realize their mistake.

If they have letters, Mrs. Magnuson sometimes will offer to place them with the outgoing Paddock mail.

Three women walked into Paddock by mistake Friday. "Is this the post office?" asked the last woman, who then embarrassedly departed.

Arlington Heights Postmaster Mrs. Virginia Dodge laughed when she learned of the problem "It's beyond me why they do it," she said, "we've been so long at our locations that I don't understand it."

Mrs. Dodge did not recall anyone mistaking the post office for Paddock Publications.

Modern Etiquette

Q. I have on occasion noticed some women wearing rings over their gloved fingers. Is this correct?

A. Indeed not.

Q. Is it ever permissible for the parents of a young man, who has just become engaged, to make the announcement?

A. No. Only the parents of the bride-elect are entitled to do this. If she has no parents, then her nearest relative has the privilege.

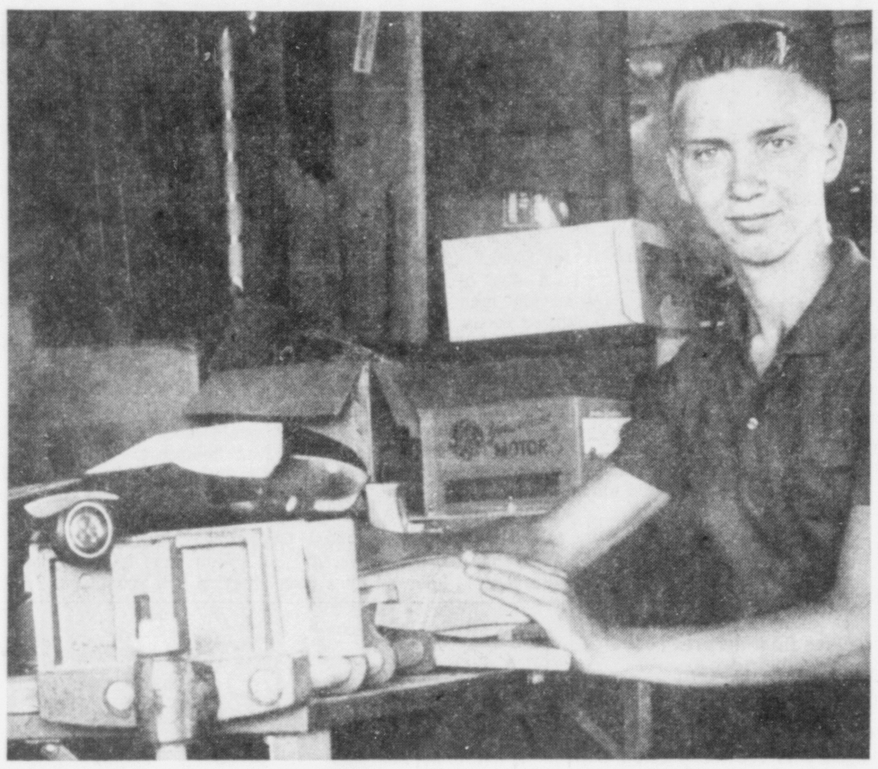
Last-Minute Model Car Entry Wins $25 Prize



LEONARD PERGANDER, 15, of 2607 Hawk Lane, Rolling Meadows, holds his next project for Fisher Body Craftsmen's Guild model car competition. In the foreground on the bench clamp is the model that won Pergander $25 and honorable mention in his first try in the Fisher contest. He estimates his ne wproject will be completed by Christmas. Rolling Meadows Youth 'Surprised'

by FRANK HERMES
Staff Writer

"Boy, was I surprised."

That was Leonard W. Pergander's reaction after learning he had won the $25 regional honorable mention prize in the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car competition.

"I didn't think I had a chance," he said. "I almost didn't make the deadline."

Pergander, 15, of 2607 Hawk Lane, Rolling Meadows, had about a week's work left on his model car when he realized the deadline was the next day. He had returned home from Forest View High School track practice and found a letter from Fisher reminding him of the deadline.

"I SORT OF panicked. First I thought I would wait until next year to send in the model, but then I decided to try to make the deadline."

With the help of his mother's hair dryer, Pergander gave the car one last coat of paint. He put on the wheels, and placed the engine compartments on the rear of the model. He rubbed the entire car with rubbing compound and waxed it. Then he made a crate to ship the car to competition.

"I finished about midnight," he relates. "Dad mailed it the next day, but I didn't think I had a chance."

The entire project took Pergander a year to complete. The only thing Fisher supplies is the wheels, which come without trim or hubcaps.

EACH YEAR young men, ages 11-20, from across the nation design and build originally styled model cars in competition for $117,000 in cash and university scholarships offered annually by Fisher Body Division of General Motors. Since its founding in 1930, the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild has awarded over $2¼ million to winners in the program.

The contest was first introduced to Pergander near the tail end of his eighth grade year. Representatives of Fisher Body spoke at an assembly for the boys and asked any interested participants to take a card and mail it in.

No costs are involved for the youngsters and they receive a monthly newsletter of new trends in model building and showing pictures of past winners.

He did not enter competition for two years, but decided to give it a try after his sophomore year.

HIS MODEL, made of pine wood, was a product of research and concentration.

In order to get a good idea of sports cars, Pergander biked to used car lots looking for ideas. He also read the newsletter to find any ideas there.

After compiling the information, he sketched drawings of what his car should look like.

Then he took the pine wood, cut it to pattern, and chiseled, planed and sanded to size.

"PAINTING the model was the hard part of the project," relates Pergander. "Sometimes the paint would bubble and it would have to be scraped off."

Finally the year-long work was culminated that last night.

Pergander has been encouraged in woodworking by his father, who is a carpenter by hobby. He is also interested in mechanical and machine drawing. In his industrial arts courses at Forest View, he has maintained a straight A average, while competing in three sports.

Will he enter next year? "Yes, I started June 18 on the second model," said Pergander. "Painting and placing of the wheels remain. I've put the first coat of shellac on the model already." (A15

THE NEXT stop was Williamsburg, Va. Before crossing over the Chesapeake Bay Bridge, they caught a glimpse of warships and destroyers going into Norfolk Harbor. Before taking in the New York's World Fair, they boarded a ferry to Liberty Island and the Statue of Liberty.

They moved along thru New Hampshire to Mt. Washington, where they rode the first cog railway to the highest peak in the state. Continuing along the coast of Maine to Calais and into New Brunswick, Canada, they took the ferry across the Bay of Fundy into Nova Scotia, stopping at Halifax, Sydney and Glace Bay, the most northeastern spot in North America.

Next they visited Prince Edward Island, which can be reached only by ferry. After returning to the mainland they started back east thru New Brunswick, again to Quebec Province, crossing the St. Lawrence River to the quaint old city of Quebec with its modern expressways. They passed thru Montreal and Ottawa to Sudbudy, the city of the Big Nickle. The last stop before re-entering the United States was Sault Ste. Marie and the new international bridge.

IN MINNETONKA, a suburb of Minneapolis, they stopped to visit the Robert Palmers, former residents of Arlington Heights, where Linda enjoyed a visit with her grade school friend, Laura.

The Koepkes were just in time to see the annual Minneapolis Aquatennial Torch Parade.

Youth Learns While Working at Hospital

A 1965 Forest View graduate is spending the summer in an unusual job that combines work and continuing education.

William Wright, 2324 Landmeier Road, Elk Grove Village, is employed as a nursing aide at Forest Hospital, a private psychiatric facility in Des Plaines.

He is one of several outstanding students working at the hospital under supervision of Mrs. Mona O. Montonaro, the nursing administrator.

ONLY academically superior students who are in good physical and mental health are considered for employment as nursing aides, Mrs. Montonaro explained.

The hospital consults homeroom teachers and school counselors and interviews the students personally. Then the parents are contacted, and if they disapprove, the student is no longer considered eligible.

"The parents of all the summer employes visited the hospital early in June," Mrs. Montonaro said. "We toured the hospital, described the kinds of duties their children would be performing and stressed the importance of aide workers to psychiatric patients.

"IN EACH CASE the parents were highly enthusiastic about the program and were pleased to have their children part of it."

William, who was graduated from Forest View in June, hopes to study psychology when he enrolls at Valparaiso University this fall.

"He's a friendly kid and likes people," said his mother, Mrs. Thompson R. Wright.

William's father is a veterinarian in Des Plaines. The hospital aide himself is the next oldest of seven children.

IN HIS SUMMER job at Forest Hospital, William is working in the manor house unit as one of four aides to the nurse, Mary Merriweather. He may play games, such as cards, with patients or work with them on jigsaw puzzles. Sometimes he may just talk with a patient who is experiencing worry or anxiety.

His job also may involve helping a patient with his personal needs, such as shaving or bathing.

The aides are required to attend daily morning report meetings with the regular staff in each area. They also attend in-service evening training classes, for which they are paid, where different categories of mental illness and therapeutic approaches are discussed.

ANOTHER LOCAL youth was in the program for a while but had to quit because of transportation difficulties. He was Josseph Donahoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Donahoe Jr., 120 N. Elmwood Ave., Palatine.

Victims 'All Know Better'

Avoid Mower Mishaps

by DON HEINE
Staff Writer

Item: Three grown men decide to trim a hedge. So they take a power mower; one of them grips the handle and two of them the bottom. Result: A total of eight fingers is amputated.

A spokesman at Lutheran General Hospital in Des Plaines cites this as a true story out of a long list of mower accidents at homes.

Few are as grisly. But recent news stories calling a lawn mower a deadly weapon come as no shock to nurses in the emergency rooms at Lutheran General, or Northwest Community Hospital, Arlington Heights.

They get used to jt. Just about every weekend during the warm weather months, there will be two, three, four lawn mower cases.

SAID A NURSE at Northwest: "They all know better. Sometimes they say it was just a matter of being in a hurry or over-tired."

Yet the accidents don't seem to fall in a pattern. Toes and fingers are most susceptible. Amputations are frequent, but so are compound fractures and loss of skin. These may require surgery or skin grafts. You can be blinded in an eye. Even killed.

One man who knows a lot about mower accidents is Hans Grigo, a member of the National Safety Council's home department, Chicago. He's a member of a council committee which is studying the problem.

Grigo agreed that accidents are frequent across the country. But he said the homeowner can protect himself by following basic safety practices.

WHAT IS THE first rule of safety? Read the owner's manual. Then follow instructions. Keep the machine in top condition.

Do you mow the lawn while you wear open-toed or canvas shoes? Don't, says Grigo. Wear good leather shoes. The mower still might slice through the leather, so don't get over-confident. Also, wear slacks rather than going bare legged.

If your 12-year-old son mows the lawn you might admire his ambition. But Grigo thinks you're foolish. He says no boys or girls should run a mower until they are 15 or 16 years old. Younger than that they aren't mature enough physically or mentally.

Worse yet is the owner of a riding mower who gives his children rides on his rounds. Some youngsters have been badly chopped up when the machine hit a bump or rough ground.

GRIGO HAS other tips:

Store gasoline outdoors, if at all possible. Fill the machine with fuel outdoors, always with the motor turned off. Start the motor on level lawn or driveway.

Keep your hands and feet away from the blades. Don't stand in front of the discharge chute. On a self-propelled machine, keep up with it without pushing or dragging.

Never mow when the light is poor or the grass is wet (especially if you have an electric mower). Never leave an unattended mower with the motor running.

Inclines should be cut by moving along the face of the slope rather than up or down. Very steep ground can be handled sometimes by having a person with a tight rope at the top.

THERE'S A MYTH about mower accidents, Grigo said. It's that most of them occur by objects being thrown from the rotary parts against a person. Every survey shows most accidents occur from the body coming in direct contact with the machine.

The Colorado Department of Health surveyed 70 lawn mower accidents, and only three were from missiles. Similar results were shown by a survey in Kalamazoo, Mich.

Emergency room attendants at Northwest Community and Lutheran General Hospitals agree.

Yet a stone, piece of wire or hard object can seriously hurt you. Objects have been tossed as much as 70 feet by a rotary mower.

Grigo cites this with his next advice: If you are mowing the lawn have everyone else out of the yard.

THE NURSE AT Northwest Hospital noted there are fewer power mower accidents this year than there were last. The same trend was observed at Lutheran General. Are suburbanites becoming more careful? But it was pointed out that the grass hasn't grown as much in 1965.

Greater frequency of accidents comes early in the season.

But hospital emergency rooms aren't relaxing yet. Both of the mentioned they expect more snow blower mishaps this winter. That's another story. (A15

31 Apply For President Of New College

Applications have been received from 31 candidates for the post of college president of Community College District 301.

Dr. George Olson, chairman of the three-member presidential selection consulting committee, described some of the candidates as "very well qualified."

Still further candidates are expected to submit their names to the committee in response to inquiries to educational placement bureaus, universities and professional groups.

Olson previously stated it would be possible to have a college president selected by Sept. 1. John A. Haas, president of the District 301 college board, said he hoped the final selection of a college president could be accomplished by the end of September. (B10

Cook GOP to Get New Home

The Republican Central Committee of Cook County will move its Chicago headquarters to the engineering building, 205 W. Wacker, Chicago, around Sept. 30, it was announced by Timothy P. Sheehan, county chairman. Present offices are at 211 W. Wacker, which is next door.

One of the major reasons for the move is economy, Sheehan said. He explained that although the new offices will have approximately the same square footage as at present, the rent will be substantially less. The lease for the new headquarters is for five years. (B10

United Nations Report

Lack of Finances Is Cutting UNICEF Aid

by SHERWOOD ROSS
Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, which has operated longer on peanuts than any circus elephant, has been forced to cut its 1965 budget by 15 per cent below last year's level.

Henry R. Labouisse, who succeeds the late Maurice Pate as executive director, says that UNICEF's income increased "less than usual," wiping out the possibility of launching scores of crucially - needed rescue operations.

In both 1963 and 1964, UNICEF dipped into its reserves in a desperate bid to save lives—but these now have been depleted.

Each year, UNICEF serves about 60,000,000 children. In the coming year it will undertake 200 projects in 82 lands at a cost of $26.5 million, Labouisse reports.

But there are one billion children in the world and six out of every 10 of them — that's 600,000,000 — "suffer from hunger, disease, lack of education, or all three," he says.

OUR COUNTRY is already paying some $12,000,000 a year into UNICEF's coffers and would chip in still more if other countries would up their payments. But only Canada, Poland, Sweden and Great Britain did so this year.

Sweden, which has repeatedly shown itself a leader by its conduct in the UN, raised its payments from $752,000 to $1,000,000. Now this may not seem like much. But one must reckon that its population is under 8,000,000.

On a per capita basis, the average Swede is paying one-fifth more into UNICEF than the average American even though, in total dollars, we pay by far the most. Our hard-pressed taxpayers might also like to know that Sweden, The Netherlands, Norway, Britain, Australia, Canada, and Denmark are up among the leaders in most respects — often ahead of us on a per capita basis when the balance sheets are toted up by the UN.

And so is West Germany, even though it is not a UN member. (The certainty of a Russian veto deters its government from gaining admission even though its financial support for the UN puts the Soviets to shame.)

ACCORDING to Joseph W. Willard of Canada and the head of UNICEF's operations committee, the agency could attempt only 29 new projects in 1965 because of its budget limitations.

So it is that in Latin America, Africa and Asia, about eight million people who ought to be alive come Christmas (about three-fourths of them children) are going to die from disease, impure water, starvation, and the like.

One method of reducing this toll, by slowing down the birth rate, has been proposed by the United States. So "family planning" will be on UNICEF's agenda when its members convene in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, next year.

Meanwhile, UNICEF goes about its business trying to save the living. Africa provides us with a good idea of the agency's work.

It is aiding educational projects in Mali, Mauritania, Upper Volta, Algeria, Rwanda, Sierra Leone, Tanzania, Malawi, Guinea and Bechuanaland.

It is providing child welfare and family services to Dahomey, Ethiopia, Liberia, Mali, Niger, Togo and Upper Volta; also Morocco, and Tunisia.

It is improving nutrition in Basuteland, Burundi, Kenya, and Southern Rhodesia; Ethiopia, Kenya, Senegal and Uganda.

AND IT IS fighting disease in Basuteland, Ethiopia, Gambia, Malawi, Mali, Niger, Somalia, Swaziland, Togo and Zambia; Algeria, Morocco and Tunisia, as well as Aden, Iran, Jordan, Libya, Sudan, Yemen, Turkey, and the United Arab Republic.

This is only one continent, of course. UNICEF is doing as much in South America and Asia. By training mothers in home economy, putting milk in babies' bottles, fighting malaria and smallpox and trachoma, finding shelter for children sleeping in the streets and training young minds for the future, it is helping one child in need out of every 10. The other nine must wait for the conscience of mankind to wake up. UNICEF accepts private contributions: In care of United Nations, N. Y.

It'll get there. (A15

Inside Randhurst

Illinois Gladiolus Show This Weekend

by BEVERLY TUTTLE

What does "August" mean to you? Maybe it means back-to-school preparation, vacation time, family reunions, your birthday, summer clean-up, etc. It can mean so many things to different people.

For Randhurst, it means "Gladiolus time." August is the "Month of the Gladiolus." August is here again and so are hundreds and thousands of beautiful gladiolus.

I think gladiolus time is the most beautiful part of the summer as the glad is definitely a garden aristocrat. They come in so many different colors - yellow, scarlet red, pastel pink, soft lavendar and even brown, lime green, and fantastic combinations.

RANDHURST WILL present the most colorful event of the year on Saturday and Sunday, August 7 and 8. The Illinois Gladiolus Society will present the 1965 Central International Gladiolus Show on our mall from 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Saturday, and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

This is quite a show! Randhurst is very proud to be a part of it and very honored to have the Central International Show in its mall. This special show is held once every six years in Illinois. Gladiolus growers, hybridizers, and just plain flower lovers from our neighboring states of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan, and Indiana will exhibit thousands of gladiolus in this five-state competition.

These flowers will be judged in various sections on size, form, shape, and color. Exhibitors will compete for twenty-six trophies, metals, etc., donated by merchants and members of the Societies.

A VERY SPECIAL highlight of the 1965 Gladiolus Show will be two lectures featuring "A Way with Glads" by Edna Crumbaugh, a floral designer, who will lecture on arrangements with gladiolus. Her sessions will be on Saturday, August 7, at 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. in Randhurst's Town Hall on the Concourse or Lower Level of the shopping center.

The Randhurst Merchants Association and the Central International exhibitors certainly hope your visit to the 1965 Randhurst Gladiolus Show will be flower-filled, friend-filled, and fun-filled!

August not only means the "Month of the Gladiolus" for Randhurst, but it also means the "Month of Sell-A-Bration."

When Randhurst presents its annual Gladiolus Show then we know it is almost time for another Randhurst Birthday. Randhurst opened its doors three years ago, and will soon be celebrating another birthday with a big party that everyone is invited to attend. Birthdays are always fun and exciting but always require a tremendous amount of work no matter who is giving it.

RANDHURST'S planning and preparation for this Sell-A-Bration started about last Easter, when "Randy Rabbit" came to town. Hundreds of hours have been put into Randhurst's Birthday Sell-A-Bration and we don't want anyone to miss any of the "Action." Next week I will tell you more about the party which will continue for ten days.

Come over next Thursday and get your free roses from any one of the Nancy Randhurst girls on the mall, the children will be given free balloons by clowns, and Randhurst is offering free baby-sitting service while mother shops in the stores - free theatre passes will be given out by the stores for children under 12 years of age for free movies at the Randhurst Cinema next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, August 12-13-14. Ten days of fun - free gifts - birthday cake - entertainment - movies! Don't miss it!

Albert Linder, of Shagmoor Coats, will present his fall line of trimmed and untrimmed coats on August 7. The presentation of this new line is an all exclusive with Carson Pirie Scott & Co. This special appearance will take place all day Saturday in the North Room of the Carson's Randhurst store. He will personally assist customers with selecting a new coat for the coming winter season. Carson Pirie Scott & Co. is the only outlet in the Chicagoland area with this special coat brand. (Rh

Camp for Retarded Termed 'Success'

Park Sponsor New Program

by DAN BAUMANN
Staff Writer

A little boy clicks drum sticks on the green tile floor, learning the beat of a march record. Someone suggests the group sing "Take Me out to the Ball Game," and he runs terrified from the room.

A doll-like child of six, very small for her age and with the mind of a two-year-old, smiles playfully.

An older girl with multiple handicaps, feeling alone, wets her pants and gets the attention she needs.

A 14-year-old boy laughs his characteristic Mongoloid laugh and has his playmates in stitches with a display of clowning.

Another boy, a year older, trips a small playmate. After brief exile to another room for punishment, he returns, apologizes charmingly and goes back to tapping rhythm on a drum. The episode reflects his stunted social development.

THIS 10-minute sequence took place last week during a play period at the Community Day Camp for Retarded Children at Recreation Park.

Like normal children, they have their happy and their sad moments. This group seems predominantly happy.

The camp, open to all mentally handicapped youngsters in Wheeling, Palatine, Elk Grove and Schaumburg Townships, is sponsored by the Arlington Heights Park District and Clearbrook School.

The day camp was broken down in to three two-week sessions, the last one ending Friday (tomorrow). Enrollment has ranged from 27 in the first session to 20 in the current one.

COSTS HAVE been met in a variety of ways: parents pay $25 a session, the park district provides the site and the camp director (Demmaree Sunkel, recreation supervisor for the parks). Through Clearbrook School comes the $3,000 operating budget, derived from state and township funds. And several organizations have sponsored students by paying their fees.

The first attempt at a day camp for retarded children has proved so successful, according to Miss Sunkel, that a similar program may be included in the park district's winter program. And a repeat of the day camp is expected next summer.

Two Clearbrook teachers provide full time supervision of the camp. Under them are four college girls who receive $25 a week as counselors. They work with the 37 high school students who have volunteered their time to the camp.

In addition, the nurses clubs of Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Rolling Meadows, Elk Grove Village and Palatine provide a registered nurse during day camp hours, 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

ABOUT two-thirds of the youngsters enrolled in the camp are from Clearbrook School. The remainder are either homebound during the school year or attend public school special education classes.

The high school volunteers, mostly freshmen and sophomores, each is assigned a youngster to work with for three days. That means one supervisor for one child.

"At first, they felt they were babysitters and they became overprotective," commented Clearbrook School Executive Director Byrn Witt, "but they've learned. Now their assignments are rotated every three days so a child doesn't become too dependent on one supervisor and to give the supervisors experience with a variety of retardation problems."

Most of the volunteers plan social work or nursing careers.

Youngsters enrolled in the camp range from six to 15 years old. Some have, in addition to mental handicaps, physical and emotional problems.

THEIR activities are varied from day to day. "We encourage mixing as part of their development," said Witt, "but some of their activities are arranged by age and ability."

Boredom was a small problem at the beginning of the camp, according to Miss Sunkel.

"For a while, the counselors felt there was a lack of variety, but I guess they realized it was up to them to provide it. They went to libraries to look up different kinds of games and really researched it. It's not a problem now."

The children are kept outside "as much as possible," she said. They play on park equipment, join games led by their supervisors, are involved in arts and crafts.

"THE CRAFTS stress creativity and hand-and-eye coordination," said Miss Sunkel. "And for rainy days, there are circle games."

Each day, weather permitting, the children swim from 12:30 to 1 p.m., while a swimming class occupies the other end of the pool.

On the playground the children share equipment with normal children. "This has caused no problems," according to Witt. "Once in a while, normal children will stand by and stare.

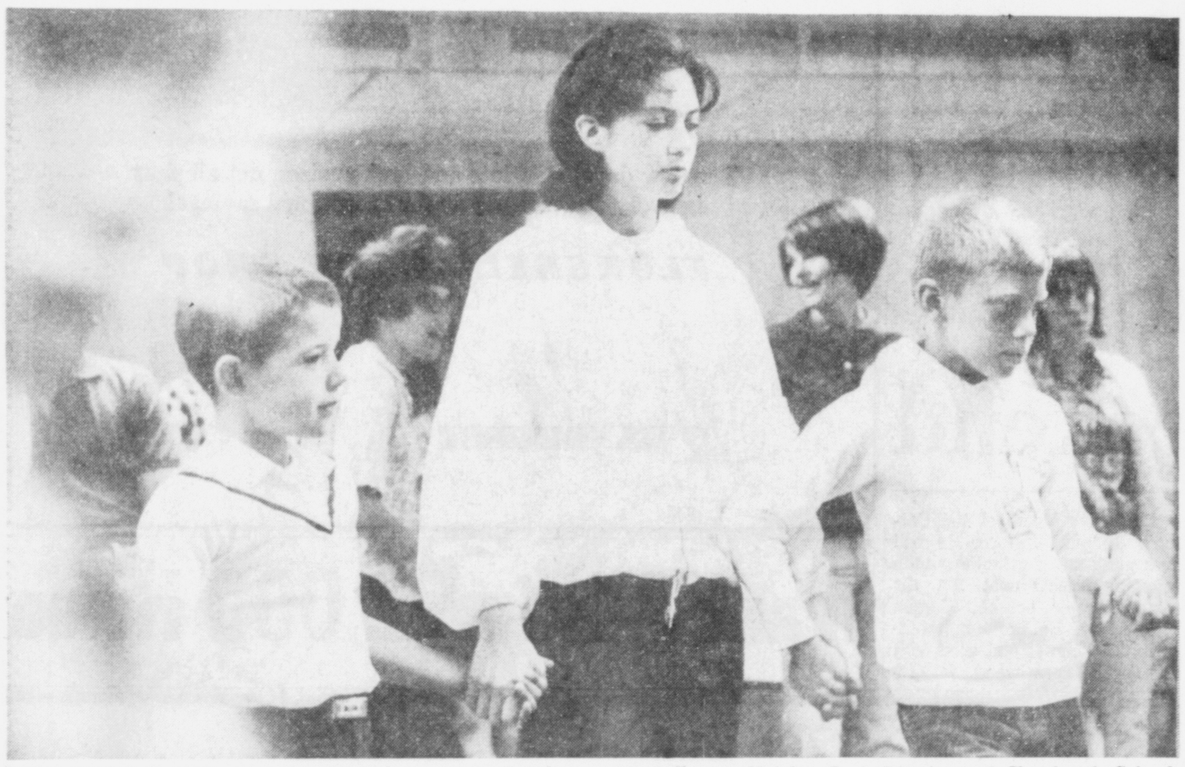
"This experience (on the playground) is realistic. It's good for these children to be out in a practical situation."

The children also go on frequent trips—to a concert at Grant Park, a dairy farm, a forest preserve cook out, the aquarium, the zoo and Sidewalk Days in downtown Arlington Heights.

AT THE end of each session, the children and their parents join in a picnic dinner and the children put on a brief program. At one program, they acted out Little Red Riding Hood.

A chubby boy played the grandmother. Four children stood around him wearing signs that read "Bedpost."

And a little girl delighted in her role of being opened and closed. Her sign read "Closet."



MISS DIANE KABAT, senior counselor for a community day camp for mentally retarded youngsters, leads children in a circle game. The camp, at Recreation Park, is sponsored by the Arlington Heights Park District and Clearbrook School. It is staffed by four college students, like Miss Kabat, two Clearbrook School teachers and 37 high school volunteers.

HAND AND EYE coordination is developed by this puzzle game, one of many activities for children atending a community day camp for the retarded at Recreation Park in Arlington Heights. (Staff photo)

Goodbyes seemed to be a way of life in the Gerald Mertens' home, 425 S. Gibbons, last week. After seeing the senior Mr. and Mrs. Mertens off for their home in Ithaca, Mich., early in the week, Gerry and Lorraine said goodbye to their son, Chip, who had completed basic training at Ft. Knox and was leaving for further training at Ft. Rucker, Ala.

Chip's July 30 birthday was celebrated a few days early, at a swimming party given by friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Niebuhr, 424 S. Forrest, returned last week from a 2,300 mile tour of Canada, which took them as far north as Red Lake, Ontario, and back through Michigan, entering by way of Sault Ste. Marie.

Roni Jo Rold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Rold, 433 S. Gibbons, celebrated her seventh birthday Friday, at an afternoon party for Laurie Wilkinson, Jessie Bruce, Patty Schmidt, Jill Hulse, Trudy Jensen, Karen Grossman, Linda Schultze, and a cousin, Kimie Senne. Kathy Ehlen, a neighbor, was Mrs. Rold's right hand in helping to pass around the cake and ice cream and organizing party games.

THE GERALD Earl home, 433 S. Prindle, was the scene of a party Saturday afternoon in honor of Michael's sixth birthday. Guests were Bobby McMullen, Tommy and Michael McNulty, Kevin Donovan, Mark Schneider, David Brown, John Waxlax, Blake Bell, Roy Saticass and Craig Kaiser. After a trip to the movies, the partygoers returned to the Earl home for cake and ice cream.

The Robert Posts, 2105 E. Park, joined in the group for their family vacation this year. With their children, Bob, Steve, Jimmy, Laura, Karen and Nancy, they spent a week camping at a state park in Traverse City, Mich.

Northwest Community Hospital was home for Laurie Cain for four weeks, after she fell and broke her arm. However, the 5-year-old returned home to 536 S. Waterman last week, but still wearing a cast.

The James Bradys, with David, Jimmy and Paul, 508 S. Forrest, have been home for a week, after spending almost two weeks in the east. Their first stop was Pittsburgh to visit Jim's family, then on to the shore at Wildwood, N. J., for a week of all the fun and relaxation associated with the water. After a farewell stop in Pittsburgh, the Bradys headed home. Fawn's mother, Mrs. Katherine Allen and her sister Betty of Bethel Park, drove back with them. Hosts and guests alike enjoyed swimming in area lakes, attending Arlington Park and dining out during the week the Allens were in town.

MR. AND MRS. Frank Jenko and their children, Dennis and Barbara, 440 S. Prindle, covered a lot of territory during the more than two weeks they were away. A drive to Milwaukee, where they boarded the ferry for Ludington, started them on a trip north through Michigan, over the Mackinac Bridge and on through Canada. On their return through the states, they headed for Virginia, Minn., to visit Betty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Metish, and to spend a week in Chisholm with Frank's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nelsen, and another three days with them at a lake in northern Minnesota.

When the Jenkos were called home unexpectedly, Mrs. Nelsen and the Metishes returned with them. Mrs. Nelsen left in a few days but the Metishes stayed on to sightsee and to visit friends in Joliet and the Chicago area.

The annual summer vacation of the Lyle Longries, 429 S. Forrest, was divided into two parts, the first of which was spent taking the children, Marcia, Mark and Keith, on short trips in the general area. The second week the family drove to Oconto, Wis., for a few days' visit with the senior Longries. On leaving there, they drove home by way of Michigan. Particularly enjoyable, especially for the children, was the ferry ride from St. Ignace to Mackinac City and a side trip tour of Mackinac Island.

Chuck Longrie, in the Air Force in Korea, sent word that he had spent his July 18 birthday in Tokyo.

MRS. LAUREN Hulse, 509 S. Forrest, tries to spend part of each summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Hoffman in Topeka, Kan. Her husband made the trip with her early in July but had to return after a few days, while she and the children, Jill and Stephen, stayed on. The weeks were spent in going on picnics, trips to the zoo for the children and visiting old friends.

The Gerald Schneider family, 508 S. Prindle, is getting back into the swing of its daily routine, after spending a week at a resort at Rush Lake, Minn., on a family reunion type of vacation. Four nearby cottages housed the Schneiders and their children, Mark, Laura and John, Gerry's mother and young sister and three other sisters and their families, all of Sioux Falls, S. D. Swimming and fishing were enjoyed by all and water skiing by the more adventuresome.

A HAPPY Aug. 1 birthday was wished to Dickie Christiansen, 428 S. Waterman, at a family dinner Sunday. An aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William Christiansen of Prospect Heights joined Dickie and his parents, Grandma Christiansen and brother and sisters, Jack, Linda and Cindy.

Mark Kunz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kunz, 505 S. Forrest, was guest of honor at a family dinner to mark his ninth birthday July 28. Guests joining Mark's immediate family were his grandmother, Mrs. Josephine Kunz, and Uncle John of Elmwood Park. Cake and ice cream were served later in the evening, when the Haanel family of Arlington Heights joined the celebrants.

Scott Butkus' July 31 birthday was duly celebrated at a family dinner that evening. While his parents, James and Joanne, brother, Steve, and sisters, Susan and Nancy, sang "Happy Birthday," Scott was busy blowing out the three candles on his cake.

THE BUTKUS home, 429 S. Phelps, was the scene of a party earlier in the week, when the Birthday Club met there July 27 to celebrate the Aug. 3 birthday of Mrs. William Jahnke, 2024 E. Park. A cool yellow color theme was carried out in the center piece, table trimming and cake decoration for the evening get-together.

The Dinner of the Month Club met Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schulze in Des Plaines for a cocktail party before proceeding to La Maisonette in Skokie for dinner. Members at Saturday night's affair were the Al Mays and the Roy Stoehrs. (A VALERIE PLANT, 1323 N. Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights, attended the first of three week-long art schools at Allerton House, University of Illinois conference center. The schools are conducted under arrangements made by the Illinois State Federation of Women's Clubs and the university's extension division. (A

Bids On Concrete Provoke Discussion

Bids to supply concrete to the village for sidewalk installations caused a flurry of discussion at Monday's Arlington Heights Village Board meeting.

The board decided to accept the low bid after several members opined the three other bidders weren't serious. Bids had been submitted by Carlson-Tyrrell, Elk Grove Village, (55 cents a square foot); Skoglund Co., Chicago, (74.8 cents); Blauw & Sons, Rolling Meadows, (75 cents), and Capital Cement Co., Chicago, (78.5 cents).

"I'M GRAVELY disturbed," said Trustee Carl F. Mees, "at the contractors' bids, with a variation of about 20 cents a square foot...when cement is available to the average homeowner at about 55 cents."

Trustee Roy A. Bressler suggested the three high bidders, in effect, "are saying 'No, we don't want the bids but want to keep a foot in the door for village business.'"

Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson said the engineering department had estimated costs at 55 cents. Projects involve sidewalk installation along Kensington near a school crossing and along State Road where a water line had been installed. Hanson said work will total about $1,900. (A

Award Foundation Contract For Surrey Ridge School

Ragnar and Olson, contractors, began excavation on Elk Grove School District 59's Surrey Ridge School foundation Friday.

Ragnar and Olson with a bid of $24,990 was the successful bidder on the foundation work for the school west of Arlington Heights Road.

Other bidders were: Warchol Construction Co. of Chicago, $29,631; A. W. Heinson & Co. of Mundelein, $29,600; Egyptian Construction Co. of Chicago, $44,783; and Kenneth P. Johnson of Skokie, $45,755.

Work on the foundation is to be completed in 60 days.

The Surrey Ridge School will serve an area of Arlington Heights west of Arlington Heights Road and north of Golf Road. It will be built in two stages.

Contracts for the remainder of the building will be bid if a $5,450,000 bond issue that includes the rest of the building is approved by voters. The architect, Alden Orput of Orput & Orput, told the school district letting the foundation contract separately probably would save about six weeks of building time and put the building under roof by December.

The building is due for occupancy in September, 1966.

The design of Surrey Ridge School is a distinct departure from that of other Elk Grove District 59 schools. Mushroom-shaped on the architect's plans, the building has few self-contained classrooms. Instead, a large instructional or learning center is used as the core of the building with instructional areas clustering around it.

District 59 has sold one acre of the site to the Northwest Mental Health Clinic, presently located in Westgate Shopping Center in Arlington Heights.

The school and clinic will share parking lots.

Vacation Bible School Programs Changing

SCOTT DRAKE studies pictures to match the word "neighbors" as part of his training in daily vacation Bible School at Prince of Peace. Scott is in the first and second graders' class. The children were given words such as neighbors and asked to match them with picture examples. Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Drake, 1205 Carswell, Elk Grove Village.

More Organized Different Methods

by DAVID J. HANKS
Staff Writer

Children still sing "Jesus Loves Me" and play "Duck, Duck, Goose" in daily vacation Bible school but some other things have changed.

Bible school is better organized today and the facilities are surely a lot better than they were some 15 years ago.

The youngsters are different, too. As one group leader of some second and third graders put it, "Children today are more active and have better and quicker memories. Memory work comes easy for this group," she added.

In observing two vacation Bible schools one finds somewhat different programs, although both emphasize spiritual learning.

AT ST. PETER Lutheran Church in Arlington Heights, Bible school starts out with a sermon and the singing of some hymns. The entire enrollment of the Bible school attends the sermon, the only time in the 2½-hour period that the entire group gets together.

The sermon usually sets the topic of study for the day, related to "praying," which is the over-all theme of this year's Bible school.

Following the sermon the 256 pupils separate into smaller groups according to age and class in school for Bible study. A class of seventh and eighth graders took the word for the day, which last Friday was "missionaries," and built a prayer around it.

HERE'S HOW the prayer came out, with the able guidance of the teacher:

"O creator, gracious and kind
Thank you for the many blessings you have given us.
Please help the missionaries in other countries
To have the joy of winning souls for you.
Grant our prayers for Jesus' sake.
Amen"

One girl wanted to use the word "facilities" instead of "blessings," but was persuaded by the teacher that blessings was a better word.

The junior high students then go to assist teachers in other classes ranging from pre-school youngsters of 3½ years old to sixth graders.

The rest of the children attending Bible school also have a study period at this time. They usually start with a Bible story, then do exercises in their workbooks, again using the word missionary in their studies.

BY THIS HOUR it's recess time, then snack time, then back to work on a project dealing with prayer. This consists of making different things which symbolize "God's Children in Prayer."

A group of second and third graders at St. Peter's made these projects: 1) a book of prayers, 2) a prayer star, 3) a statue of a praying girl made from yarn, pasted on paper, 4) a Lord's Prayer stand-up, where the Lord's Prayer is written out with Bible characters in the background, 5) two folded hands praying. Each of these projects takes about two days each.

The Bible school is about over by this time, and in the last 15 minutes the children sing in individual groups, refreshing their memories of old hymns and learning new ones.

EACH PHASE of Bible school at St. Peter's is carefully supervised by teachers and assistants. The teachers say the children "seem to enjoy and learn from the projects."

"We hope it makes them better people," one said.

BIBLE SCHOOL at the Prince of Peace Methodist Church in Elk Grove Village was somewhat different. It is the church's first formal Bible school.

Mrs. Ronald Carlson, co-chairman of the school, says part of the difference is that the Methodist Church has recently come out with an entirely new curriculum for Bible school and Sunday school. It's correlated to what the youngsters are learning in grade school, she said.

As an example, there is no group singing or sermon at vacation Bible school at Prince of Peace Methodist Church. Only the third grades through the sixth get together for singing, she said. The smaller children are not really able to understand all the songs and therefore the time is spent teaching the younger children new words which will enhance their spiritual education.

Bible school at Prince of Peace starts with a lesson or a story from the Bible. Then the various groups, split between a nursery group, kindergarten, first and second graders, and third through sixth graders, go into what is called a creative period of Bible school work.

THE FIRST AND second graders, for instance, cut out pictures which would match words they had learned in their beginning Bible lesson. The third through sixth graders might then sing, or do dramatic scenes from the Bible and the way of living of Christ.

The Bible school groups take field trips to learn of various things in our society. One group visited the post office, another a fire station, and some even visited a Jewish synagogue.

There are 94 children registered at the Bible school.

Mrs. Carlson said she believed that the changes in Methodist Bible school were good. "We can change things perhaps a little faster here in a suburban community," she added, because members of the congregation are about the same age and consequently they don't have to overcome old prevailing concepts and ideas.

ALL CONSIDERED, Bible school today has changed quite a bit from some 15 or 20 years ago. There are innovations — the change of the curriculum for Bible Schools at Methodist churches is one; another is Bible and Sunday school classes for retarded children at St. Peter's Lutheran Church.

Other changes include new settings for the schools. Trinity Lutheran Church in Rolling Meadows is holding Bible School in a tent. And Elk Grove Wesleyan Methodist Church plans to hold almost all of its Bible school outdoors at the Preserve. This will be the fifth year outside for the school.

There is still an emphasis on spiritual learning, but churches seem to be adopting changes to correlate with a changing and fast-moving world. (A15

TRAVEL ACCIDENTS

Paddock Publications
Suburbanite Emergency Protection
Personal Accident Policy

ISSUED EXCLUSIVELY TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS AND THEIR FAMILY HOUSEHOLD MEMBERS

- The number of travel accidents is frightening. Practically everyone uses public or private conveyances such as automobiles, trucks, buses, taxis, trains, airplanes, boats and elevators. Pedestrians while walking or standing on public streets and highways are often struck, knocked down or run over by vehicles. Crowded and outmoded streets and highways, speeding, reckless drivers, blowouts and bad weather conditions cause accidents that kill or injure people every minute. If for no other reason, everyone should have protection for travel accidents when you think how much time is spent each day on transportation. At vacation time no one should be without the protection of this policy.
- The entire family should have this protection—man, woman and children.
- Policy will help pay those expenses resulting from bodily injury—whether simple or serious—when accidents strike at home, while traveling, at work, on the farm, at school, or at play.
- Subject to its provisions, the policy includes indemnity for: Loss of Life, from $500 to $10,000; Loss of Limb, $250 to $10,000; Loss of Sight, $175 to $10,000; Total Disability, up to $500, pro-rated on a daily basis; First Aid, up to $5 for non-disabling injury; Ambulance, up to $10 for this service; Hospital, up to $200, pro-rated on a daily basis; X-Ray, up to $10 for injury examination.
- Issued without medical examination.
- No age limits (Specific Loss and Total Disability Indemnities are reduced fifty per cent (50%) when insured is or becomes age 70 or over).
- Pays in addition to other personal accident insurance carried.
- Pays on work accidents that are covered by State Compensation Laws.
- Specific Loss Indemnities increase in value ten per cent (10%) each year during first 5 years of consecutive renewal.
- The policy is issued by Old Republic Life Insurance Company, Chicago, Illinois. Protection begins at NOON on the actual date of issuance of the policy.

Salad Tips

Like to add a crisp, interesting note to meat or fish salads? Drain and slice a can of water chestnuts, mixing with the main ingredients. Top with a sprinkling of coconut.

Hard-cooked eggs taste exotic when they're made into a salad with curry or capers. Be certain to add some mustard and mayonnaise.

For green salads, it's delightful to make a creamy dressing with chopped green olives and a touch of vinegar with sour cream.

What to serve on fruit salads? These are delightful with salad dressing, whipped cream and some chopped maraschino cherries with juice for color.

When a fruit salad is the dessert as well as the salad, top with a scoop of lime, lemon or orange sherbet.

Like a hearty salad? Use drained baked beans, kidney beans and lima beans with a bacon dressing.

Helen's Favorite:
Quick Cheese Biscuits

1 package refrigerator biscuits
½ package (3 ounces) pimiento cheese
2 tablespoons butter

Melt cheese and butter together in top of double boiler or a small saucepan over low heat. Place biscuits an inch or so apart on well greased pan. Top each biscuit with a dab of cheese mixture. Bake in a very hot (500° F.) oven 5 minutes. Reduce heat to 450° F. and continue baking 7 minutes.

Q. Is it in good taste to use correspondence cards?

A. For the short, informal type of notes, these cards are very popular and in good taste —for both man and women. However, they should be used only for strictly informal correspondence.

Q. If, after meeting and talking with a business aquaintance of my husband, he says, "It's been a pleasure to meet you," what can I say?

A. Just "thank you," accompanied by a smile, is enough.

Q. Should an usher at a church wedding offer his arm to every woman he escorts down the aisle, whether he knows her or not?

A. Certainly.

Hospital Installs Special Machinery

A hydraulically operated heart-lung machine, the first of its kind in the nation, has been installed at Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge. The heart-lung machine has been placed in the surgical chamber of the hyperbaric (high pressure) oxygen system.

The machine is designed to take over the functions of the heart and lungs of a patient during heart surgery. Corrective surgery on the heart can be performed while the machine continues to provide oxygen and circulate the blood during the operation.

The heart-lung machine was especially designed by Sarns Inc. of Ann Arbor, Mich., for Lutheran General. Although heart-lung machines are not new, other heart-lung machines have all been electrically operated. The one at Lutheran General is operated by hydraulic pressure — pressure provided by means of fluids under pressure.

BECAUSE THE machine will be operated under three times normal atmospheric pressure in the hyperbaric chamber, doctors and engineers felt that there was a possibility that the electrically operated heart-lung machine would spark or malfunction under pressure, explained T. L. Jacobsen, executive director.

"With the addition of this heart-lung machine, we can broaden the scope of heart surgery being performed in the surgical chamber," he said.

The $18,000 machine was purchased with funds provided by the Service League of Lutheran General Hospital. This brings to $400,000 the amount contributed and pledged to the hospital by the Service League. (B10

IT'S AN IDEA HOME DECORATIONS

A new portable refrigerator for home or office is this Executive model which not only provides 5.8 cubic feet of storage space, but also has the stylish appearance of a fine piece of furniture. It has a textured-walnut finish to complement any decor, and has plenty room for beverages, lunches, snacks, and other items that have to be kept cold.

The freezing compartment has two large ice cube trays, and the refrigerator accomodates tall bottles easily by adjustment of the stainless steel rack. The refrigeration system operates on 110V., 60 cycles.

Lutheran Gen'l Featured on Magazine Cover

Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, is featured on the cover of the July issue of The Modern Hospital magazine.

The cover picture shows one of the coffee cans now being used for disposing of used syringes and needles.

Disposing of these items presented a problem in the past when bags were used because housekeeping personnel would get injured. Use of the cans is now being adopted by other hospitals.

This system was originated by John H. McGladdery, methods coordinator at Lutheran General. The system has also been featured in the Reciprocator, published by the Chicago Hospital Council. (B10

MOUNT EMBLEM

"Illinois' Most Beautiful Cemetery"
Site of the
OLD DUTCH MILL
Built in 1850

The DuPage County Historical Society presented an AWARD OF HONOR to Mount Emblem in 1956 for preserving the Old Dutch Mill as an educational and historic exhibit.

Visitors to the Old Dutch Mill are always welcome.

Mount Emblem is distinctively different.

Here is the expression of an ideal-Nature's eternal loveliness transformed into a memorial of Living Beauty. Natural beauty-unmarred by artificiality or perishable structures. This is the keynote of our landscape policy. Objects of nature are real, their appeal is universal, continuous through time.

When you visit you will be aware of the meticulous maintenance. You will find that our prices are moderate. It costs no more to own the best.

"It is better to have it and not need it— than to need it and not have it."

Well, That's My Professional Advice. Hope You Won't Ignore It!

The Way We See It

Suburb Planning Need Is Urgent

"I've met what I expected in village thinking. Many communities lack what I call a sophisticated point of view."

These words come from a man in a position to know — Matthew Rockwell, director of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission. As such, he guides the work of a state advisory agency set up by the legislature in 1957 to direct planning efforts for the six-county, 3,714-square-mile metropolitan area.

The problems involved in designing the means to cope with surging growth in this area for the present and future are obvious. The solutions are not.

Backing NIPC efforts to come up with some answers is a budget of $400,000, about 70 per cent allocated to salaries for a staff of 45. Half the funds come from the federal government; 45 per cent from Chicago, Cook and Lake Counties; and five per cent from municipalities. Some 250 village contribute a total of $20,000 to NIPC.

According to Rockwell, these municipalities tend to demand individual returns worth many times their individual contributions. This demand is, no doubt, to be expected; every village in the area keeps one eye on its encroaching neighbors and the other on its own future. Unfortunately, this sometimes creates a cross-eyed condition.

For example, two years ago the Old Orchard development was up for grabs between Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect. Mount Prospect won, granting the high rise zoning Arlington had fought; this summer Mount Prospect pulled a complete reversal and rejected the zoning.

Hoffman Estates is preparing to extend welcoming arms to embrace a retirement community with a projected population of 50,000 persons; meanwhile, Streamwood is exerting itself to entice the development away from Hoffman.

Such futile efforts, a waste of time and money, could be prevented by cooperative planning among the villages, currently attempted only in fits and starts. One exception has been the Northwest Municipal Conference, including the northwest Cook County suburbs, an area organization of the sort favored by NIPC to solve mutual problems.

In addition to cooperation, long-range planning is essential to each village and the area as a whole. This takes time, of course — but it should produce orderly designs worked out for the over-all best interests.

In its capacity as a service agency to aid such planning, NIPC is crippled because it is limited to strictly an advisory role. To strengthen its service, NIPC seeks two powers, both deserving study. First, a common agreement would be required between adjacent communities before contiguous land could be rezoned. Second, NIPC would study the proposed incorporation of a village to determine its effect on existing communities before the courts could act.

The NIPC also would prefer separate taxing powers to assure continued financial support for its work.

These are sophisticated suggestions, but planning is a sophisticated business, and it will only grow more so with the growth of the area. (FP

Poverty in the Suburbs

The Cook County Board of Commissioners is considering proposals to extend the federal poverty program to northwest suburbs.

Thus far, the "need" has been based chiefly on the existence of scattered pockets of poverty created by Mexican-American migrant and ex-migrant farm workers, ghettoed by economic necessity in clusters of shacks and makeshift homes on the fringe of suburban villages.

No one knows how many families need help or can be helped by such a federal program. No responsible authority has gathered documented evidence, engaged in solid research, or been able to offer any specifics. Obviously, the county board cannot—and should not—make a decision without such factual information. If poverty in suburbia exceeds the capacities of local authorities, then we must resort to federal aid and action.

In the meantime, however, here is an excellent opportunity for the often-quoted critics of federal aid to exert initiative and action.

North Cook County leads the United States in employment, average family income, education. The impoverished migrants represent less than one-half of one per cent of the population. Is this group beyond our capacity to help?

Suburban villages could mobilize and pool resources, make health services available, develop volunteer programs, open schoolroom doors to parent and child, offer opportunity for recreation and identification with community life.

At the county level, education and job training programs could be extended; low-rental family housing developed; health programs created to regulate ex-migrant housing to gradually force reform without thrusting people into the cold with nowhere to go.

The federal poverty program is designed to attack the staggering toll in money and wasted lives; the hidden costs paid for slums in increased crime, health hazards, family disorganization; the appalling degradation and abuse of human potential. It can best achieve this goal by focusing its attention on communities without the resources, facilities, or leadership to help the half-million poor of Illinois: the helpless young, the forgotten old, the disabled, the industrial rejects, the mentally disturbed, the illiterate, homeless and hungry.

Northwest suburbs have a special opportunity before them. Here it is that the will and the skill can be found to mobilize resources to help a disadvantaged minority to help themselves.

We boast of high income, high education, affluence, prestige and influence in our suburbs. Can we also boast of our capacity to utilize these resources of wealth, education and leadership to meet a genuine local need without having to depend upon federal finance and direction?

Continued indifference and inaction will only serve to underscore the arguments of those who insist that local government is incapable—or unwilling—to solve local problems. (FP

Critic's Corner

Perspectives Change Fast

by DAVE HANKS
Staff Writer

Have you ever noticed how quickly a person changes his mind when something affects him personally?

The war in Viet Nam, integration of schools, bond issues for parks, street improvements, or schools are some things which often cause a person to change his mind completely when it affects him.

I have an associate, the "so-called practical liberal" that he is, would have wondered a couple months ago what the United States was even doing in Viet Nam. But now he feels entirely different about the situation.

HANKS

Why? Well, he's 23, and, of course, eligible for the draft. And now that President Johnson has doubled the draft call, there is a chance that he might be called.

NOW HIS philosophy has become, "End the draft, use the bomb." Whether he was joking or serious, I wasn't able to determine, but he actually mumbled something about using 50 megaton bombs in North Viet Nam or Red China.

He really doesn't have to worry for awhile, because he still has a semester left in college and will be deferred until January. And even then he shouldn't have to worry too much, because he has suddenly decided he might continue school and attain a master's degree.

Funny thing, several weeks ago he was saying he "didn't need any more education."

I had a "pseudo liberal" professor in college. He was vehemently opposed to segregation and very much for integration in the schools.

HE USED TO stand before us hour after hour emphasizing what a liberal he was and how it was morally bad to deny a child a good education because of the color of his skin.

But, lo and behold, when it was suggested that there might be a program adopted in our city whereby children might be bussed to schools out of their neighborhood for the sake of integration he felt a lot different.

"Well, no I don't mind if my girls go to school with Negroes," he said, "but it's just that we eat lunch together and I don't like to break up the family."

This seemed to me to be a flimsy excuse for the man who only minutes before was willing to do any and every thing for the schools integration cause.

I lived in another community which had a park district for 20 years, but believe it or not, no parks. The slow moving park board's theory was, "Well, we'll start land acquisition and have some parks later."

BUT THEY thought this too many years. Suddenly the city had a population of 20,000, and still no parks. The residents began to scream and complain that "they had no parks for the children, no recreation, no nothing" and indicated that the park district should do something about it.

The park district agreed. So it planned a bond issue to buy land, build a swimming pool, tennis courts, and other recreational facilities. This is great the community said, "now we'll have someplace for our children to play."

But when they learned that the general obligation bonds would require about $16 per $10,000 assessed valuation on their annual tax bill it was a lot different. This affected them personally, yes it affected their pocketbook.

They began to be skeptical, well maybe they didn't need those parks after all. They showed how personal it really was when they went to the polls and rejected the bond issue by a 5 to 1 margin.

SO IT GOES, something is always great until it affects you and me. I'm not saying any of the above mentioned things are good or bad, but it interesting to note how quickly one changes his point of view when things affect him personally.

And anyway, I'm safe, I'm too old to be drafted, I don't have a family that integration might break up, and I don't own any property on which taxes could be raised.

Speak Up!

Spanking for Pupils?

by NANCY ANDERSON
Staff Editor

The so-called "spanking" bill sponsored by State Rep. Bill Redmond (D-Bensenville) received wide publicity during this year's session of the General Assembly.

The bill assures teachers and administrators that corporal punishment in the classroom is legal if necessary. Basically, it provides that teachers in all matters relating to discipline should stand in the relation of parents to their pupils.

However, as the question was framed for this week's Speak Up! column, it became apparent that there had been a great deal of public confusion over the measure. The original question was: "What is your reaction to the so-called 'spanking bill passed by the State Legislature and signed into law by governor Kerner?"

ANDERSON

WITH VISIONS of parents mistakenly fearing teachers would haul their kids into the corner for a tanning on any excuse, legislators and school administrators suggested another question with answers: "What does this bill really mean?"

First of all, pointed out the bill's sponsor, Rep. Redmond, the legislation simply puts into the statutes law which has already been determined by the courts. This is the theory of in loco parenti, a Latin expression signifying the schools take the place of the parents while youngsters are in the classroom.

"Actually, this serves as a buttress for the teacher, so he'll know his rights," Redmond explained. "Before, maybe he had to punish a kid, and the parents came in complaining because, according to the statutes, he didn't have legal authority to do so. Well, he did have the authority, according to the law confirmed by the courts — but parents and teachers don't go to the case law, they just look in the statutes. Now it's there so they'll know."

THE MEASURE was requested by the Illinois Federation of Teachers, to apply only outside Chicago, Redmond noted. Then, on the request of school groups, it was extended to cover Chicago as well.

"It met with the approval of almost every school group in the state," he pointed out. "A man from the Illinois Humane Society — for people, not animals — was the only real objector.

"I even heard from one woman bus driver who asked that it be stretched to include kids on buses," he chuckled.

A member of the House education committee, Rep. Eugenia Chapman (D-Arlington Heights) "raised a log of questions in committee, then voted with the the bill's passage.

"I don't believe teachers should use corporal punishment," said Mrs. Chapman, a former school teacher and school board member. "And I'm convinced I wasn't encouraging any teacher to strike any child by supporting this bill. It's to provide protection for the teachers; that's why I voted for it."

"And remember, if a teacher injures a child, he's just as subject to the court as a parent would be. Don't forget, we also passed two child abuse bills this session."

ONE OF seven representatives who voted against the bill was Eugene Schlickman (R-Arlington Heights). He contended that the statutory measure was "not necessary, since the principle has already been established by the courts and put into law."

In addition, he feared that "the effect would be to take from local school boards the authority they now have"

A Letter to a Son

So You're Two Years Old!

By DICK LEONARD
Staff Writer

Dear Son,

Your mother tells me you are two years old today. It just isn't possible. You couldn't have grown up right before my eyes without my knowing it. Why, I've watched your every moment and . . . but, yes, of course, she's right. You are getting on.

It seems only yeaterday since first I saw you, then such a fat bundle of reddish anger. No, you wouldn't remember. Your world was a pretty dark, quiet place.

To be truthful, I'm not sure whether I loved you right away. You must understand new ones are such strange little creatures. It takes a while to get used to them. But, oh, I can tell you I was mighty happy to see you. I had a funny feeling you'd come along to join my household of women. While those two sisters of yours are more then merely special, I guess I was looking ahead a bit toward those pal years of outdoor fun.

YOU WOULD blush, even now, if you knew what plans we made for you. Dreams is probably a better word. Hardly original in content, I'm sure my Dad mapped out the same set for me, once upon a time.

If we had our way, you'd grow firm and strong possessing the best of all those we love and respect. But that's a parent's way—shoot for the moon. But honestly, I know when all is said and done, you'll be the decider—and whatever it happens to be, it will be okay—for it will be your way.

And now you sit close by, dimpled face smiling up at me, a long-time-yet-to-be-read comic book held upside down forgotten before you. I wonder what you see. Perhaps some giant monster, that endless supplier of tootsie-pops, and confusingly firm "No, No, Noes."

What a wonderful, ignorant world is yours with everything Do or Don't . . . Good or Bad. A world filled with plenty of love and plenty of anger but never a trace of hate.

But then you haven't learned that word yet. Would that I could guard you from it. But I can't. You are my son, not my property. I am your counselor, protector, teacher, not your keeper.

SOMEWHERE deep inside I know you understand that it was love that gave you life. But what you don't know, and I have a confession to make, is that there was a catch that went along with that gift of life. You must live it—not in your world of tears and laughter but in another—a strange unconcerned world tainted with hate. All too soon you will learn, and what a lesson lies in store. It's a lesson, I am ashamed to admit, that will be taught by free men in a free world who turn in disgust from the sight of a brother whose tan is darker, whose speech sounds strange or whose ways seem foreign.

What can I tell you that will help? I must say something for indeed you will need all the ammunition you can find. It gets pretty rough up ahead. And if I have anything to say it better be now. We may never be as close as we are today. I'm sorry but that's the plain truth of it.

I wish I had a simple formula or happiness and peace to pass along. What a birthday gift that would be. But so far I haven't found one that really works. But if I do, it shall be something mighty close to this:

Keep this faith—love God and be honest to yourself."

That's much more of a mouthful than it sounds. You see, it's not easy to love God

"The Open Door" by Charles E. Hayes; photographed by Larry H. Cameron. A four-part report by the same writer-photographer team responsible for the award-winning 1960 series, "The Poor," this latest effort reports in detail the results of a six week, 3,800-mile tour of the state in which the newsmen sought to determine what Illinois had done to solve the problems of poverty first reported in 1960. The articles explore conditions still prevailing as well as the state's unique "teach and train" programs designed to help the poor to help themselves.

"The Downtown Dilemma" by Jim Carns; photographed by Tom Grieger. This four-part series examines in depth the plight of suburban downtown districts, their potential, and their progress in meeting the challenges of new marketing and retail conditions emerging in a changing suburbia.

There is no charge for single copies of the series. For quantities: 10 for $1.50; 25 for $3.50; 50 for $6; 100 for $11. Requests for reprints should be addressed to Mrs. Alice Terrill, Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, Ill. 60006.

Formation of Human Relations Council Praised

Last Fall the local "Legion of Mary," Our Lady of Charity Praesidium, in it's monthly newsletter to it's 200 auxiliary members, expressed strong disappointment at the failure of the Wheeling village council to pass an ordinance establishing a human Relations Commission. We felt inclined to agree with Ira Bird, one of the trustees, that it was a clear-cut moral issue.

We would like to take this opportunity to praise the action of the village council members, who on July 26 passed the ordinance in a unanimous decision. Much of the credit should be given to our new village president and indeed all of the council members who worked so harmoniously with him in working out the details which assured its speedy passage.

Praise should go too, to the Wheeling Community council members who worked tirelessly in an effort to educate concerning the need of this legal Peace promoting plan. The local ministerial association had also committed itself in a very forth-right manner, pledging the unanimous support of its membership.

We feel certain that the community spirit which expressed itself in this unanimous way for Peace and Harmony, will assure the success of the Commission. "Blessed are the Peacemakers—"

Postal Service Gets Criticism, Not Salutation

During this past week we have heard the news commentators request that we send cards and letters of congratulations on the anniversary of the post office.

May I take this opportunity to say that the mail service in the south section of Arlington Heights is far below what one would expect from our government office.

We have received mail service in our section as late as six o'clock in the evening. Third class mail has laid in a post office bag in front of my home for as long as three days.

I realize there is a problem in getting proper help for the delivery of mail, but I see no reason why this mail should be dropped off in front of our homes and allowed to lie there for three days.

Mail is important to all of us and I am sure that if the office is aware of this problem, steps will be taken to correct it.

over matters of discipline. While this contention was rejected by the bill's supporters, Schlickman worked with other legislators to add an amendment in the Senate assuring that local school boards retain authority to adopt regulations governing the use of discipline by their teachers.

Speaking from the school administrator's point of view, Dr. Martin Zuckerman, superintendent of the Bensenville schools, said, "I'm heartily in favor. Unfortunately, there are a good many people who misunderstand — it's just putting into effect something that's already there."

He said, "There's no intent for encouraging wanton, reckless, thoughtless behavior. We don't encourage or even support teachers using corporal punishment. In fact, you'd be amazed at the rarity of this kind of thing — but it does come up."

To reassure parents, he noted: "Unreasonableness in schools is not acceptable, anymore than it is in parents."

Wants Theatre To Establish Student Price

I am a sophomore at Arlington High School and am wondering why the local theatre in Arlington Heights does not have a student admission charge as does the theatre in Mount Prospect.

In Arlington Heights, we have to pay the same admission as adults, even though we cannot vote, work for pay, or stay out after curfew.

I think that it's time for the students in the Arlington Heights area to organize so that we can effectively protest against this unfair treatment. Each of you who read this letter and agree with me, present the matter to your individual school councils in the fall.

If we will unite and protest as a group, I am sure our local theatre management will realize that it is time for a change.

anymore. He seems to be going out of style like an old-fashioned idea in a streamlined world. And, too, in this day where everybody seems hell-bent on fooling everyone else—phonies out-phoneying phonies, you'll find it tough to keep that faith in yourself.

I HOPE some day you may read this letter and too that I'm still around to read it with you.

This is a glorious life you have before you—the danger lies only in living it.

But then, that's the way it looks today. Who knows, perhaps in the next few years while you're busy being a boy, we, the Dads of this cock-eyed world, just might decide to get out from behind those lawn mowers, turn off the TV sets, put away the bowling balls and get back into the game of life.

And who knows, we might just change a few things that secretly sicken our stomachs. I don't know if anything can be done. But, son, it's about time we gave it a try.

Best wishes on your second birthday,
Dad

Chaperone on Band Excursion Praises Youths

As one of the chaperones to accompany the Wheeling High School Band and Drill Team on their recent trip to the Aquatennial in Minneapolis, Minn., I was given a wonderful opportunity to observe some of today's young people. By their outstanding behavior, their untiring cooperation, their helpfulness toward each other and their enthusiasm, these boys and girls made the entire trip a really great experience for all.

Congratulations to you, their parents, to you their educators and to you, the public, for your community was represented by a truly fine group of young men and women.

To you, members of Wheeling High School Band and Drill Team, the very best of good luck, always.

Newcomer Finds Herald Is Bonus

As a life-long suburbanite accustomed to reading local newspapers devoted exclusively to news of trivia and non-controversial neighborhood gossip, I have been especially amazed and pleased to read the Herald, which is an excellent weekly paper with unusually thorough and perceptive coverage of aignificant news.

I was especially impressed with your recent articles, "The Open Door," which was an exceptionally well-done report and particularly interesting to me as a new resident of Illinois and as a suburbanite. How often does Paddock write such special series?

Discovery of the Herald has been an unexpected bonus to my taking up residence in Arlington Heights. I will look forward to good and stimulating reading in the future.

State Official Praises Series

I have been a little remiss in not commenting on your series "The Open Door" before now. I thought it was excellent. As a matter of fact, the entire series was up to the standard which I have always expected from Charles Hayes and your staff.

I think that your evaluation of the educational training programs is important to us, since you were objective in seeing the values and in noting the deficiences as well.

for your choice for a name for the District 301 Junior College

In an effort to perform a public service, Paddock Publications assumed the responsibility to elicit many suggestions for names for the District 301 Junior College slated to serve the needs of Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palatine and Schaumburg Townships.

Over 100 names were suggested by readers of Paddock Publications.

Paddock Judges have selected what they consider 'The Ten Best' suggestions, and are now asking readers to "Vote" for their choice.

Board of Education is NOT obligated to eventually select the name chosen by Paddock readers. The board's choice will obviously be the ONLY official decision, and it could well be many months before such decision is made.

If the decision of the Board of Education coincides with one of the suggestions made to Paddock Publications in its recent search, the first person making such suggestion will receive $25.00 in Cash from Paddock Publications; plus suitable honors at dedication of the Junior College.

If the decision of the Board of Education does NOT coincide with one of the suggestions made to Paddock Publications in its recent search, then the person first suggesting the name judged "Best" in the "Voting" will receive the $25.00 in cash from Paddock Publications.

Paddock Publications records of receipt of suggestions will determine which person "first" suggested the name involved.

Official Paddock "Ballot" to Name the Junior College

ELKSPAW
This name incorporates the names of four townships to be served by the college — Elk Grove, Schaumburg, Palatine and Wheeling — and also recognizes this area as site of the largest elk herd in the U.S. outside of Yellowstone National Park.

EUCLID
By honoring the educational dignity and inspiration of the great Greek scholar as well as an important tree-lined roadway serving the heart of the junior college district, Euclid represents both the dignity of higher learning and a relationship to the northwest area.

LAFAYETTE
A distinguished French general and statesman who made a triumphant visit to Illinois in 1825, Lafayette was an avid supporter of the American Revolution. He served with distinction under Gen. George Washington and was instrumental in securing aid for America from neutral France.

PADDOCK
One of the most recognizable names in northwest suburbs, this name would honor H. C. Paddock, founder of the newspaper chain which since 1872 has served all townships in the district, and Arlington Park race track, best known landmark in the area whose beautiful paddock area is part of that image.

PIONEER
The spirit of those who first settled here — the pioneers — is kept alive as the area grows and plans for the future.

NATHANIEL POPE
Without the efforts of Pope, the area to be served by the new college would not be located in Illinois. As delegate from the Illinois area, he convinced Congress the proposed boundary be moved from its original point at the southern tip of Lake Michigan northward to include the area now occupied by northwest suburbs.

PRAIRIE
This name pays tribute to Illinois, "The Prairie State," and to the original topography of the area now encompassed by the junior college district.

SALT CREEK
One of the main waterways serving the northwest area, Salt Creek winds from Schaumburg Township through Palatine and Rolling Meadows, then near the proposed college site and down into Elk Grove Village.

SHABBONA
The Shabbona Indians, part of the Potawatomi Tribe which first inhabited this area, were of great service in keeping relations friendly with the early white settlers. Of mixed white and Indian blood, they knew both languages and were invaluable in promoting understanding.

ADLAI STEVENSON
One of Illinois' most distinguished sons and famous suburbanite, Mr. Stevenson as governor was a dedicated supporter of public education and a devoted statesman striving for world peace and understanding in his work as ambassador to the United Nations.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK
Sports Editor

"HE'S AS DEDICATED A BOY as I've ever had. It isn't unreasonable to expect him to make the Olympic team some day. Sure, we'll miss him. Our loss is certainly their gain."

Tom Walthouse, varsity gymnastics coach at Arlington High School, was discussing the loss of Tom Dunn, one of the brightest prospects to ever wear an Arlington uniform.

Dunn, a junior, has competed for Arlington High School for the last time. His father received a promotion and the family is heading to a suburb in Indianapolis, Ind. in late August.

Tom finished third on the state parallel bars as a sophomore and avenged that defeat Sunday with an impressive win over Dick Swetman of Maywood and Proviso East in the Illinois Pentathlon at Oak Brook.

TOM DUNN

"Dunn has as much potential as any boy I've had," Walthouse praised. "He has the persistence, desire. He knows that it takes hard work to excel and he's as determined as they come."

Dunn didn't participate in any gymnastics program in grade school but reported as a freshman at Arlington High and Walthouse immediately spotted the potential in this young man.

"Boys don't understand gymnastics when they come out as freshmen," Walthouse explained, "so we try them in all the events, looking for good all-around men in the process. We usually work with about three or four a year in an all-around capacity. They're the boys with the most ability. Tom showed he had the potential and he had that great desire. It paid off."

Dunn, who also is a highly regarded pole vaulter in track, worked hard as a freshman under coaches Walthouse and Wayne Selvig and won the Hinsdale invitational in the all-around and on the parallel bars. This was a boy to watch.

He didn't disappoint as a sophomore. "He started out with the sopohomore team," Walthouse pointed out, "but a varsity spot opened up on the parallel bars, his specialty, and he beat out some seniors. He kept improving on the parallel bars and also was a third candidate for the varsity all-around."

Dunn finished second in the district all-around event at Barrington, placing behind Prospect's brilliant Pat Kivland. He also followed Kivland on the parallel bars and then prepared for the rugged state competition at Prospect High School.

Dunn flashed an impressive routine on the parallel bars in the state but had to settle for third behind Swetman of Proviso East and Bruce Bolnick of Niles West. Swetman posted a final 181 with three scores in the 90s, and Bolnick had 178. Dunn had a 175.

Tom didn't place in the all-around at the state but "only a slip on the high bar kept him from the top ten," according to Walthouse.

The Arlington athlete continued his work in gymnastics after the regular season. "My dad built a rings standard and bought some rings," he explains, "and he borrowed a side horse. I try to work out about three hours a day during the summer. It's usually about two hours daily during the school year."

Dunn's gymnastics career will not be interrupted by the transfer as the Indiana school recently initiated a gym program on an interscholastic basis.

Tom admits he has a dream of making the 1968 Olympic team, and Arlington's Walthouse feels he has a good chance. "He has the training schedule and if he sticks by it, he has as good a chance as anybody his age. He's on the right road anyway."

Unfortunately, for Walthouse and Arlington High School, that road leads to Indianapolis, Ind. in a few more weeks.

Arlington Posts 2-1 Victory Over Hillside in Title Game

Mark Newman and Rich Hoppe drove in the runs and southpaw Tom Lundgren chalked up his third victory of the tournament Saturday as Arlington Heights toppled Hillside 2-1 for the championship of the Cook County American Legion baseball playoffs in Chicago Heights.

Arlington countered the decisive runs in the seventh inning, and a heavy rain checked the proceedings in the eighth. The umpires waited 30 minutes before calling the game

With the triumph Coach Lloyd Meyer's rugged outfit advanced to the state Legion tournament set for Aug. 5-8 in Carmi, Ill.

ARLINGTON trailed 1-0 heading into its half of the seventh inning Saturday when with one out John Loughman walked. Thad Woodard reached on an error and Newman pushed one through the middle to bring in Loughman with the first run.

Hoppe drove in the winning marker with a hit to right.

Lundgren, the tourney's most valuable player with three mound triumphs, got the first two Hillside hitters in the eighth when the weatherman stepped in.

The Arlington lefty had his problems in the title contest although he fired shutout ball until the seventh. Hillside, a heavy-hitting club that had slapped out 47 hits and scored 37 runs in four previous tourney games, had men on in four of the first six innings but couldn't score until a walk, two singles, and two stolen bases brought in the game's first run.

LUNDGREN fanned eight in the seven innings to bring his total to 30 in 18 1/3 innings of tournament pitching. He nailed 20 in a 4-0 opening win over Jackson Park and struck out two in a brief relief stint against Northbrook.

Arlington put two men on in the opening frame when Newman walked and stole second and Hoppe drew a free pass, but Jerry Fink popped to short.

In the third Lundgren and Woodard walked but a fielder's choice and pop killed off this threat. Mike Frase and Howie Winkelhake walked in the fourth

Arlington Blows 5-0 Lead, Battles Back

The pitching machinery suffered a breakdown but the bats were functioning properly Thursday as Arlington Heights roared past Northbrook, 11-7, in the fifth game of the Cook County American Legion baseball finals in Chicago Heights.

Coach Lloyd Meyer utilized his top three pitchers over nine innings in an effort to check the battling Northbrook nine and couldn't relax until Rich Hoppe fielded a sharp grounded for the third out in the final frame.

Paul Splittorff started on the hill and couldn't hold a 5-0 advantage. Tom Lundgren came on and yielded a walk and booming triple before settling down to pitch two scoreless innings, and Johnny Friedl finished up.

The victory was Arlington's second straight in the Cook County playoffs and 27th this summer in 30 outings.

NINE DIFFERENT boys collected base hits as Heights worked over four Northbrook pitchers, driving starter Scott Krause from the mound in the third inning.

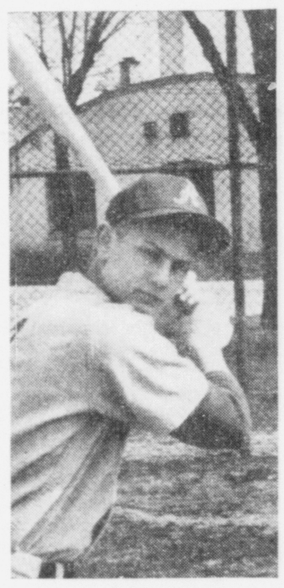
Howie Winkelhake and Jerry Fink delivered the big blows for the winners. Winkelhake ripped a double to left-center that brought in two markers in the third inning, and Fink had the game's longest smash with a 345-foot triple off the right field screen for two runs in the fifth.

This one looked like it was going to be easy as Arlington jumped off to a 5-0 lead after three innings, but Splittorff, the big left-hander, couldn't hold the cushion despite an impressive start.

ARLINGTON SCORED one in the first on a triple to deep center field by John Loughman and sacrifice fly by Thad Woodard and added two more in the second on a line single to right by Mark Frase, walk, single by Splittorff, and a wild pitch.

Winkelhake's shot to left-center brought in Mark and Mike Frase with the fourth and fifth runs in the third. The brothers had reached on successive walks.

Splittorff took this 5-0 lead into the fourth inning and looked sharp over the first three stanzas. He struck out five in a row after yielding a leadoff triple to Kip Bromsted in the first, but disaster struck when he lost the first two hitters in the fourth on walks despite jumping out ahead with 0-and-2 counts.



JERRY FINK
Booming Triple

TWO SINGLES, two walks, and a triple later Northbrook had six runs and a 6-5 lead. Lundgren came in for Splittorff with runners on second and third and two outs, walked Don Piggott on four pitches, and yielded a triple to left-center to Frank Battaglia that cleared the bases. He got out of the jam when Battaglia was nailed at the plate trying to stretch the triple into a home run.

Northbrook nursed this 6-5 lead until the sixth inning when Arlington pushed over four runs on only two hits.

Friedl, the third Arlington pitcher, lined a single to left to kick things off and Loughman walked. Woodard attempted to bunt the runners along, but Friedl was caught at third base.

MARK NEWMAN tapped to the pitcher, but Hoppe reached and a run scored when Northbrook shortstop Bromsted threw wide to first on an easy infield grounder. Hoppe stole second and then Fink drove a Bob Uhe

Arlington to Battle Carmi

Five Teams in Finals; Crown Champion Sunday

by BOB FRISK

Carmi, Ill., a town of 7,000 people located 40 miles west of Evansville, Ind., becomes the American Legion baseball capital of Illinois today (Thursday).

Five crack Legion outfits will assemble at Eckerle Park for the double elimination tournament which will determine the state champion of Legion baseball for 1965.

To the winner at Carmi goes a berth in the regional finals at East Chicago, Ind. The regional titlist earns a spot in the National Legion playoffs in Aberdeen, S.D., Aug. 31 thru Sept. 6.

LLOYD MEYER

THREE GAMES are set for opening day in the Illinois headliner with Coach Lloyd Meyer's Arlington Heights nine, champion of the Cook County playoffs in Chicago Heights, and host Carmi (29-8) tangling at 1:30 p.m. in the meet lidlifter.

Rockford and Galesburg will square off at 5 p.m. and Nokomis will meet the winner of the Arlington-Carmi bout at 8 p.m. to round out the opening card.

The tournament is scheduled to run through Sunday afternoon. It takes two losses to eliminate a team.

EACH OF THE five tourney entries survived playoff action last week to earn a trip to the state action.

Arlington whipped Hillside for the championship of Cook County, and Rockford ousted Elmhurst. Galesburg knocked off touted Murphysboro, and Nokomis dumped Bradley.

Meyer's Arlington team, a 28-3 club for the season with nine straight victories, is in a difficult position in the pairings and could be forced to play five or six games in four days to annex the championship.

There are numerous situations which could arise in a double elimination tourney.

IF ARLINGTON wins the opener, it will play Nokomis at 8 p.m. Thursday. If they lose the first game they will play the loser of the Rockford-Galesburg contest at 5 p.m. Friday.

If Arlington wins against Carmi and Nokomis today (Thursday), it will play the Rockford-Galesburg winner at 8 p.m. Friday. If the locals whip Carmi but fail to Nokomis they will play again at 5 p.m. Saturday.

The championship game is set for 1 p.m. Sunday although a second game, if necessary, would be played at 5 p.m. (See insert for complete lineup of state tourney.)

MEYER WILL open with ace southpaw Tom Lundgren against Carmi and will follow with Paul Splittorff in the second game. John Friedl, Mark Newman, and John Loughman are also available for hill duty.

Lundgren will carry a 12-1 record into the state finals. Splittorff is 7-1, Friedl 5-0, Newman 2-0, and Loughman 2-1. Newman is the club's leading hitter with a healthy .373 mark in 83 at bats.

White Pines: Site of Paddock Golf Tourney

Layout Examined For Meet Entries

(G. A. McElroy, superintendent of Palatine High School District 211, annually presents a hole-by-hole description of the site of Paddock Publications' Inter-League Handicap golf tournaments. This week he examines White Pines Golf Club in Bensenville, site of the 1965 tourney. An avid — and very capable — golfer himself, McElroy conducted a sports column called "Mac Says" for 30 years in Paddock's chain of suburban newspapers.)

by G. A. McELROY

The Paddock Publications golf tournament for the top teams of the many twilight leagues in the circulation area is scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 15, at the south course of the White Pines Golf Club in Bensenville. Tee off time is 10 a.m.

We played the course last Friday afternoon and have prepared a hole-by-hole description for the benefit of the tournament entries. The course is in better shape than most daily fee layouts. The greens are excellent and the fairways have good turf although a bit of the grass was dry. The heavy rain of the past weekend should have improved conditions considerably.

Players will find a thick fringe of grass around the greens which will stop shots rolling off the green. The course has little trouble except for a few trees bordering the fairways and traps at the greens. Otherwise, the course is rather flat and some good scores can be expected.

White Pines is a popular site for tournaments due to the fact that 36 holes are available for play and the club house has ample facilities to handle any number of players.

The Chick Evans amateur tournament was in its final day when we played the course and the tees were set back and the pins were near the rear of the greens to make for the maximum distance from tee to cup.

The course is a par 70 with a 34 first nine and 36 back nine. Total yardage is 6,304. We rated hole number eight on the first nine and number 14 on the back nine as the best holes on the course.

HOLE 1 PAR 4 — 426 yards: This is a long par 4 but the fairway is wide and flat and straightaway to a large green. The only trouble is a trap on the right at about 185 yards.

HOLE 2—Par 4—449 yards: This is one of the better holes in the course with a slight dog leg to the left. A thick clump of trees jut out into the fairway on the left at about 225 yards. A pond lies behind the trees. The green is small, elevated, and well trapped. It will take long hitting to par this hole.

HOLE 3—Par 4—359 yards: Trees and rough force a drive to the left of the fairway on this hole which is a slight dog leg. A big bunker is a hazard about 20 yards in front of the green on the right side. The green is large and sloping.

HOLE 4—Par 4—393 yards: A tree lined fairway has a bunker on the right at 175 yards and another just short of the green on the same side. Trees make a tight fairway particularly on the left side. There is a narrow opening for a pitch and run approach.

HOLE 5—Par 4—275 yards: This is one of the easiest holes on the course but the fairway is very narrow and there is trouble around the green which is very rolling and can be troublesome. Overshooting can lead to trouble.

HOLE 6 — Par 4 — 352 yards: A fence and bushes close on the right are a hazard to those who slice, presenting an out of bounds possibility. The green is small and slopes to the center from all sides except the front which has a narrow opening.

HOLE 7—Par 3—130 yards: This is a comparatively easy par 3. the green is large but has a hump extending to the center from the right side. The placing of the tee shot is important. The creek in front of the tee is dry and not much of a hazard.

HOLE 8—Par 3—216 Yards: A creek winds along the left side of the fairway which slopes left until just short of the green which has a big shallow trap on the right. The hole seems shorter than 216 yards. Better hit too long than too short. The green is very large and level. This is a real sporty hole.

HOLE 9—Par 4—405 yards: A slight dog leg to the right with trees jutting out on the right side. Fairway is flat but last 50 yards is upgrade to a large flat green.

HOLE 10 — Par 4 — 358 yards: There are bunkers on both sides of the fairway at 180 to 220 yards. There are trees on the left side of a flat fairway. The green has a hump on the right center. One of the less difficult par 4 holes.

HOLE 11 — Par 3 — 220 yards: A long par 3 but the fairway is slightly downhill and does not play this long due to the ground being hard. The green is well trapped and not as large as the average. A long iron or a 4 wood will reach the green.

HOLE 12 — Par 4 — 357 yards: A real open fairway free from trees except a small clump on the left at 200 yards. A dry creek bed crossing 20 yards in front of the green will catch a low shot and the long grass will cause trouble.

HOLE 13 — Par 4 — 422 yards: A dry creek crosses the fairway at 140 yards and there is a tight out of bounds fence and bushes on the right. The tee is elevated and the drive is to a hill beyond the creek. From the hill the fairway slopes slightly to a high elevated green. The green is narrow and the opening for a pitch and roll calls for accurate shooting.

HOLE 14 — Par 5 — 555 yards: This is the toughest hole on the course. An out of bounds on the right prevents attempts to cut the fence corner which juts out into the fairway. It takes a good 200 yard drive to pass the fence corner and then angle right uphill toward a green which cannot be seen for the second shot. Two large bunkers leave a 30 yard opening in the fairway about 125 yards from the green. The green is narrow and sloping and somewhat cupped.

HOLE 15 — Par 4 — 446 yards: This is a long par 4 with a tight fairway for the first 200 yards with an out of bounds fence on the right and a row of trees on the left. Thereafter the fairway is open and flat and the green sloping back from the front is spaciously large.

HOLE 16 — Par 4 — 328 yards: This is an easy par 4.

Entry Deadline

Golf league secretaries should mail or deliver their entries by Saturday, Aug. 7, to Tournament Manager, Paddock Publications, Inc., 217 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights.

White Pines Course

A good drive over the bunkers on the left side can make it a short hole for the rough is short and dry. The green is small and well trapped. There are humps at both sides of the green to narrow the approaching area.

HOLE 17 — Par 3 — 160 yards: This is longer than it looks. A good sized pond is a real hazard but a good high lofting shot finds a big green with traps on both sides and trees at the rear.

HOLE 18 — Par 5 — 452 yards: This is a dog leg to the left. Trees line the left side of the fairway for 200 yards to the break of the dog leg. A dry creek crosses about 20 yards in front of a large sloping green. There is trouble behind the green and traps on the sides. Should be an easy par 5 if you start with a good drive. Like all the greens this one has a fine putting surface.

Falcon Nine Routs Maine

Maine East pitchers gave Forest View High School another easy round of batting practice last Friday in the summer prep division.

Two weeks ago the Falcons clobbered Maine East 11-1 with a 10-hit attack in five innings.

Last week Coach Hal Sprehe's outfit, now 5-9 for the season, belted Maine 13-2 with 11 runs in the third inning.

Van Ostermick started on the mound for Forest View against Maine and worked the first inning. Pat Dunnigan and Marty Fontana finished up with Dunnigan the winner.

FOREST VIEW started out on the mild side with two runs in the first. A walk, singles by Jeff Jacoby, Bob Artemenko, and Dan Smith, and an error brought in the two markers.

Then came the interesting and profitable third. Smith walked with one out to ignite the fireworks.

Bill King was safe on an error and Bob Erlander singled to drive in one run. Dennis Lynch was hit by a pitch and Jim Meier singled home another marker.

A single by Dunnigan and error brought in still another run, but the assault continued. Bill Ford singled, Jacoby and Artemenko walked to load the bases, and King singled in a pair. Another error, walk, and Meier's one-base knock brought in the final runs.

Meier paced the winners with three straight hits.

Score by innings:

Maine E.	000 20— 2- 1-4
Frst. Vw.	20(11) 0*—13-10-2

EARLIER IN the week Niles North had posted a 7-2 vistory over Forest View, scoring two of its runs in the first and four in the seventh.

King started for Sprehe's outfit and worked until the seventh when Dunnigan came in with two men on. Pat walked the first hitter and then yielded a triple and sacrifice fly.

Forest View scored its two runs in the sixth on two walks and a triple to right-center by Mike Holstrom.

Artemenko had a double and Jacoby a single for the other Falcon hits.

Rolling Meadows Crowns Champions

They have their champions in Rolling Meadows.

The Indians, Cardinals, Sox, and Braves rolled to league titles last week as the curtain came down on the Rolling Meadows Boys Baseball Association program.

The Indians captured the Pony League crown, taking both rounds to eliminate any need for a World Series.

In a playoff for the second half title the Indians nipped the Dodgers 4-2 with Pat Corrado firing a four-hitter, striking out 10 and not yielding any walks in five innings.

Wes Davidson cracked a home run in the fourth inning with one man on.

In a second round game the Indians stopped the Giants 4-1 as Brian Rooney fashioned a one-hitter and fanned 13. Brian with two triples.

The Cardinals captured the Major League crown by whipping the Tigers in a best-of-three Series. Bill Madden was the winner Monday in a 9-7 decision.

In the first game of the Minor League Division World Series the American League Sox pulled out a victory with Bob Youman flipping a neat two-hitter. Bill Ventura slapped a home run with one man on to run his hitting streak to 10 games.

The Sox won the league pennant with a 12-3 victory over the Senators. Ventura drove in three runs and scored twice for the winners.

Steve Coppoletta pitched a one - hitter as the Yankees dumped the Indians 9-6 to prevent a playoff between the Sox and Indians.

In the National Minor League the Braves whipped the National Sox 9-7. Bill O'Donnell weathered a late storm and got the victory.

The Jets of the Instructional League closed out their season by completing a triple play. Steve Bowen, Dan Jacobson, and Don Smalley figured in the defensive gem. Jim Waswo slapped a grand slam homer Fink scored the fourth run on a passed ball.

Arlington added two more runs in the seventh on a broken bat single by Mike Frase, three walks, an error, and sacrifice fly by Newman.

AFTER ITS six-run explosion Northbrook was silent until the ninth when a single and double brought in the seventh run.

The fielding play of the game came in the seventh inning. Northbrook's Pigott had lined a double over third leading off and with one out Battaglia smashed a liner between first and second that looked like a sure hit.

Mike Frase made a leaping catch to his left at second base and flipped to Winkelhake to double up Piggott.

Lundgren got the win in relief, his second straight victory in the Cook County meet. He had blanked Jackson Park, 4-0, in the opener.

but once again Arlington failed to score.

IT BECAME more frustrating in the fifth when two errors and a single failed to blossom into a run, but Heights finally broke the ice in the decisive seventh.

The victory over Hillside was Arlington's ninth straight of the season and 28th in 31 contests. Meyer's powerhouse knocked off Jackson Park 4-0 and Northbrook 11-7 before catching Hillside Saturday.

Arlington Heights in State Legion Finals

Arlington sports four regulars above the .300 mark. Newman is on top but Rich Hoppe, who drove in the winning run in the Cook County finale, stands at .359 for 78 trips to the plate. Thad Woodard is hitting at a .326 clip, and John Loughman shows a .322 mark.

LOUGHMAN IS in a unique position. He is the only player in Illinois to participate in both the high school and Legion state tournaments in 1965. John earned all-tourney honors as a center fielder on the St. Viator nine that landed a runnerup slot in the prep finals last June.

Arlington Heights is making its first appearance in a state Legion tournament. Meyer, who is in his tenth year as head man, has guided the Legion entry to 53 wins in 60 games in the past two campaigns.

The 1965 team reeled off 15 straight victories before falling, dropped three decisions in its next seven outings, then roared into the state finals with nine straight wins, including a trio of come-from-behind cliff-hangers in Ninth District activity.

Meyer has been working with an infield of Jerry Fink at first, Mike Frase at second, Howie Winkelhake at short, and Hoppe at third. Mark Frase is behind the plate. Newman, Loughman, and Woodard man the starting outfield slots.

Luebcke Bows On Playoff Hole

Warren Luebcke of Mount Prospect lost in a playoff last week after tying John Mulliken of Champaign over the regulation 54 holes of the Chicago District Golf Association's Junior Open championship at Riverwoods Country Club.

Luebcke and Mulliken each fired 218 totals for the 54 holes, but the Champaign youngster dropped in a 24-foot, downhill birdie putt on the first extra hole in the sudden-death playoff.

Luebcke, a former links standout at Prospect High School, had missed by four inches dropping a 35-footer just before Mulliken decided the match.

Mulliken reached the playoff with a strong rally after an opening 76. His second round of 69 moved him into a tie for second with Luebcke. Each player had 73 on the third 18.

Rick Naughton of Crystal Lake slipped to 219 for third place after leading the first two days. Tied for fourth at 221 were Dave Lind of Glen Ellyn and John Mattson Jr. of River Forest.

Norm Milner Jr., another Prospect High School grad, fired a 222 for a tie for sixth.

Sportsman's Notebook

by KEN KNOX
Outdoor Editor
CLearbrook 3-1520

THE MAIL brings many things, some solicited, some unwanted, some unexpected, some astounding.

A conspicuous illustration of the last category — astounding — lighted on my desk recently in the form of a flyer from a major record distributing firm.

The flyer heralded the company's latest foray into diversification, the effort to peddle a certain form of miniature portable television. With that mode of their business I will not quibble, as I am as resigned as almost anyone else to receiving obtrusive solicitations in the mail.

But I must quibble — emphatically — with a portion of the message therein.

I can endure it silently when the merchandisers propose you take the tiny video gem to the beach, or play it at parties, or sleep with it, or install it in the workshop or kitchen.

BUT I MUST bristle my hackles in protest at one imaginative suggestion: "Whenever you go camping, hunting or out on a picnic," the peddlers note cheerily, "you'll find the hours pass all too swiftly with your TV companion."

Astounding, I say

Any person who has ever derived a dash of enjoyment or enchantment from the world of the outdoors — be it by pitching a tent amid pine boughs, casting a fish line into a bass den, swinging sight on a ringneck bursting from cover, or hiking untroubled through a leafy grove — must find that an incredible intrusion by the pitchmen into the unspoiled offerings of nature.

"Stop," I feel I must cry to the merchandisers. "Keep away with your machines. Have you no conception of why people practice the outdoor life, of what they seek and what they want to escape?"

BUT PERHAPS I am too harsh. Perhaps I should not slap at the hands that thrust the little picture devices at those preparing to go camping, hunting or fishing.

The idea could, of course, revolutionize the outdoor life.

Campers would break from work at mid-day on Friday, speed home to gather up friends or families, and then hurtle to their chosen camping sites and erect their canvas in time to catch the week's third installment of "Peyton Place."

Duck and goose hunters could find it a boon. Crouched in their blinds, they could await the honk or quack of their quarry while not missing a moment of a sunrise movie or college classroom program.

UPLAND GAME BIRD hunters might find some difficulty catching the afternoon football game while trying to flush and bag quail or pheasant. But they could, perhaps, have TV-bearers tote the screen on patrol through the fields. Or they could invent ingenious devices to dangle the set in front of the hunter, devices that could easily be adapted to trout fishermen.

What better way to wait out a whitetail or stalk a squirrel than to prop yourself on a felled tree and gaze at your portable nestled cozily on the stump?

The potential seems immeasurable, and we haven't even touched on the possibilities for white hunters, deep-sea fishermen, bow-and-arrow enthusiasts and Boy Scouts.

So perhaps I am too harsh. Perhaps I falsely suggest that the merchandisers are trammeling the traditions of the outdoors. But I for one — when I'm on an outing — would rather curse the darkness than illuminate it with a television set.

In our references last week to area men who landed prize-winning fish in the Hayward, Wis., area, the name of Don Divito, 320 S. Wego Trail, Mount Prospect, was somehow omitted. Divito got in the running for one of 40 trophies by landing a 19 pound, 12 ounce muskie on Lake Couderay.

Reports on mid-summer fishing in this region continue to show it as spotty at best. But there has apparently been a lot of continuing action in the Chain-O-Lakes region, with fishermen pulling in a lot of striped bass, crappies, and assorted panfish. Some northerns, walleyes, largemouths and smallmouths are being landed. So the Chain continues to be the best bet when other favored lakes and rivers go through a slack season.

TRAPSHOOTERS IN search of an outlet might make note of August 15 and a trip up to Antioch. There'll be what the Northern Illinois Conservation Club calls a Chicken Shoot on that day, starting at 9 a.m. Young chickens, hams and merchandise from local merchants will be given as prizes, with the club ready to handle up to 200 five-man squads. It's all to help swell the fund for a five-year old Antioch lad grievously burned in a fire. The NICC trap grounds are three miles west of Antioch on Route 173, and all shooters are invited.

Furniture Squad In Paddock Meet

Arlington Furniture clinched a berth in the Paddock golf tournament by picking up six points in the Friday night league at Arlington Country Club.

The leaders now show an eight-point advantage over Webber Paints and Wheeling Lumber.

O'Connell sparked the Furniture team to six points with Kelliher, LeStarge, and Mingus contributing big efforts in the win.

Cashmore and Erven had the only birdies in the Friday night division.

Friday was the low net night for each team position. Number one man was Accunas with a net 33. Others were Kelliher and Jauman with 36 for No. 2, Kornenevich with 33 for No. 3, Krebs and Knapski with 33 for No. 4, and O'Connor with 36 for No. 5.

The standings:

Boys will be judged on hitting and throwing and on base running. Each event is scored separately and there will be a breakdown in age divisions.

Baseball gloves, bats, and trophies will be awarded to the winners with the regional finals scheduled for Wrigley Field or Comiskey Park.

Northwest Suburban area boys may register between now and Wednesday, Aug. 11, at Mark Motors. They should be accompanied by a parent. At the registration each boy will receive an entrance pass which will indicate the time and date of the competition.

Boys unable to register at Mark Motors may still sign up the day of the actual events at Pioneer Park.

The baseball contest is patterned after the Punt, Pass, and Kick football competition which has proved so successful. It is hoped that similar interest in the baseball arrangement will result in it becoming an annual event.

Braves Top Elk Grove's Major League

The Braves scored five runs in the first inning and that proved to be enough Sunday at Lions Park in the Major League championship game of the Elk Grove Village Little League.

A four-run outburst by the Indians in the final inning wasn't enough as the Braves walked off with a 6-4 victory and the biggest prize in Major League activity.

Scott Pruitt picked up the pitching victory for the champs who also had won the first game of the best-of-three World Series.

The Braves scored five runs in the first on walks to Randy Cox and Sean Hanney, singles by Mike Cavanagh and Scott Pruitt, an error, single by Bryan Hanney, another error, and a walk.

Mike Cavanagh singled in the second and scored on two ground outs and a passed ball.

The Indians scored four runs in the sixth on a single by John DiGiovanni, double by Larry Nelson, walk to Lafayette, three-run triple by Hildebrand and infield out.

Score by innings:

Braves	510 000 6 8
Indians	000 004 4 7

IN THE OPENING game of the Series the Braves came from behind to pull out a 7-6 victory.

The Indians had a 6-1 victory after four frames, but the Braves scored five times in the fifth and once in the sixth.

In the five-run frame the base hits were contributed by Randy Cox (single), Bill Meisenheimer (double), Rick Pankow (single), and Thad Lowry (home run).

The Braves scored the winning run in the sixth on a single by Cavanagh and double by Pruitt.

Sean Hanney picked up the win and struck out 11. Willard Henry was the loser.

Score by innings:

Braves	010 051 7 9

The Braves had tied the score with a single run in the second, two in the fifth, and another singleton in the sixth. Lowry stole home for the tieing run.

JUST DOGS

By Dave Terrill

Tuesday evening your editor and his wife attended a dinner at the Palmer House where they had the pleasure of seeing "Patches," a combination of collie and malemute, awarded the 12th annual Ken-L Ration gold medal, emblematic of "America's Dog Hero of the Year."

Your editor was indeed honored by being asked to act as one of the three judges to make the final selection for this year's award. One thing of interest was that each of the judges made his final choice independently of the other two judges. The result was that it was a unanimous decision in favor of "Patches."

The story begins last Dec. 17, at Lake Spanaway, just south of Tacoma, Wash. Patches' owner, Marvin Scott, owner of a furniture store, returned home from work about 10 p.m. With the temperature around zero, Scott informed his wife that he was going down to a small pier below their lake home to check on possible ice damage to a boat moored there. Patches tagged along, for which Scott would be ever thankful.

Noting that a film of ice was beginning to form near the stern of the boat, Scott attempted to push on the stern line with a piece of timber. When he did so he slipped on ice that was forming on the pier and fell, hitting a floating dock causing him to tear all the tendons and muscles in both legs, and he rolled off into the icy, 15-foot deep water and went under.

Sundenly, while still below the surface, he felt something grasp him by the hair. It was Patches who pulled the dazed and shivering man to the surface, then towed him nearly 20 feet to where he could seize the edge of the dock. Aware that the dog was now nearly drowning, and almost exhausted, Scott managed to push him onto the dock. Bu this time, however, his legs immobile and useless, Scott could not make it up onto the dock himself and he fell back into the water.

Again Patches leaped into the water and pulled his owner up to the dock, where Scott got the dog up onto the boards and then hung on calling for help. Because of the high winds, his wife could not hear him. The dog seemed to sense this, so he started to tug and pull on Scott's collar. With the the dog's help, he made it onto the pier and then with the dog tenaciously tugging and pulling for all he was worth, the two made it up a 300-foot slope to a point near the back door. Scott was able to throw a stone against the door to alert his wife.

Taken to Tacoma General Hospital, Scott hovered between life and death for 25 days, with pneumonia a constant threat in addition to the massive operations required on both of his legs. It was June 14 of this year before he was able to return to work.

So goes the story of this incredible dog, a mixed breed, and only the second to have ever won this outstanding award. With the gold medal went a gold plaque, a custom-made dog blanket, a $1,000 U. S. bond, a gold-plated leash and collar and a year's supply of dog food. Patches and his "family" spent three days in Chicago, where he indeed was placed with honor at the banquet in the State Ballroom of the Palmer House Tuesday evening.

Johannesen, Dunn Take Gym Titles

Jim Johannesen and Tom Dunn of Arlington captured individual titles Sunday in the 16-to-18 year old division of the Illinois summer pentathlon gymnastics meet in Oak Brook.

Thirty girls and sixty-three boys participated in the two-day event with medals awarded to the top three individuals in each event.

Johannesen, who will be a senior at Arlington High School, topped the free exercise competition and placed second in the all-around behind Dick Swetman of Maywood, state champ from Proviso East High School.

Johannesen also placed third on the high bar and still rings and fourth on the long horse and parallel bars.

Dunn, who is moving after spending two years at Arlington High, won the parallel bars and avenged a loss to Swetman in the state finals. Tom was third in the state meet as a sophomore.

Larry Johannesen gained a third on the still rings for the other medal-winning effort by an Arlington entry.

The awards will be presented Sunday afternoon, Aug. 8, at a special ceremony presided over by Governor Otto Kerner on the International Polo Field in Oak Brook.

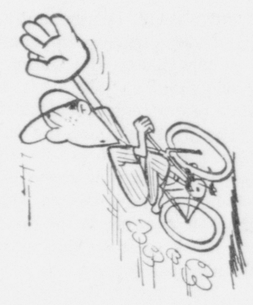
Dodgers, Generals, Lions Cop Titles in Arlington's Program



They wrote the final chapter last week for another exciting summer of activity in the extensive Arlington Heights Boys Baseball program.

It's all over but the shouting and folks can start thinking about vacations again.

Football is just around the corner.

Most of the shouting last week was done by the Lions of the Senior League, the Generals of the Varsity I division, and the Dodgers of the National League.

The Lions grabbed the Senior League crown with two straight victories over the Indians in a best-of-three series. The Generals edged the Wildcats in the replay of a tie game for the Varsity flag, and the Dodgers took the Yankees two games to one in the Little World Series.

BOB HECHT worked on the hill and allowed only three hits as the Lions tripped the Indians, 6-3, for the Senior League crown. The Lions had won the first playoff game, 9-6.

Hecht drive out a double and Dave Howard added a triple as the Lions scored a single run in the second, two in the fourth, and three in the fifth.

Steve Shawhan was the losing pitcher.

Score by innings:

Lions	010 230—6-9-0
Indians	000 120—3-3-1

THE WILDCATS and Generals had battled to an 8-8 tie on Monday, July 26, and had to replay the game Thursday, July 29.

In the makeup the Generals scored the two decisive runs in the final inning as Joe Schmidt hit a towering home run to center field. Rick Kowall was the winning pitcher and John MacDonald was tagged with the loss.

The Wildcats opened the scoring in the fifth inning on a double by Bob Bebber and successive hits by Rich Ring, Larry Geyer, and Rick Roeing.

The Generals pecked away with single runs in the fifth and sixth and left the bases loaded in the sixth.

Score by innings:

Wildcats	000 030 0—3-8
Generals	00 011 2—4-8

IN THE EARLIER game the Wildcats had two four-run innings. The Generals scored four times in the first, once in the third, and three times in the seventh.

The Wildcats put together three singles and a bases loaded error to collect four runs in the first. The Generals bounced right back to tie the count on three hits, including a double by Schmidt and a triple by Frank Bianca.

Dennis Foreman and Bill Whitehead delivered clutch singles to drive in runs for the Wildcats. John McDonald smashed a triple.

In a wild finish the Generals squared the count at 8-all with a three-run flurry in the seventh. Ed Becker and Joe Schmidt got on base and with two outs Bianca cracked a three-run homer.

Score by innings:

Wildcats	400 040 0—8-11
Generals	401 000 3—8-10

IN MAJOR League play the Dodgers tripped the Colts 5-2 in a playoff game for the National League crown and then took the Yankees two-out-of-three in the Little World Series.

Gene Elsberg was the winner against the Colts, striking out 14 and allowing only three hits over six innings. Jim Bokelmann was tagged with the loss although he fanned 12 and allowed only five safeties.

Dave Kurrasch cracked a home run for the Colts and Ken Koster delivered one for the Dodgers.

Score by innings:

Dodgers	010 202 — 5
Colts	100 100 — 2

IN THE FIRST game of the City Championship last Wednesday, July 28, the Yankees scored an impressive 1-0 vistory, scoring the decisive run in the final frame.

Ken Koster worked the first six innings for the Dodgers and didn't allow a hit. Elsberg, coming back after one day's rest, was tagged with the loss.

John Brodnan toiled for the Yanks during the first six stanazas and allowed only three hits. Chuck Dillon picked up the victory relief.

Score by innings:

Yankees	000 000 1—1
Dodgers	000 000 0—0

IN THE SECOND playoff game the Dodgers scored a 7-6 victory, coming from behind with single runs in the sixth and seventh.

Steve Kuebler was the winning pitcher and Terry Ormsbee the loser.

Bruce Frase of the Dodgers and Bryan Hogan of the Yankees had home runs. Steve Kuebler and John Brodnan delivered triples.

Score by innings:

Dodgers	140 001 1—7
Yankees	212 010 0—6

IN THE THIRD and final game the Dodgers scored eight runs in the first two innings and were never headed. Gene Elsberg got the win with Chuck Dillon tagged with the setback.

Koster and Don Lewis ripped home runs for the champion Dodgers.

Bob Augustine's 279 Tops Evans Tourney

Young and impressive Bob Augustine led a field of 175 golfers at White Pines Golf Club last week, touring the course four times in a total of 279 strokes to claim the title in the 10th annual Chick Evans Amateus Golf Tournament.

Augustine, who represented White Pines in the event, clipped hard-charging defending champion Joe McDermott of Palos by three strokes, and was only five shots off McDermott's Chick Evans record of 274.

The key to Augustine's victory was consistency and putting. A short hitter, he blended good iron work with sharp play on the greens to combine rounds of 68, 71, 70 and 70.

McDERMOTT, WHO started with 69, 75 and 73, roared back with a 65 on the final round to finish at 282. That was two strokes better than Al McLean of Wilmette, three better than Norando Nannini of Tucson, and four better than Wayne Etherton of St. Andrews.

Etherton and Nannini both played in the threesome with Augustine during the final round, and Etherton—in second three strokes back after three rounds—had the best chance at him.

But Augustine left both behind by parring the first two holes, while they bogeyed both.

AUGUSTINE then ran into trouble of his own. He three-putted the third hole and missed the green for a bogey on the fifth. He had a 36 going out.

But starting on No. 7 and continuing through No. 17, he asserted his right to the title. He parred every hole in that stretch, two-putting all but one. And on No. 18, the 18-year-old closed with a flourish by sinking a chip shot from 17 feet for an eagle.

The drive by McDermott, who seemingly had put himself out of it with his second and third rounds, was the best show of the tourney. He knocked in six birdies in his five-under-par 65, but didn't have quite enough.

Augustine, currently a student and golfer at Illinois State University, ascribed his victory over much older and stronger opponents to practice, a lot of tourney play, and putting. His green work was so good that during his last round—with four putts ranging from 30 to 70 feet—he brought each one to less than 10 inches of the cup.

ASIDE FROM Augustine, the best show made by a Paddock area golfer was the seventh place finish of David Altergott of Arlington Heights, who strung together a 73-70-72-74—289.

Among the golfers not in the championship flight, Terry Carlson of Woodstock won the first flight with a 297, and Dan Smigas, unattached, took second flight honors with a 308.

Standard Team Captures First In Hoffman Golf

H. E. Standard Service has moved to the top of the Hoffman Men's Golf League standings, supplanting Snyder's Hoffman Drugs, a team that itself had enjoyed a spectacular charge to first.

H. E. Standard did it by picking up 12½ points while Snyder's was collecting only five. The rest of the positions in the league remained the same, though Roselle Color Center and Golf-Rose Barber Shop became knotted with 139 points each.

Low team net for the evening was achieved by Plaza Shell Service, as the last-placers came in with an aggregate 185. Jack Reedy had low individual net honors with 32, and Harry Grover had low gross, 38.

The Standings:

H. E. Standard Service	144½
Snyder's Hoff. Drugs	140½

Sommerville Hits Gross 39, Net 28

The race for top honors in the second half play in the YMCA twilight golf league has hit a torrid pace.

Three teams are vitrually deadlocked for the number one slot and the rest of the league isn't that far behind.

Ladendorf Oldsmobile is on top with 19 markers, but Eidamiller Realty and Novak and Parker are only one-half point behind.

Dave Sommerville of Kunkel Realty had a re-hot night last week as he came in with a sizzling 39 which coupled with his 11 handicap gave him a net 28.

Just one stroke higher than Sommerville was Frank Musgrave, also of Kunkel Realty, who was banging in sensational putts all over the course. On number seven a startling deuce was the result of stroling in a 45-footer from the top level of the green to the lower level.

Low gross honors for the event went to Dick Dixon of Ladendorf Olds and Harry Brodski of River Rand Barber Shop with 38s. Ed Then of Ladendorf and Sommerville had 39s.

In the birdie corner were Sommerville, Brodski, Dick Tank, Warren Darling, and "Ace" Musgrave. "Ace" had a pair on the first and thirteenth holes.

The standings:

Ladendorf Olds	19
Eidamiller Realty	18½
Novak & Parker	18½
Conn Shell	16½
Louie's Barbershop	15
Mt. Prospect State Bank	14
River Rand Barbershop	13½
Kunkel Realty	13
Allen's Men's Store	11½

Lions Split In Contests With Dundee

Rain and a forfeit cut into what was expected to be another busy week for the Lions' baseball team of Arlington Heights, but Coach Larry Nomellini's outfit still played two games and emerged with a split.

The Lions trimmed Dundee Thursday in a non-conference game, 5-4 but lost a 5-2 decision to this same Dundee entry Monday evening on the St. Viator High School diamond.

The locals did pick up one Winnemac Park League victory when the Rams were forced to forfeit. A scheduled doubleheader with the Trojans was postponed Saturday because of rain, rescheduled for Sunday, and then postponed again as the weatherman continued to be uncooperative.

JERRY DONOHUE, Tom Collins, and Tom McDonald each worked two innings as the Lions stopped Dundee, 5-4. Collins got the victory.

The winners scored their first run in the opening inning on a doubled by Donohue, walk to Tom Epperly, and single by Tom Collins and added three in the second with two outs.

McDonald singled, Don Kulla walked, and singles by Dan Collins, Donohue, and Epperly brought in the three runs. An error also figured in the outburst.

The Lions added a single run in the fourth that settled the issue. Epperly reached on a two-base error and Tom Collins drove him home with a single.

Score by innings:

Lions	130 100 5 7
Dundee	004 000 4 5

MARK WALINSKI went the distance Monday for the Lions in the 5-2 setback. Dundee pounded out nine hits over the seven frames.

The losers scored their only two runs in the sixth inning on a single by Kulla, error, single by Tom Collins, two wild pitches, and a walk.

Kulla's soft fly to right in the sixth was the first Lion safety.

The Lions now stand 12-22 for the 1965 season. They're 4-3 in Winnemac Park play.

Score by innings:

Dundee	100 020 2 5 9
Lions	000 002 0 2 2

Tom Collins was the leading Lion hitter following Monday's action with a .290 mark for 100 at bats. Next in line were Donohue at .240 and Dan Collins at .235. Donohue paced the club in runs-batted-in with 17.

Panthers In Search For Linemen

With only three weeks to go before their first game, the coach of the Chicagoland Panthers has sent out an appeal for linemen.

The team, reported coach Chick Jagade, is shaping up better than he had anticipated, but he said he could use a few experienced linemen.

THE PANTHERS open their Central States Football League season at West Allis, Wis., on August 21. The following week they take on the Lake County Rifles in their first home game at Notre Dame High School's football field in Niles. On the next two weekends, the Panthers will entertain Racine and Madison at home.

Jagade has stepped up the practices from two to four per week at Gompers Park, 4222 W. Foster, Chicago.

Several former high school and college players from the North Shore and Northwest suburban area have joined the team this year, after it transferred quarters from Gately Stadium on the South Side.

Meeske Bid Fails, Bankers in Tourney

By ELMER BLASCO

Captain Ed Berset and his Meeske Super Marketeers made a gallant effort Friday night to represent the Mount Prospect Friday Night Golf League in the up-coming Paddock Publications Inter-League golf tournament by soundly trouncing Dick Piehl and his Mount Prospect State Bankers 8.5 to 3.5, but they fell short by a mere three tenths of a point.

Thus, Piehl and his Bankers, leaders in the Friday night Mount Prospect loop for all but three weeks of the 1965 season, will represent the league in the August 15 Paddock tourney.

The Meeske-men — five points behind the Banker leaders — went to the first tee of Mount Prospect's front nine determined to make up the deficit and earn the right to represent the league in the Paddock clambake.

CAPTAIN ED Berset set the pace for his crew of tellers by upsetting the one handicap Captain Dick Piehl with a two and one win good for three points. Berset fashioned a birdie three on the par four 342 yard eighth hole to offset a Piehl bird on the par five 485 yard first and clinch the match.

Meeske's Jim Scott maintained the advantage on the scoreboard by halving his match with Banker John Burke using a bird on the par five 485 yard first hole to help his cause.

After an attendance hassle and a matching of cards in the clubhouse, Al Glover added another two points in his remote control win over Banker George Miscevich. Bill Mottweiler added still another point to the Meeske total with his one up win over Mount Prospect State Banker Ken Arnold.

BUT IT remained for substitute Roy Larson to save the day for the Bankers as he turned in a three up win over Meeske's Marnel Veleta to add two points to the Banker total and enable them to hold on to first place by only three tenths of a point.

While the number one and two teams were having at it, the three and four teams were also making a run at the number one spot in the standings as the closely bunched Bainbridge Apartment five of Captain Dudley Hartman and the F.B.K. Realtors of Captain Joe Wylie met over Mount Prospect's front nine. An over-whelming win by either one could have put them into the league lead.

But they split it down the middle with a six to six tie to remain in the same spots in the standings with both having a shot at league crown in the four weeks of competition remaining.

CAPTAIN JOE WYLIE led his F.B.K. Realtors off the first tee with his two point no-contest, win over the absent Bainbridge Apartment Captain Dudley Hartman. Holmes McLendon turned the tide for the Bainbridge-men by turning in a three and two win over Realtor Herman Falldin.

Jim Insolia and Ed Deringer added two more win points to the Bainbridge total as Insolia turned in a no-contest win and Ed Deringer turned back Bert Hillstrom in the dark.

Realtor Bill Limperes closed out the see-saw battle by downing Don Quigley one up good for three points and a six to six tie with the Bainbridge five.

AND LESS than seven points back of the leaders, Captain Ray Felitto and his Williams-Gray Company quintet put themselves in contention for the league championship by downing the Wille Fuel and Lumbermen of Captain Al Gilso 8 to 4 to set themselves up for a down hill run at the leaders.

Captain Felitto got the Williams-Gray crowd off to a fast start with his two up win over Wille's Captain Al Gilso with a card of 37 that included a four on the much birdied par five 485 yard first hole. Gilso waited too long for his bird as he carded a three on the par four 285 yard ninth.

Dr. Ed Luzwick kept it going for the Williams-Gray group with his one upper extraction from Wille's Nick Serino. Ed Herkert piled on three more W-G points as he sank Wille's Bob Tesmer three and two.

Wille's Dan Lynch "extracared" Jack Buyers with a two and one win to finally put match points on the board for the Wille five and Walt Bindon made it another win for the Wille's with his one up win over Walt Rutkowski.

BIGGEST JUMP in the standings was made by Captain Bill Harner and his Arlington Cameramen as they moved from eighth to sixth in the standings with their 7.5 to 3.5 win over the Doyno Motor quintet of Captain Dick Haden. Although halving his match with Haden, Harner birdied the par five 485 yard fifteenth, to help move his team into an outside shot at the league title.

Other birds carded in the evening's play were posted by Don Bertrand of Keefer's Pharmacy who dropped a 15 foot putt to score a three on the par four 268 yard thirteenth; a three by Bob Nordli of Pete Anderson's Standard Service on the tough par four 336 yard eleventh; and by Joe Graffeo of Pete's Standard, who rammed in a 32 foot putt for a deuce on the 155 yard twelfth.

In addition, Tony Ramicone of the Pro Sport Shop five carded a bird on the par four thirteenth in his match against Chuck Vojta of the George S. May Company five who also went on the bird board with his four on the par five fifteenth. Don Grasse of the Pro Sport Shop started off his match with Ed Pool of the May Company five with a bird on the par five first only to have Pool come back with a bird of his own on the par four 268 yard ninth.

The only double bird performance of the evening was turned in by Coach Warren Collier, Esquire Barber captain, who birdied both the par four third and the par four eighth in his three and one win over Kruse's Don Campbell.

Low net honors for the evening went to Elmer Blasco of the George S. May Company quintet with his 42-10-net 32 over Mt. Prospect's tough back nine.

Carter Music Gains Berth in Golf Meet

Carter Music Shop, in spite of playing their high-point scoring "A" and "C" players, Gene Raasch and Hal Jauch, showed up as 7½ point winners last week in Mount Prospect Twilight League competition and will represent the Tuesday division in the Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap Tournament.

Victims of the patched-up Carter onslaught was Moler's Barber Shop who suffered a few bad breaks themselves as they lost to Carter's 7½-2½.

Ron Miller, alternate playing for "A" player Gene Raasch who has finally had to undergo surgery for his ailing back, was the big point winner for Carter's. Ron took match and medal for two points from Ray Smith, alternate playing for Ron Scherer of Moler's, plus a bonus point for low individual net.

IN THE "B" flight match, Carter Captain Ken Shipley won two points by default when his opponent, Bob Krause, injured his back at the second hole and was forced to concede the match.

Carter "E" player Bob Carncross put the finishing touches to the victory as he added 1½ points to the total after his match with Jim Kutill.

Only winners for Moler's were Ed Hendricks, who apparently had no trouble taking two points from alternate Norm Kozy playing for Carter's Hal Jauch, and of course Kutill's half point.

Carter's final point came as a bonus for team low aggregate net.

IN SPITE OF winning their match and the right to represent the division in the Paddock Tournament, let us not lose sight of the fact that Carter's did lose a little ground in league standings.

Monut Prospect Electric Construction Co., currently the hottest team in the division, turned in the best team effort of the evening as they downed Kruse's Tavern 8½-1½. The victory enabled the Electricians to improve their second-place position and reduce Carter's margin by a full point.

Third place occupancy changed again as Morton Pontiac and Keefer's Pharmacy exchanged places following Morton's 7½-2½ victory over the Pharmacists.

IN OTHER matches on down the line, Busse-Biermann Hardware clobbered Thunderbird Bowl 8-2, Kirchhoff Insurance knocked off Kersting Garden Center by a similar 8-2 score, and Licht's Paint Store squeaked by Wille Lumber and Fuel 5½-4½.

Low shooters for the night were Walt Double with a 37, Glenn Adams, Rollie Becker and Ed Spletzer with 38s, and Rudy Recher with a 39.

Birdies were reported by K. Shipley on 7, W. Peterson 8, R. Recher and E. Spletzer 9, Ben Kopriva 10, W. Mott and T. Banka 13.

440 Press Golfers Cop Paddock Berth

Old Orchard's Scratch League got a new leader last week, as the 444 Press team continued their torrid pace. In their surge to the top they have taken 27½ points out of a possible 32 over the last four weeks, and should they maintain this pace it will be a runaway. However, the league race is still very tight, and one bad night can drop a team several notches in the standings.

By virtue of their taking over the lead at this time, 444 Press qualified to represent the league in the Paddock Tournament. Bob Reiland continued to set the pace by shooting an even par 35, and got wonderful support from John Keeley, Rich Kronn, and Bill Schwerin as all won their matches with fine scores. The victim of this assault was Robert L. Nelson Realtors, who have dropped from second to ninth in two short weeks.

Arlington Realty threw a monkey wrench into the plans of Lohr's Pharmacy, who had led the league for the last four weeks, as they took a 7-1 decision behind the shooting of Bill Hugo, Bob Lee, and John Neubauer. Only Joe Lohr's win prevented a real whitewash.

BUSSE'S Flowers moved up a the matches against Baird & Warner, but still had to settle for a 4-4 draw when Ben Kronn came through with a one over par 36 and Roy Johnson had a 38 in winning by default.

Despite playing without their No. 1 man, Pitzen Cartage took a 4½ - 3½ win from Peters & Co. Realtors. Bruno Waara had an even par 36, and teammate spot in the standings and continue to be one of the top contenders, as they took Bob Burrow Chevrolet by a 5½ - 2½ margin. Dan Musser, Emil Piscopo, and No. 5 man George Reat, who had a 38, all won their matches, while Moore and Harding were the winners for the Chevymen.

L-Nor Cleaners won three of Avery Harris a 37 in disposing of their opponents. Mike Spinello continued to be the only undefeated golfer in the league by posting a one under par 35 which also lowered his average to 36.4 and kept him in the top spot in the individual standings. John St. Germaine gave the Realtors their other win by hanging on to defeat Bob Noble in a very close match.

Haire Funeral Home managed to outscore the Miles & Miles Inc. team in spite of two missing men. Howard Haire had a 38 while downing Mike Graft in a match that went down to the last putt, and Gordon Meling won his match on the last green. Len Arnold won by default, and George Salamon won the last three holes to take a one up decision from Bill Miles.

Ryan Represents St. Colette League

E. J. Ryan Plumbing will represent the St. Colette Golf League in the Paddock Publications golf tourney.

Ryan earned the right to represent the league by taking 2½ points from F. J. Die Mold in the latest play. The only competition for the coveted spot was Quadriga Manufacturing Co., which made a spectacular finish by taking all 7 points for Interstate Steel.

RYAN'S POINTS were earned by Wally Ignarski and Louie Pryby, and John Cheetham's tie for a half point made the difference between the team going and not going to the tournament.

Actually, F. J. Die Mold moved ahead of Ryan in the second round standings, as Ted Austin and Gene Folkes won matches for F. J. But Ryan had the points from the first round to claim the tourney berth.

Quadriga's five match wins were recorded by John Hernandez, Oscar Dolleslager, Bob Ulrich, George Smego and Bill Kohnke.

IMPRINTING Service knocked Beverly Lanes out of first by taking four wins. Bob Wirth, Herb Nauman, John DiFatta and John Gens turned in winning cards for the Imprinters. The total of these matches was good for the low team net, while Wirth's 39-7-32 took the low individual net.

Jim's Service moved up in the standings by downing Lortie Plumbing, with Tom Schramm and Larry Tompkins winning their matches and Harry Geserick tying his. Schramm had low net with 38-4-34. Phil Jarczyk and Glen Herbst marked up tallies for Lortie.

Curtain Time Nears For Teen Musical

Weeks of rehearsing and behind the scenes activity will end for about 50 northwest suburban teenagers tomorrow (Friday) night when they present an original musical, "We Are the Grandest," on the stage of the Wheeling High School Little Theatre.

Performances also are scheduled Saturday and Sunday.

With financial backing from Village Theatre of Arlington Heights, the teen thespians began work on the all-student production in early June under guidance of Mrs. E. C. Hume, park district drama director.

A professional atmosphere has prevailed among the Teen Theatre organization as all the young actors and actresses practiced method acting. Some began immediately with interpretations while others developed actions and expressions as they memorized their speaking parts.

ADRIENNE Kulieke, author of the script for "We Are the Grandest," will be acting the leading female role as Betsy Patterson, the American wife of Jerome Bonaparte. Adrienne graduated from Prospect High School where she was active in dramatics, music and creative writing.

She played the lead role in "Impromptu," "A Slave with Two Faces" and "Death Takes a Holiday." Adrienne has performed for two years with the Prospect "Mellotones" and the a cappella choir. She plans to attend Lawrence College in the fall as a student of English and creative writing.

The part of Jerome Bonaparte will be played by Raymond Schmeiser, a student of dramatic speech and music at Elgin Community College.

RAY STARRED in Arlington's musicals, "The Music Man" and "Flower Drum Song." He has extended his interests in drama and music to include on-the-scene reporting for the Elcomcol Review and the St. James Theatre Guild.

Other cast members include Doug MacDonald, Napoleon; Joel Mattson, Jean; Becky Clausen, Henriette; Coreen Cordova, Josephine; Susan Courtney, Louise Caton; Buni Crosby, Mary Chase; Craig Jacobs, Louis; Mike Powers, LeCamus; Tom Jacobs, Lucien; Doug Olipra, William; T. J. Jesky, Joseph; Pat Strader, Madame Mere; Gail Rielley, Mrs. Chase; Pat Enright, Dorcas; Nancy Bang, Elisa; Lynda Randolph, Caroline; and Sofia Andoniadis, Pauline.

The chorus includes Jim Grady, author of the musical's 19 original songs, Gil Fitch, Roger Krupa, Sue Summers, Tommie Wilson, Beth McDonald, Lynda Randolph, Connie Cole and Sophia Andoniadis.

COSTUMES IN the style of the French court highlight the production. Melinda Crabbe of Prospect High School revived the empire waist of the 19th century and added her own innovations with brightly colored satin and silk. Melinda designed, planned, cut and sewed all patterns.

Linnea Johnson of Prospect High School has been busy designing seven sets for the show and organizing and directing their construction. Teenagers from many northwest suburbs have helped to prepare scenes for a ship cabin, a garden, the race track and several rooms in the Bonaparte mansion at Malmaison.

Village Theatre lent flats and platforms for construction and use on stage.

Tickets for "We Are The Grandest" are available at adult and student rates from the Arlington Heights Park District office, Cl 3-0620, or from any member of the cast and crew.

Happy Home-Buyers

People bought 565,000 new one-family houses in 1964 — about the same as in 1963. However, of this total, 120,000 were in the $25,000-or-over price range, a 21 per cent jump over the 1963 figure of 99,000.

Overseas Revenue

The U. S. motion picture industry leads all other big industries in the proportion of its total income which is earned overseas.

THE LAUGH'S on everyone in Walt Disney's new campus comedy, "The Monkey's Uncle," starring, from left, Stanley the Chimp in the title role, Annette as Stanley's "aunt," Tommy Kirk as his "uncle" and Leon Ames as the judge who makes this comic situation "legal." The comedy opens tomorrow (Friday) at the Golf Mill Theatre, The Arlington Theatre and the Mount Prospect Cinema. Co-feature at the Cinema is "Wackiest Ship in the Navy" with Jack Lemmon and Ricky Nelson. (Bill

Trading Stamps Are 'Here to Stay'

Stores Meet Public Demand

by BOB SETLIK
Staff Writer

A million housewives were licking their way into oblivion. Tongues lank, breaths sour, they spent evenings hunched over little blank books. They were hooked. Husbands were ignored and turned to drink; children cried in the streets. A whole nation traded its sanity for a few trinkets.

While prophets envision the advant of this most fantastic of universal fixations, they point to alarming statistics.

Some 85 per cent of housewives now save trading stamps. "I pay for them with the goods I purchase. Why shouldn't I save them?" said one, a pragmatist like most of her breed.

Rarely does one encounter the resistance which another northwest suburban woman exhibits. "I'm protesting against a system which forces me to pay for something I don't want. They're a pain and bother."

Her idealism was ridiculed. A fellow worker figured she could have saved 11 and one half books based on her gasoline purchases alone during the past three years.

(For that many books she could have had a choice of a cocktail table, a side chair with a shaped saddle seat, a solid maple rocker, a vacuum cleaner, a two speed osterizer or endless other merchandise according to one company's catalogue.)

Except for the occasional objector, stamps have become a way of life for housewives in northwest suburbs like nearly everywhere else.

Supermarkets and service stations are the leading sources. Only Jewel among the major food chains remains a holdout.

SERVICE STATION managers unanimously testify to the drawing power of trading stamps, although they sometimes are reluctant parties to their use.

"They're a necessary evil," said one, "but the customers' demand them."

Since so many stations now offer trading stamps, the owners find they perhaps have a "negative value."

"They're like a price war," said James Bradford, director of press relations for Pure Oil. "They're good until the neighbor does the same. The reason most have them is because the competition does — they would lose business if they didn't."

A row of five filling stations on Kirchoff Road in downtown Rolling Meadows gives evidence to the chain reaction effect of trading stamps. When the first station opened seven years ago, it offered stamps, and subsequent stations have done likewise. One station held out until two years ago and then began offering coupons toward the purchase of savings bonds.

MOST STATION managers claim that the expense of the stamps must be subtracted from the profits. The individual station has little leeway with gasoline prices, and the managers deny raising service prices because of the stamps.

No service station manager considers dropping the premiums. They estimate that 90 to 99 per cent of their customers ask for the stamps.

The effect on food prices has created the greatest controversy. A federal commission heard testimony in Washington in May that food prices are about two per cent higher because of stamps.

Jewel Tea Co. cites this as one reason for its refusal to offer stamps. However, one spokesman said the company uses the margin in other promotions. "We would rather use the two per cent on promotions than stamps," he said.

A & P began offering stamps in the Chicago area in 1962. A spokesman denied the stamps affect food prices but said that increased volcme offsets the cost.

MOST STUDIES have been favorable to the trading stamp industry. The U. S. Department of Agriculture issued a three-year report in 1958 which found that prices in non-stamp stores were six tenths of one per cent lower than prices in stamp stores.

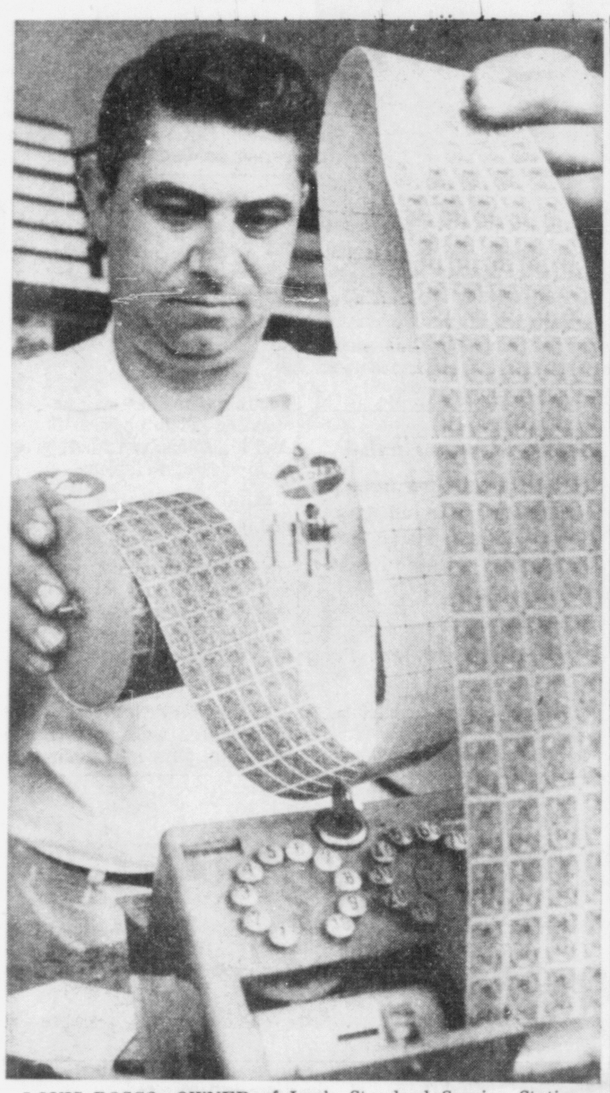
According to a spokesman for S & H stamps, the Department of Labor announced in May that the effect of trading stamps on the consumer price index was too inconsequential to be included in the index.

Louis Harris and Associates studied fo orcesiicagodnCihp—studied food prices in Chicago from 1957, before and after stamps were introduced. The firm found no evidence that trading stamps had any demonstrable effect on price levels.

S & H also cites a study by Verne A. Bunn, professor of marketing at the University of Wichita. After 30 months of studying food prices in midwestern states he found "no evidence that the use of stamps, even on a widespread basis, leads to higher retail food prices."

The suspicious consumer, whose exposure to the perils of a market economy has convinced her that everything has its price, believes that stamps cause a raise in food prices. Among 10 questioned, only one believed no difference exists. But almost all collectt the stamps.

ALTHOUGH THE trading stamp industry traces its root to the late 19th Century, things were quiet until after World War II. Then business spurted in some sections of the country.



LOUIS BOSCO, OWNER of Lou's Standard Service Station, State Road and Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights, loads trading stamps into his stamp dispensing machine. "They're a necessary evil," said one service station manager.

(One observer believes that people got into the trading stamp habit after their experience with rationing coupons during the war years.)

The push came in the Chicago area in the mid-1950's when National Food Stores and Wieboldt's signed contracts with the most successful of the trading stamp companies, Sperry and Hutchinson.

Since S & H signs exclusive contracts with its retail customers, much of its expansion lately has come in other areas.

Many companies have begun to use stamps as an incentive for sales personnel. Miller Brewing, Milwaukee; Durkee Foods, Chicago; the Toast Master Division of McGraw Electric, Elgin, and Buick, Oldsmobile, Coca-Cola, and Eastern Air-Lines among national concerns award sales personnel with stamps.

An ambitious husband can earn more in a month ahan his wife might get in 10 years of visiting supermarkets. And thus the millions of Alices lost in the wonders of stampland find that males are crowding into this most fantastic of fantasy worlds

Don't Despair, Mom

Travel by Auto Can Be Easy Even with Younger Children

By BETTY AINSLIE

Traveling with children can be fun if you learn to count past 10 before you lose your temper — can manage to answer constant questions — are good at settling differences over who has whose half of the back seat and if you're clever at inventing "spur of the moment" games.

Don't let anyone kid you. It is much easier to vacation with the older youngsters as they'll read, sleep or just plain sit for a spell longer than a half hour. But you do miss a lot of fun and the excitement of seeing the cities and towns through a grade school child's eyes.

Betty Ainslie

For instance, traveling alone or with the older youngsters you'll pass up the zoos, picnics, souvenir hunting, frequent rest stops, playing miniature golf, the sight seeing that interests a young child and reading every sign that comes into that seven year old's line of vision.

FAMILIES WITHOUT young children seldom take camping trips or spend time at a cottage on a lake, go fishing, see ball games, visit amusement parks or just plain take a lazy vacation.

With children on an auto trip, you don't plan to cover too many miles a day. You arrive more refreshed yourself at a shorter destination and forget this business of pushing yourself to cover just another hundred miles before stopping for the night.

Because you plan shorter jumps you often land in small towns and you'll stop at old time general stores for cokes or ice cream. You'll look up places you feel the children might enjoy and surprise yourself by enjoying this new novelty.

You'll stop early and find time for a swim in the motel pool. You won't pick the fanciest eating places in town, but you'll discover that place recommended by the small gas station attendant has home cooking — delicious food without the fancy frills or prices. Saves you having to doll up for the evening meal, too.

WHEN YOU GO sightseeing you'll find you're investigating the old time stables, the wash houses, every one of the outside buildings on the old houses you visit. You'll discover too the guides are much friendlier to families and have an inexhaustible supply of patience in answering even the youngest child's questions. So you'll see and learn more yourself.

There are a few things I've found which help to entertain the fidgety grade schoolers.

Before you leave on your trip take a plastic sack and fill it with small toys purchased at the dime store. Use a plastic sack as paper bags rip and won't take the abuse of a trip.

When things become a bit hectic in the car, pass out a new truck, a puzzle or a doll's outfit and quiet will reign for awhile.

Take along a small lap sized piece of plywood that can fit over the youngster's knees and they can color, do cut outs with blunt scissors or play with small amounts of clay.

Keep these new toys for just doing in the car as once at a motel they're many other things to keep them busy.

Howard Johnson's has a child's menu which has a number of games printed on it to be played later in the car. Looking for objects pictured on the tiny squares, something like bingo, or connecting dots to make squares will help you all weather through another hundred miles after lunch.

BALLOONS ARE an excellent amusement accessory and provide entertainment for many miles even though the breakage is terrific.

Comic books are a must and will keep even the pre-schooler interested just looking at the pictures. Or take along small books which you can read to quiet down a bored youngster.

The main thing is to take along many different bits of entertainment to stave off boredom. Because it is the bored youngster who becomes restless noisy and a trial to vacationing parents.

If you plan ahead a bit. Talk up the future trip as something special the children will enjoy too. Show them the route on the map. You'd be surprised how interested they are in crossing state lines.

Sometime during that trip pick or pack some sandwiches, buy some soft drinks and have a picnic lunch at some pretty spot, the children will enjoy the change from eating in restaurants.

BE SURE TO take a rubber ball along as a short game of catch at some of your rest stops will remove some of the vim and vigor from your backseat passengers and have them ready and willing for the quiet play of traveling.

So don't despair, mom, if your vacation plans of necessity include the children. You'll surprise even yourself by actually enjoying your trip.

Child Needs Parents' Help In Adjusting to Hospital

A child in the hospital can have a frightening and lonely experience unless you, as parents, halp him adjust to his new experience.

How?

FIRST OF ALL, prepare him for his new venture before taking him to the hospital. Children are lide grown-ups—what they fear most is the unknown. Consider what parts of the experience are the unknown and familiarize him with them. Check with the hospital beforehand and get a general idea of a patient's typical day. Discuss this with your child and then be prepared to answer all his questions frankly.

If he is going to have surgery, explain in simple terms what is going to happen; and if he should ask about pain, don't deceive him. The shock of being tricked by those he trusts can be worse than pain. Let him know it will only hurt for a short while, but that he'll feel much better when it's all over. Above all, never show fear. The jitters are catching!

WHEN YOU visit your child, don't discipline him. If anything, spoil him for a while. Normal discipline can be resumed when the child has returned home and is well. Bring him coloring books, puzzles, toys and if the doctor permits, his favorite cookies or cake. Let him tell you all about his experiences—his medication, the friends he has met, etc., and in turn, fill him in on the news at home. Remind him that you have fed his pet turtle or goldfish.

When visiting time is over, don't make it an emotional parting—no tears or hysterics. Although your child may cry, nurses are trained to take care of such a situation.

After a few days of the hospital routine, children normally adjust quickly and many even enjoy their stay. But much depends on you. By preparing your child for this new "adventure," by abiding your doctor's orders and by cooperating with the hospital personnel, you can make your child's stay a pleasant one.

Life-Long Residents Mark Golden Wedding

Although they were married quietly in a simple ceremony in Milwaukee July 21, 1915, Mr. and Mrs. John Schoo made up for it Saturday, July 17, 1965, when they marked their golden anniversary at a gala celebration complete with orchestra and 275 guests.

Area residents all their lives, the couple knew each other even before their "readin', writin' and 'rithmetic" days at Lincoln School, as their parents owned neighboring farms. Clara's parents, the Albert Kolzes, farmed on Bryn Mawr Avenue. John's parents, the Henry Schoos, also farmed in Bensenville before moving to another farm in Elk Grove.

Lincoln School, then located at York and Lawrence Avenues, is no more, and neither is the Bryn Mawr farm, for it has now become part of O'Hare Field.

JOHN AND CLARA, who now reside at 234 Addison St., Bensenville, also farmed in the Elk Grove area where they reared their family of five children. Twenty-four years ago, John and Clara retired from farming and John worked for an area coal and seed company. Still active in business, John has now worked many years for his son-in-law, Louis Oehlerking, at the Center Meat Market. Clara also keeps busy making all the potato salad for the Market.

The anniversary party was held in Bensenville Fire Hall with their five children and their children-in-law, Eleanor and Louis Oehlerking, Irene and Dave Gaiennie of Northbrook, Marilyn and Harold Schoo of Bensenville, Mildred and Harold McGuire of Chicago, and Eleanor and Willard Schoo of Bloomingdale, among the guests. The couple also has 12 grandchildren and two great great-grandchildren.

Tips for Pleasant Summer Auto Trips

Wherever your vacation plans take you this summer, you probably will travel by car. Here are some hints for a pleasant trip:

If you're driving somewhere your family has never been before, read in advance about places of interest along the route. You'll find this makes your trip seem shorter and more pleasant because it gives youngsters something to look forward to as you travel.

LEARN something about your destination before you go, too. You'll have a better idea of what you want to see and you won't waste precious vacation time deciding "what to do next."

Keep your camera handy. You'll enjoy looking at your own record of your family vacation.

KEEP TISSUES handy in the car for quick clean-ups, sticky fingers, fogged glasses, dirty windshields, and hay fever sniffles.

Carry a bottle of ice water in the car. This cuts down the number of stops you have to make because someone is thirsty. It also is handy for dampening a tissue to clean sticky fingers.

How Women Rate Mates

When a girl considers a man her best friend, she is not likely to fall in love with him.

Studies at the University of Wisconsin show that men tend to select the same kind of woman for a friend as for a wife. But not so with women! Most girls have one set of specifications for a male friend, and an entirely different one for the kind of man they can fall in love with and marry.

When a girl tells you she considers you "a real friend," you haven't a hope of winning her hand.

What's in a Name

In the U. S., names of thoroughbred race horses are limited to 14 letters.

Few Understand Shingles Malady

It's as painful as a prolonged hug from a passionate porcupine; worse than a mohair sweater on a hot day.

What is it? An inflammatory skin disease called shingles. While most people have heard of this malady, few are familiar with its precise nature, reports the Illinois State Medical Society.

SHINGLES—AN affliction of nervous origin—is a burning, itching disease characterized by irritating skin blisters about the body. The pea-shaped blisters usually get their start in the area of the spine and creep—like a belt or girdle—around one side of the chest region.

An old superstition says that a victim will die if shingles breaks out on both his sides and meets at the middle. This is completely false. Shingles seldom appears on both sides, and even when it does meet in the middle, it's not fatal.

Though most shingles cases start in the area of the spine, some forms of the disease attack other parts of the body. One form strikes in the cervical area of the spinal cord. Another affects the ear.

Is there any relief for its burning, itching sensation?

Some sufferers get relief from gamma globulin, while ACTH helps others. Electric currents, diathermy and x-ray have also been tried. In extreme cases, the affected nerves have been severed.

WHILE BLISTERS may disappear in one or two weeks, pain often lingers much longer—sometimes for as long as a year—and the skin is left permanently scarred.

No one is certain of the cause of shingles, but one widespread theory holds that it is an infectious disease of virus origin, like measles or whooping cough. There also seem to be certain factors which pre-dispose every case.

These are overwork, exhaustion, prolonged illness, undernourishment, severe injury, hemorrhage, focal infection, lung inflammation, fever, blood stream infection and such poisons as arsenic. Shingles may be caused, at least in part, by the emotions.

While worry alone may not cause shingles, it may lay out a welcome mat for it.

Never Leave Children Home Alone

Because of a rash of fires throughout the nation in which children have lost their lives, the American Insurance Association urges parents to never leave little children at home alone—not even for a few minutes.

The association estimates that of the more than 11,000 persons who died in fires last year, 2,200 were children under five years old. Several times that number received bad burns in home fires.

If you must go out, arrange to have an adult or a responsible teenager stay with the children until you return.

And at all times keep matches out of the reach of children.

No Short Cuts

Don't place mirrors or glass picture frames between the layers of towels and bedding in packing for a household move. Packing authorities report this little "trick" is often the couse of breakage and damage during the unpacking.

Breakable items require special handling and special boxes. Consult the mover for packing advice or, better yet, let him handle these items.

Foot Baths

For a foot refresher, try bathing your feet alternately in hot and cold water and then put on clean stockings and pair of soft, crepe-sole shoes.

Deduct Social Security for Household Help

E. C. Coyle, Jr., Director of Internal Revenue for the Chicago District, advises housewives and other employers of domestic workers not to overlook possible liability for social security taxes.

If you pay a household worker $50 or more in any calendar quarter, you and the employee become subject to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, Mr. Coyle said. This tax finances retirement payments and other benefits to workers qualifying.

THE TAX FOR this year is 3-5/8 per cent for the employer and 3-5/8 per cent for the employee, or a total of 7¼ per cent of the wages paid. The employer is required to report and pay the combined tax quarterly.

Form 942 is used to report the tax. The form is printed on the back of a return envelope and may be obtained from any Internal Revenue Service office. The address for filing is: District Director of Internal Revenue, 17 N. Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill. 60602.

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

Rootin', Shootin' Rodeo Is Bang-up Summer Fun

By DOLORES HAUGH

Howdee Pardner! He'rd thar's going to be a birthday at yur house and also that you'd just hanker to have a rip snortin', rootin' tootin', hip shootin', rope throwin' time. Whoopee, thar's agoin' to be a Rodeo up in these here parts and now's the time to really shoot on over for a bang up time, so have a Rodeo Rootin' Tootin' Cook Out and wind up at the Rodeo. (Any other time it's a trip to the city).

INVITATIONS

This is a good "last of the summer" and "big event to look forward to" idea for the whole family. Parties in the summer, after everyone has been working part time, going to camp, swimming at the pools, is a time for a family "round up" and time to do something together-like.

So if you have this as a birthday theme, friends pitch in supper or just the family, together, make invitations and send them out early or announce to the family the date so that plenty of time can be taken to order tickets.

For a birthday, be sure that you mention means of transportation, time, and allow for late cowboys, or cowgirls, when setting same. Cut a large initial "R's" from bandana print napkins and buy enough for your serving table, too. Paste these on white cardboard, double fold a lighter weight paper to the back. With heavy yellow twine outline the cardboard and loop the corners. This may be done with glue. Inside write the following:

Mosy over bout ———(time)
——— is the date.
Gonna rustle some doggies
Bake up some beans — bring your own tin plate
And Wear yur jeans,
Cowboy shirt — 10 gallon hat
Boots too, if you have 'em
Gonna be a blast! — but please NO GUNS
The Professionals take care of that.

Give the details of your party, that is mention if, it is a birthday or a pitch-in chuck wagon cook out, but the highlight will be the trip to the Rodeo. You will have to give yourself plenty of time and be sure you get the responses by a dead line — latecomers are OUT. If it is a pitch-in ask each person to bring a dish, you serve baked beans, coffee and dessert.

DECORATIONS

Use an old quilt or "horse-blanket" or even an old Indian blanket. If you are plum out of old Indians, use a new one. Then set up the table, get a horse or two, plastic, ceramic, wood, that is, or turn a cowboy hat upside down and fill with wild flowers, hay, and a few leaves turned brown by now from the Peony bush and you've got yourself a centerpiece. Each will have their own tin plate and you provide the cups, silverware and be sure to have a few extra pie tins for forgetters. They are always present at parties.

Provide penalty for not wearin' Western get ups and the host may be the sheriff complete with star and fine the non-joiner-inners.

For dessert, serve cartwheel cookies and ice cream as you will want to keep it simple.

ENTERTAINMENT

The tickets, the transportation and the limitations for kids should be set up in advance so everyone knows where to meet if they get lost, or separated. But most of all, plan well for details. Pop enough popcorn and put it in large bags, write guest's name on each bag and bring along, 'cause candy can be messy. It is less expensive to bring the chewables so lasso a party idea for a Rodeo trip — and sure as shootin' you'll get the draw on FUN. (S

Midwest Bonsai Show In Dundee Aug. 20-22

The seventh annual Midwest Bonsai Show will again be held at D. Hill Nurseries in Dundee, Routes 72 and 31, on August 20, 21 and 22. A new feature of this year's Bonsai show will be the actual construction of three artful Japanese gardens: the flat garden, the tea garden and the pebble garden. These could be adapted to almost any home.

Kaneji Domoto, famous Japanese landscape architect, will design one garden each day of the 3-day show at approximately 1:30 p.m.

Two Bonsai demonstrations will be presented each morning and afternoon.

THE PERMANENT Japanese gardens at Hill nursery are open throughout the year as well as during the show. They include the Japanese terrace garden, Hill Yama pool garden, corner garden and patio garden. The Japanese Torii, constructed several years ago of solid wood beams, is now famous throughout the Fox Valley.

Of interest, also, is the Bonsai Rama house, where over 900 living dwarf miniatures are on display.

THERE IS STILL time to register as a Bonsai exhibitor for this year's show. Both amateur and professional growers will be offered competition. Awards will be made in the following divisions: domestic, imported and miniature. Conifers and deciduous plants will be in separate groups.

Exhibitors should register by writing or calling Gay Laubsch, Bonsai Show Secretary, c/o D. Hill Nursery Co., Dundee, Hazel 6-3451.

The 3-day show will be free to the public. (S

Walking Is Tonic For Mind, Body

Walking is recognized by health authorities as an outstanding aid to physical fitness. And it also can contribute greatly to mental well-being.

Many homemakers may feel no need for further physical exercise after a full day's rounds, but many other women, and perhaps an even larger proportion of men, can benefit from a daily "deposit" of walking exercise into their personal "health account."

EVEN THOSE persons who do not need walking as a supplemental physical exercise can benefit from its tonic effects in release of tension and in building companionship.

Favorite walking routines include before or after breakfast, lunch or dinner, to or from work, and before bedtime.

WALKING brings into play nearly every muscle of the body in a way that involves healthful exertion which is easily kept within the bounds of the person's individual capacity. It brings about deep breathing and stimulation to internal organs.

A walk together can give husband and wife a chance to have an enriching personal communication. Or a parent can use walking as a means to give each child his own time for talking things over. (S

First Aid Eases Painful Sunburn

This year's bathing suits are briefer than ever, so more of you will be exposed to the sun. You'll risk a painful sunburn more than ever, unless you follow some simple advice.

Be sure to use plenty of protective lotion, especially the first time out. Put on more lotion every time you come out of the water and don't lie in the sun too long.

BURNS USUALLY don't show up until a few hours later, so don't be deceived if you don't look red. Here's a good test to see if you're burning: Press a finger against your skin. If a white spot remains when you lift your finger, it's time to cover up with a shift or slacks.

If you can see yourself turning red, it's really too late to prevent burning, but apply lotion and cover up immediately to prevent a more serious burn.

WHETHER YOU'RE slightly pink or frankly red, you can ease the sting by gently smoothing cream or lotion into the skin with pads made of tissues folded over three times. Tissue pads are softer and, as a cushion between fingers and sensitive skin, apply lotion with less pressure than fingers.

Wtar loose clothing if you're burned. Anything tight will make you extra aware of sensitive skin.

If you begin to peel, just keep up applications of lotion with tissue pads. This will help moisturize the skin while easing pain. (S

Don't Miss the Boat For Moonlight Cruise

"Don't Miss the Boat" is more than a warning. It is an invitation, extended by the Elk Grove Village Junior Woman's Club, to recapture the spirit of the Riverboat Days on a moonlight cruise around Lake Geneva. Mrs. Peter Arend, chairman of the Social Committee, announced that Friday, Aug. 20 is the date for this first social event of the new club year, and that everyone is invited.

Chartered buses will leave the Park 'N Shop Shopping Center that evening at 7:30, to arrive at the Riviera Docks in Lake Geneva at 9 p.m. Community singing along the way will set the informal atmosphere. After boarding "The Lady of the Lake," voyagers will be treated to a variety of entertainment. "The Band," a local musical group, will provide music for dancing or deck strolling.

EACH LADY is asked to bring a box supper for two, lavishly or ingeniously decorated, which will be sold in the style of an old-fshioned box social and shared with her husband. Refreshments will be available at the bar.

The cruise will last until midnight, when the buses will be waiting to return to the Shopping Center. Expected arrival time is 1:30 a.m.

Passage is $10 per couple, which includes the cruise and bus trip, and may be booked by calling Mrs. Arnold Shaw, 437-0261, or Mrs. Peter Arend, 437-1086. Reservations should be made by Friday, Aug. 13. (S

Fluffy Lemon Pie Is One Family's Favorite

THE BROAD SMILE on Jeff One's face clearly indicates his delight at sampling his mother's fabulous dessert. Mrs. Dick One's pretty Lemon Fluff Pie has a light tecture and tart flavor that makes it an elegant company dessert.

Tart Flavor Ideal As Dinner Dessert

by LOIS SEILER

Fabulous is the word for the fluffy lemon pie that is a favorite of the Dick One family of 1312 Dorothy Drive, Palatine.

And this is no exaggeration as Mrs. One, too, is considered a fabulous cook among her friends and neighbors. This pie she considers superior to all she has tried.

Not only does the smooth and lemony gelatine chiffon pie have a meringue of four beaten egg whites folded in, but whipped cream as well. Although rich, it has a tart flavor and light texture that makes it an ideal dinner dessert. Mrs. One serves it garnished with dollups of whipped cream.

A TERIYAKI Sauce recipe that has been in Mrs. One's family for generations is one that she uses frequently because it is so versatile.

"Recipes are not usually written down in Japanese families," Mrs. One said, "but daughters learn how to cook by observing their mother." And thus it was that Mrs. One learned to make this sauce.

It combines soy sauce, Saki (a Japanese rice wine), garlic powder and grated fresh ginger root. The ginger root can only be purchased at Japanese markets but will keep well for months bottled in a jar of Saki and stored in the refrigerator.

"The ginger root has a unique flavor that cannot be duplicated by ground ginger," May One commented.

This marinade can be used for chicken or sirloin steak, and the meat is marinated overnight.

THE SIRLOIN can be cut in pieces and skewered on bamboo sticks with green pepper, onion and tomatoes and cooked over the grill. Or it can be sliced thin and grilled over charcoal until done and served with a final brushing of the marinade.

The teriyaki sauce gives chicken or steak a delicious flavor, and any remaining sauce may be stored in the refrigerator and used again.

Because her husband is partial to rice, Mrs. One often serves rice cakes and a Japanese salad with her Beef or Chicken Teriyaki. But another of her favorite recipes, an appealing potato salad, also makes an excellent accompaniment.

"I copied down this recipe years ago when watching Francois Pope on television," Mrs. One said. "It is quite simple to prepare and there is no guesswork involved. The salad always turns out the same and is always very good."

THIS RECIPE calls for three pounds of cooked and diced potatoes which are mixed with French dressing for a half hour before the remaining ingredients are added. Then onion, green pepper, pimiento, celery, salt, mayonnaise and hard boiled eggs are mixed in.

Chilled well before serving, the salad is garnished with slices of hard boiled eggs. It makes a tasty accompaniment for many different summertime meals.

All of these recipes make a big hit with the Ones' three sons: Keith, 12; Darryl, 10, and Jeff, 6.

FABULOUS LEMON FLUFF PIE

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatine
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
4 eggs, separated
⅓ cup lemon juice
⅔ cup water
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ cup sugar
½ cup whipping cream

In saucepan mix gelatine, sugar and salt.

Beat egg yolks, lemon juice and water. Stir into gelatine mixture. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Remove from heat and stir in lemon rind. Chill, stirring occasionally, until partially set.

Beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Gradually add sugar, beating until stiff peaks form and sugar is dissolved. Fold gelatine mixture into egg whites. Finally fold in whipped cream.

Pile filling into a cooled 9-inch pastry shell. Chill until firm. Serve with dollups of whipped cream. Serves 6 to 8.

TERIYAKI SAUCE

Sirloin steak or chicken
½ cup soy sauce
⅓ cup sugar
½ teaspoon Accent
2 tablespoons Saki (Japanese wine) or sherry
Dash of garlic powder
¼ teaspoon grated fresh ginger root

Marinate sirloin steak or chicken overnight in the sauce.

The sirloin can be cut in pieces and skewered on bamboo sticks with green pepper, onions and tomatoes. Or it can simply be sliced thin. Grill meat over charcoal until done. Serve with final brushing or marinade.

Any remaining sauce may be stored in refrigerator and used again.

POTATO SALAD

3 pounds red potatoes cooked, peeled and diced
¼ cup French dressing
1 tablespoon salt
Grated onion to taste
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup chopped pimiento (optional)
½ cup chopped celery
¾ cup mayonnaise
4 hard boiled eggs, diced

Mix potatoes and French dressing and let set for one-half hour. Then add remaining ingredients, reserving some of the egg slices for garnish. Chill well before serving. Serves 12. (SH

Dress-Ups For Summer Sandwiches

Dress up the family's favorite peanut butter sandwich occasionally by mixing in crumbled crisp bacon, chopped celery, apple or sliced banana — before adding the second slice of enriched bread.

The dramatic change always scores.

Bread-and-butter sandwiches are naturals for so many summer-time fillings—or cold sliced meats, cheese or salad mixtures. For extra flavor enjoyment, spread seasoned butter on the bread, or toast the buttered slices with fine herbs as a flavorful blotter for the juices of chicken or steak.

To make seasoned butter, try creaming in your choice of lemon juice, grated cheese, prepared mustard or minced chives.

Maddening, Isn't It?

You go to the store and can't find a shopping cart. Or the items you want. Worse still, there's nobody around that's willing to help. Maybe you even have to thread your way through an aisle filled with cartons. Then there's that checkout line. And the checkout clerk who sounds like a drill instructor.

Sound familiar? It's enough to take the joy out of your day, that's for sure.

One thing else is for sure. These things won't happen to you at A&P. Not with our Welcome Neighbor Service on the job. Try it and see.

Albert J. Till Claims Chicago Girl as Bride

Four attendants in floor-length yellow linen gowns, plus a flower girl in yellow and white, preceded Miss Caryl Natalie Knutson down the aisle of Gustavus Adolphus Lutheran Church in Chicago June 26 when she became the bride of Albert Jaye Till, son of the Raymond Tills, 507 N. Eastwood Mount Prospect. The double ring service took place at 4:30 p.m. with Rev. Gerald E. Molgren officiating, and was followed by a dinner reception for 200 guests in the South Side Swedish Club, Chicago.

Wearing a white French crepe gown with embroidery on the sleeves and waist, the bride, daughter of the Carl W. Knutsons of Chicago, completed her ensemble with a short veil attached to a white crepe rose, and a cascade of stephanotis and white cymbidium. She was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Ralph Peterson of Chicago was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Bergstrom of Chicago, Mrs. Kenneth Knutson of Thornton, Ill., sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Janice Sailer of Forreston, Ill., cousin of the groom. Cascades of white and yellow spider mums completed their sheath ensembles. Mrs. Knutson's 2½-year-old daughter, Jamie Lynn, was the flower girl and her floor-length gown was of white linen with yellow trim. Jamie carried a basket of yellow and white spider mums.

A MOSS GREEN silk sheath with matching accessories and a corsage of green cymbidium was the choice of the bride's mother, while Mrs. Till chose a pale pink shantung with matching accessories and a corsage of pink cymbidium.

Robert Evans of Washington, D. C. was best man to the groom and ushers were Paul Gildea of Chicago, John Glass of Hickory Hills, Ill. and Leonard Webster of Chicago.

The bride is a graduate of Augustana College and the groom of the University of Illinois. He is now with Leo Burnett Advertising in Chicago and his bride is with Illinois Bell Telephone Agency. Mr. Till and his bride are making their home at 7744 N. Eastlake Terrace in Chicago following a 2-week honeymoon in upper Minnesota.

Handy Aids At Picnics

A big helper for any picnic is a roll of paper towels. Dampened, they'll clean the picnic table. Dry, they are double thickness placemats and napkins.

After the meal, paper towels again wipe the table as well as the cooking utensils. They help wash and dry dishes.

Wrapped around utensils, a paper towel discourages rattles as you travel. Placed between breakable dishes, they act as a protective cushion.

Best of all, paper towels are thrown away after use, with no extra cleaning or laundering tasks after picnic fun. (S

'Mrs. Miniver' - 'Groom' Mark 50th Anniversary

Chicago's "Mrs. Miniver" and her bridegroom of 50 years ago, William A. Sikorski, Arlington Heights residents for the past decade, marked their golden anniversary July 24 by renewing their marriage vows, brunching at Old Orchard Country Club and greeting 150 guests that evening.

"I won second place in the contest by entertaining servicemen at home while my husband was overseas," laughed Mrs. Sikorski. As a USO member during World War II, Mrs. Sikorski, with the help of the six Sikorski daughters, was called upon to entertain servicemen from all over the country. "We still hear from many of them," said Mrs. Sikorski, "and we also received long distance congratulatory calls from them on our anniversary."

Mrs. Sikorski recalls that on winning the contest, she was presented with a war bond and a bouquet of "Mrs. Miniver" roses. Meanwhile her husband was serving in Trinidad as a Chief Warrant Officer in the U. S. Navy.

THE COUPLE MET at a party in Chicago, and when Mr. Sikorski was 21 and his fiance 20, they were married July 20, 1915 in St. Viator's Parish in Chicago. Mr. Sikorski was then in the construction business. Retiring from the FHA in 1963, he is now employed as construction examiner at St. Joseph's Home for the Aged, Palatine, for the Little Sisters of the Poor. Mrs. Sikorski was active in church work at Our Lady of Victory Parish.

The couple, now residents at 1302 Sunset Terrace, Arlington Heights, renewed their vows during the 10 o'clock high mass in Our Lady of the Wayside Church before Rev. H. O'Hara. Following mass, immediate relatives and the priests in attendance brunched at Old Orchard. That evening, a celebration was held in the Arlington Heights VFW Hall where the 150 guests included the couple's six daughters, Mrs. Rita Kelly of Des Plaines, Mrs. Lorraine Skarren of Arlington Heights, Mrs. Helen Tomski of Dayton, Mrs. RoseMary Spreitzer of Mount Prospect, Mrs. Bernadette Sullaway of Houston and Mrs. Joan Muehlfelder of Palatine.

The Sikorskis also have 17 grandchildren. (S

Elfrieda Grandt Becomes Bride of John A. Kupsky

Receiving communion together for the first time as husband and wife, were Mr. and Mrs. John Arthur Kupsky when "The Lord's Supper" was served to them only at the conclusion of their wedding service June 26 in St. John Evangelical Lutheran Church, Northbrook. The groom, son of the Adolph T. Kupskys of Shawano, Wis., is a graduate of Concordia Teachers College in River Forest, now teaching upper grades at St. John Evangelical Lutheran School. His bride is the former Elfrieda Esther Grandt, son of Mrs. Norman A. Grandt, 30 S. Milwaukee Ave., Wheeling.

The groom's uncle, Rev. William L. Kupsky, assisted by Rev. William F. Splitgerber, married the couple in a 7:30, double ring service. Two vases of white carnations and lilac asters decorated the altar for the nuptials, during which the bride's godfather, Bernhardt Koeppen of Wheeling, gave her in marriage.

CARRYING OUT THE lilac and white theme, the bride also carried white carnations with a lilac orchid. Her gown was fashioned with long, pointed, sleeves, a bodice trimmed with pearls, sequins and aurora borealis, and a 4-tiered skirt of lace, each edged with sequins. Her 2-tier, elbow-length, illusion veil was held by a headpiece shaped into an orchid, also trimmed with the aurora borealis, sequins and pearls.

Wearing lilac taffeta street-length gowns were her sister, Norma A. Grandt as maid of honor and her cousins, Barbara M. Lemke of Wheeling and Christi L. Readdy of Chicago, bridesmaids. Their gowns were made with overskirts of nylon organdy, capped sleeves and with sashes of a darker lilac, ending in back bows. Their headpeices were pearl-edged petals which held butterfly bows. Their shoes matched their gowns and they carried white carnations tipped in lilac.

Junior bridesmaid was Barbara A. Kupsky, 8-year-old niece of the groom, who was also in a lilac gown styled like the bridesmaids' gowns. The bride's cousin, Steven Schultz of Glidden, Wis., was junior groomsman. Steven is 10 years old.

THE CHURCH hall was the scene of the reception for the 125 guests. Mrs. Grandt received in a mauve pink and white baby carnations. The groom's mother chose a 2-piece pink lace dress with white accessories and white carnations.

Carl A. Kupsky of Shawano served as his brother's best man and ushers were the groom's former roommate, Jack L. Kimsey of Wheeling, and the groom's cousin, Raymond Werhand of Cudahy, Wis.

The newlyweds honeymooned for two weeks in Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota and Canada before making their home at 222 Capri Terrace, Wheeling. The bride, a graduate of Prospect High School, is with Affiliated Book Distributors, Inc., Wheeling. (Times Candid

Wheeling Couple Married In Yellow, White Setting

A yellow and white color scheme formed the background for a recent wedding in Our Redeemer Lutheran Church of Wheeling, as Donna Miller and David Lemke were married in their home town. The bride is the daughter of the Raymond G. Millers of 129 E. Dennis, and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lemke, reside at 1033 S. Wheeling Road.

Rev. Herman C. Noll united the pair at 3 o'clock June 26, and after the ceremony a reception took place in Mount Prospect VFW Hall for 275 guests.

THE BRIDE wore a traditional silk organza wedding gown and elbow-length veil for the nuptials, and her bouquet contained a bit of the yellow of the color scheme. It was composed of white daisies and tiny yellow roses.

The yellow was also prominent in the attire of her attendants, the girls dressed in floor-length yellow linen with satin trim.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Carol Jean Miller, who carried white daisies, and bridesmaids were another sister, Betty Lou Miller, Carol Freitag and Barbara Weidner, both of Arlington Heights, and Maryanna Ledbetter of Lake Zurich, who carried yellow carnations.

THERE WAS also a flower girl, 3-year-old Lisa Binelick of Northbrook, who wore yellow taffeta with a white nylon overskirt and carried a basket of rose petals and daisies.

Ring bearer was 7-year-old William Kreft of Marengo.

Seating the guests for the double ring service were Harold Weidner Jr. of Arlington Heights, Ronald Michalowski of Rolling Meadows, Jerry Jundinger of Wisconsin Rapids and Donald Lemke, the groom's brother.

Best man was Raymond McCandless of Milwaukee.

MINT GREEN was chosen by Mrs. Miller for her attire on her daughter's wedding day. Mrs. Lemke wore a blue dress, and both had white orchid corsages.

The newlyweds are now living in an apartment at 119 Deborah Lane, Wheeling, after a 2-week honeymoon in Niagara Falls and Canada.

The bride, Prospect High School graduate, is a department manager for Montgomery Ward's, while the groom works for Arcole Midwest Corp. as assistant superintendent of equipment. He is an Arlington High School graduate. (S

Susan Ponsot Is June 26 Bride in St. Louis Rite

St. Louis was the scene of a recent wedding which took the Charles Ponsot family of 730 N. Wilshire, Arlington Heights, to that city to see their daughter Susan Ruth become the bride of Douglas Kamp. The June 26 ceremony was performed by Rev. James Murphy in St. Jerome's Church at 10 a.m. Mass.

The bride's brothers took part in the nuptials, Paul and Charles Ponsot serving at the Mass and Thomas Ponsot as junior best man. The groom's sister, Deborah Kamp, was a junior bridesmaid, along with two of the bride's friends, Judy Kircher as maid of honor and Loretta Ging as bridesmaid. All are St. Louis residents.

The bridal attendants came down the aisle wearing pale green chiffon over taffeta dresses and carrying bouquets of daisies with ivy.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a lace gown over tiers of net, creating a bouffant skirt. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a petaled flower headpiece embroidered with pearls and crystals. Orchids and stephanotis composed her bouquet.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kamp of St. Louis. Mrs. Kamp wore a pale green lace dress to witness her son's marriage and had a white orchid corsage pinned to her shoulder. The bride's mother chose an avocado green silk sheath dress with white accessories and also had a white orchid corsage.

SEATING the guests for the double ring rites were John Oldani, Ronald Weiss, Louis Kamp and William Brown, all of St. Louis. Later a reception for 350 was held in the local DAV hall.

The newlyweds then left for a week's honeymoon at Gatlinburg, Tenn., and are now at home in Florissant, Mo., at 258 St. Jacques St.

Before her marriage the bride worked for A. O. Smith Harvestore in Arlington Heights. The groom is with McDonnell Corp. in St. Louis.

Skateboards Fun, But Take Caution

There is just no getting around it—kids are pretty inventive when it comes to having fun.

If they are too small to go surfing or live inland, the next best thing and the newest, is skateboarding, which is great fun. It's also dangerous!

THE FUN AND danger of this new sport has already set up a new department of unhappy statistics. Several youngsters have been killed in skateboard collisions with automobiles.

Although reliable statistics are not yet available on skateboard accidents resulting in concussios, lacerations and various types of fractures, it has become serious enough to cause several communities to ban skateboards on public streets and sidewalks.

IF THE THRILL of skateboarding is irrestible, John P. Fleming, Director of Public Safety of the National Safety Council, suggests you skate on bump and crack-free pavement. Wear sneakers or shoes with nonslip soles, and strive for control rather than speed.

When a skateboard is not in use, keep it out of walkways, driveways and stairs. (SF

Arlington Couple Married on July 3

An Arlington Heights couple, the former Mrs. Dacia R. Johnson and Albert W. Jurs Sr., were married July 3 in a 5 o'clock ceremony in Meadows Baptist Church, with Rev. Merrill Dunlop officiating.

The bride wore an ice blue 2-piece dress with a matching sequin headpiece.

THE ONLY guests were her daughter, Mrs. Brian Ellis, her son, Craig R. Johnson, and Mr. Jurs' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Armand Jurs of Rolling Meadows.

After the rites the couple and their families had dinner at Old Orchard Country Club. The newlyweds then left for a short honeymoon at Crystal Lake.

MR. JURS IS assistant superintendent of water works in Barrington, and his wife is taking a practical nursing course at Niles Township High School while student nursing at Northwest Community Hospital.

They are "at home" at 1007 N. Mitchell, Arlington Heights.

Wonder what to do with the kids on hot, hot days when you want them near enough but not underfoot?

Pack them off to the backyard on a picnic. Fill an ice chest with soft drinks and a picnic jug with milk and make sandwiches. They'll love it, and it'll keep them put, not underfoot. (S

Conservation Is Garden Club Topic

Birds, wild life, fertilizing, safe insecticides, feeding trees, evergreens as protection covers and pollution were all covered in a talk on conservation by Walter L. Vogl when he spoke recently at the monthly meeting of Plum Grove Garden Club, Palatine.

Also on the program was Mrs. Wiley Carr, a nationally accredited flower show judge, who constructively criticized a flower arrangement created by one of the members. Comments on arrangements done by club members is part of the educational work of the club.

Hostess for the evening meeting was Mrs. Joseph Stude with Mrs. H. C. Koepke as co-hostess. Members answered roll call with the botanical and or, common name of an annual in their gardens. Guest at the meeting was Mrs. Momoyo Obara from Honolulu.

Plans were made for members to cut flowers from their gardens for delivery to Elgin State Hospital by Mrs. Harry Eickenberg. The group's next board meeting will be held Monday, Aug. 16, at the Palatine home of Mrs. Jack Evans, 573 S. Plum Grove Road. (S

Grapefruit Relish Is Nutritious, Flavorful

CANNED GRAPEFRUIT sections, which are Florida's fine convenience products, make a delicious relish to serve with cold meats and poultry.

Planning a church picnic, a fund-raising supper, a family reunion or club outing? Then you know that it is economical to buy whole hams and turkeys and large cuts of roast beef for serving a crowd.

To keep large-scale fare from the mundane requires imaginative touches in the accompaniments to the main dishes. As serving meats cold is the most practical way of feeding a crowd, a zesty relish that goes well with beef, ham or puultry is a perfect choice.

THIS RECIPE for Grapefruit Relish couldn't be simpler, and it requires no cooking, making it a summer special. Though the ingredients are figured to serve four, it is easy enough to multiply them to feed forty. Plump, juicy canned Florida grapefruit sections, packed at their peak of quality during the winter months, combine with vinegar, brown sugar, instant onion and ginger for a spicy taste-tempter.

Canned Florida grapefruit sections are one of summer's best food buys. The good fresh flavor and vitamin C content are retained, making the fruit a nourishing choice. The canned sections are low in cost yet high in convenience as they're all ready to use and take up little shelf space.

They can be chilled shortly before serving time and are delicious served straight from the can for breakfast fruit, and in appetizers, salads and desserts.

GRAPEFRUIT RELISH

1 can (1 pound) Florida grapefruit sections
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 teaspoons instant onion
¼ teaspoon ginger

Combine all ingredients. Chill several hours. Serve with cold meat or poultry. Yield: 4 servings. (SH

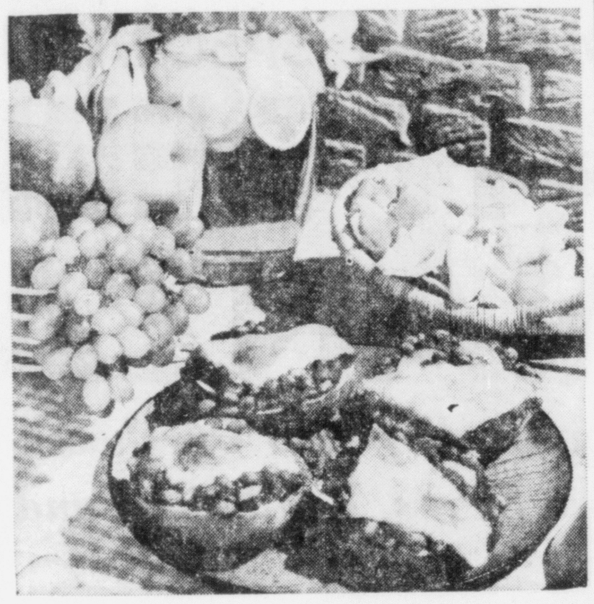
Hearty Salad

Mix canned pinto beans, kidney beans and chick peas together for a multi-bean salad. Toss with garlic dressing and garnish with browned frankfurter slices.

Lots of Green

Popeye swears by canned spinach, a testimonial which has helped that honorable vegetable mightily. However, many other greens come in cans, notably turnip greens, collards, mustard greens, kale, beet greens, mixed greens and others.

Bean Sandwiches Are Summer Fare



Sandwiches are Mother's favorite helpmate for summer meal planning. These easy-to-fix menu headliners are favorites with young and old alike and can offer virtually a whole meal in a single edible "package."

Protein-rich beans and ground beef in barbecue sauce provide the impetus for Patio Bean Sandwiches. These hearty open-face sandwiches also feature cucumber, onion, green pepper, and seasonings of garlic and dill. Hard rolls provide crunch, and mild cheese adds mellow flavor goodness.

KEEP A VARIETY of canned bean products on hand for easy summer meals. Serve the beans heated, just as they come from the can, for a convenient lunch or supper main dish.

Combine the beans with other ingredients for taste-tempting salads, sandwiches, and skillet dishes.

PATIO BEAN SANDWICHES

1 can (1 pound) beans and ground beef in barbecue sauce
½ cup cucumber slices cut in half
¼ cup minced onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 small clove garlic, minced
Generous dash dill
2 round hard rolls, cut in half
4 slices mild process cheese, cut in half diagonally

In bowl, combine beans, cucumber, onion, green pepper, garlic, and dill. Scoop out center of rolls. Spoon bean mixture into rolls. Broil about 4 inches from heat for 7 minutes.

Arrange cheese on top. Broil until cheese melts. Makes 4 sandwiches. (SH

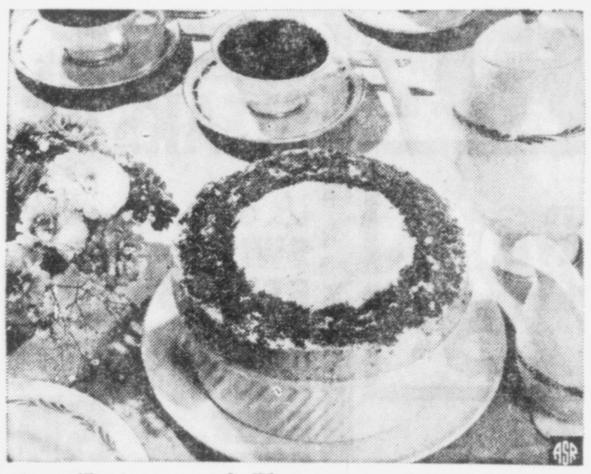
Summer Stunner— A Coffee Souffle



A souffle in summer? Why not? When it requires no baking, no worrying, no wondering if it will be as tall and tantalizing as it should be, a souffle becomes the ideal warm weather dessert.

Of course, we're talking of a gelatine souffle, and specifically, of a luscious Coffee Cream Souffle.

THIS IS THE perfect dessert companion to coffee for any type of occasion, but particularly when you want something out-of-the ordinary to show off.

Being the refrigerator sort, Coffee Cream Souffle can be made well in advance ready to be served up proudly at a moment's notice.

Its true complement is coffee —rich, fragrant, steaming coffee that contrasts deliciously with the coolness of the souffle.

COFFEE CREAM SOUFFLE

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
1/3 cup cold, double-strength coffee
2½ cups hot, double-strength coffee
1 cup sugar, divided
1½ cups creamed cottage cheese
2 egg yolks
1 tablespoon brandy flavoring
2 cups heavy cream
2 egg whites
⅛ teaspoon salt

Soften gelatine in cold coffee and dissolve in hot coffee. Add 2/3 cup sugar. Stir until dissolved and chill unti syrupy. Meanwhile press cottage cheese through a sieve. Add egg yolks and beat 3 minutes.

Add gelatine mixture and beat in. Whip cream and fold in. Beat egg whites until they form soft peaks and add remaining 1/3 cup sugar and salt slowly, continuing to beat. Fold two mistures together gently.

Let stand at room temperature until mixture will mound in spoon. Meanwhile, bind a double strip of aluminum foil firmly around 1-qt. souffle dish or casserole, extending it 2 inches above top rim of dish. Spoon gelatine mixture into dish.

Chill until firm. Remove strip. If desired, garnish top with grated unsweetened chocolate. Make 8 to 10 servings. (SH

Flavorful Dressing For Salad

Here is a flavorful dressing for crowning tossed salads, sliced tomatoes or even baked potatoes. The zesty flavor of the American blue cheese enhances almost any vegetable. This dressing is even "fancy" enough for guests.

BLENDER BLUE DRESSING
(makes about 2 cups)

1 cup sour cream
½ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 clove garlic, pressed
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
dash of hot pepper sauce
1½ cups crumbled American blue cheese

Place all the ingredients but the American blue cheese into an electric blender. Add 1 cup of the blue cheese. Blend until dressing is emulsified and smooth. Stir in remaining blue cheese. Chill. (SH

THIS EYE CATCHING Spanish Southwest design is one of 50 specially selected custom plans offered by Long Grove Country Club Estates, located on Route 53 in the southwest area of the village of Long Grove. The home is a dramatic, eight-room concept, planned around a large, walled-in atrium, or court. (10BB

Builder Offers 50 Designs

An inviting Spanish southwest design, combining dramatic style and spacious comfort, is currently getting marked attention from visitors to Long Grove Country Club Estates, located on Route 53 in the southwest area of the Village of Long Grove.

The design is one of 50 completely different, specially selected, custom home designs offered by the building and developing firm, R. J. Anderson, Inc.

Anderson reports that his firm considered approximately 2,000 different home designs before finally choosing the 50.

ALTHOUGH greatly varied, the plans are carefully selected for their exceptional quality and for their adaptability to the natural advantages of the community's varied homesites.

"We offer only one of each kind in this special portfolio, and each plan, once chosen for building in the estates, will be destroyed," Anderson explained.

The Spanish Southwest design is distinctive in all aspects. It contains over 3,100 square feet of area with eight rooms, 2½ baths and a two-car garage with plenty of storage or work space.

The exterior utilizes a series of low-pitched overhanging roofs for unusual sweeping effect, and further drama is added through use of extended rafter ends and broad expanses of masonry wall masses. Paneled double front gates and garden walls broken by large, old world, columned window openings add more distinction.

THE OVERALL design of the home has been developed around a large, inviting atrium, or court. This is completely walled-in and is centered on a decorative fountain. A broad, covered walk leads to the home's entrance hall. From this point, traffic is conveniently distributed to the dining and living rooms, to the kitchen and work area and, via a unique walkway paralleling one side of the atrium, to the family room and the sleeping wing of the house.

In the sleeping area, space and comfort are accented. Two of the four bedrooms offer double closets. The master bedroom has two such double closets with private bath and almost roomwide sliding glass window-doors opening onto the rear terrace. The family room, over 24 x 15 feet in size, also looks out upon the rear terrace and leads into the kitchen and informal eating area.

Numerous interior features add to this home's appeal. Included are built-in bookcases at each side of the living room entrance, many service closets throughout the house; and, in both family and living rooms, a dramatic fireplace with raised hearth.

IN ADDITION to the distinctive Spanish Southwest design, Anderson's 50-plan portfolio of one-of-a-kind plans includes Colonials, multi-levels, ranches, two-story homes, French Provincial and New England and Early American traditional designs.

Long Grove Country Club Estates is open daily from 10 a.m. till dusk. (10BB

Indian Lakes Opens More Home Sites

The Branigar Organization has opened a second unit of home sites at Indian Lakes Estates, bringing the total acreage of the new Bloomingdale subdivision to better than 500 acres.

This newest addition to Indian Lakes consists of 120 half-acre, fully improved lots, according to Harvey M. Branigar, president of the Branigar Organization.

The 520 home sites surround the plush new Indian Lakes Country Club, a luxurious daily fee country club with twin 18-hole golf courses, watered fairways, air conditioned club house and Olympic-sized swimming pool.

FIVE OF THE six lakes which dot the area are on the twin golf courses, and one, five acres in area, has an island in the middle.

Said Branigar, "When these attractions are added to an Americana museum, a pair of swans in each lake, and a bird sanctuary, Indian Lakes Estates is truly inviting to the potential home builder."

While the Branigar Organization specializes in land development, it leaves the buyer free to build his own home.

"This," continued Branigar, "is another advantage of Indian Lakes Estates. Purchasers of homesites are free to choose their own architects and to build as they like."

"We have no preference regarding design, but we do pass final approval on all plans, to assure continued high quality in overall community appearance." (15BB

Fish Lovers Head For McDonald's

The biggest seller of fish in the U.S. is turning out to be the McDonald's chain of hamburger restaurants, whose name is virtually synonymous with beef.

Since adding fish sandwiches to its menu, McDonald's sells more fish than anyone else for the same reason that it sells more hamburgers than anyone else. The chain has nearly 700 units in 45 states, and they all draw big crowds.

Even McDonald's admits that it's a little surprised by its fish story. The addition of fish, the only menu change in the chain's 10-year history, started gradually in a few units as an accommodation service, but now nearly all McDonald's units have added it.

FISH SANDWICHES have proved as popular in inland areas as in coastal regions where fish and seafoods have always been traditional menu choices, McDonald's reports.

McDonald's doesn't expect fish to overtake the hamburger in popularity. Study after study has revealed the hamburger as America's favorite food. And, besides the U.S. is a meat-eating country. The average American eats 140 pounds a year and 12 pounds of fish, research has discovered. That's in contrast to the real fish-eating champion, Japan, where they eat 65 pounds of fish a year and only five pounds of meat.

Just as you might expect, the biggest demand for McDonald's fish sandwiches comes on Fridays, but other days of the week are closer behind than you might think. (15BB

Marks 35 Years at Automatic Electric

Harry Zyk, 337 Catalpa Ave., Roselle, a member of the local park board for four years and one-time unsuccessful candidate for village president, celebrated his 35th anniversary at Automatic Electric Co.

Zyk, a relay adjuster for the telephone and electronics equipment manufacturing company, began there as an errand boy. Most of his career was devoted to the Strowger switch assembly department where he has been a relay adjuster for 25 years.

Zyk moved into the Ridgeview section of Roselle 14 years ago when there were only a few homes built in the area. A few years ago he helped form the Ridgeview Home Owners Association to oppose a sewer cleaning project. Then he was elected president of the home owners group, a post he held three years. The group now is known as Ridgeview Improvement Association. (5BB

Sales Remain High At Baird & Warner

Baird & Warner's sales continue to keep pace with the record established last year when the 110-year-old real estate firm grossed over $85 million.

At the close of the first half, an increase of almost one per cent was realized, according to a report issued by John L. Hall, vice president and general sales manager. Volume for the first six months of 1965 totaled $41,307,901, as against $41,004,365 for a similar period last year.

Single family residential properties, including co-op apartments, increased from 890 in 1964 to 941 for the first six months of this year, an improvement of 5.73 per cent. Sales of vacant land parcels increased 19.56 per cent during 1965 over the first half of last year.

An over-all increase of 2.19 per cent in sales of all types of properties was noted, even though there was a decrease in transactions involving commercial and apartment buildings and miscellaneous real estate parcels.

The drop-off in large sales involving apartment buildings and commercial buildings was offset to a degree by the healthy improvement in the sale of single family dwellings, Hall's report said. While homes listed for sale were down in some Chicagoland areas during the early months of 1965, more houses were available for sale as the year progressed, he noted.

Industrial building expansion in the Chicago community continued. (15BB

Before You Dig, Check What's Below

Don't dig before calling Northern Illinois Gas Co.

Savings of manhours, dollars and continuity of 23,330 miles of NI-Gas services to 868,000 homes and industries in northern Illinois are just a couple of the reasons given by Roy Wiedow, NI-Gas maintenance adviser.

Last year, he reports, NI-Gas crews repaired 648 damaged services on construction sites. The damages were not only costly in repairs, but they resulted in a loss of working manhours to the construction company digging in the area.

NEIGHBORHOOD families, offices and commercial businesses were inconvenienced by the interruption of gas service for cooking, eating and air conditioning.

Notify the local NI-Gas maintenance department before digging, Wiedow advises. A company inspector will isit the construction site and mark the area with red-topped stakes, where the underground gas facilities are located.

In addition to gas pipes, Wiedow comments, there are other services underground such as water lines, sewers, telephone cables, fire alarms, traffic control cables and electric cables. These companies should also be contacted. (15BB

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Rev. Robert H. Harper

GETTING ALONG

Have you ever heard someone say, "I don't want to get rich, I just want to get along!"? Many of your friends and neighbors may have this special outlook and attitude.

On the other hand, don't you know a few people who are always "grasping", never able to relax or take time off for a moment of just plain fun?

If you are average, you know people who fall into both categories. And, if so, in which category do you personally belong?

You are lucky if you can say, "neither," and mean it. You're somewhere on the middleground, neither complacent, nor avaricious. You are not content to be idle, yet you do not feel every moment must be converted into dollars and cents. If this is "you", you're rolling along the road to real happiness. You count your blessings as often as you count your money.

The world is not a timeless vineyard, forever ripe for basket-filling; it is instead an orchard where many things grow and where some things die. We grow as individuals when we learn to walk in the sunshine of life; when we know how to give as well as to take; and when we can find satisfaction in doing some small good deed simply because it pleases us to do so . . . And because it is something that needs doing.

Perfect Fall Vacation Combination...

HAWAII
AND YOU

The Islands are at their sparkling best this fall. Weather is great. The summer rush is over. And there's a cruise just right for you among the autumn sailings of Matson's exclusively First Class LURLINE —4½ days and 5 nights—each way—of unmatched cuisine, service and entertainment in the Grand Manner. The perfect complement to make your Hawaiian vacation complete.

Sailings are every 12 days from San Francisco or Los Angeles and you can enjoy an optional bonus of a California Coastal Cruise between the two ports at no extra charge enroute to or from Honolulu. The free day in either port is compliments of Matson with the ship as your hotel. Fares begin at $414 round trip.

Or take one of the LURLINE'S two 15-day, 4-island cruises. The Makahiki Festival Cruise (Oct. 28) is timed to include festivities on all four islands. The Christmas-New Year's Cruise (Dec. 20) allows you to spend the holidays at sea with charming new companions. Cruises depart Los Angeles one day later. Fares begin at $590. Pick the LURLINE vacation just right for you and let us make all the arrangements.

KNITTERS

RUGS — HOOKED RUGS
SCANDINAVIAN RUGS

We're excited! These rugs are gorgeous — the designs are great — and they're almost automatic to make. When you pick up speed you can make 500 loops per minute.

The Quality of the yarn & the burlap backing is unexcelled (we didn't know burlap came in such quality).

The trick is in the hooker. This hooker walks forward to the next stitch by itself. It's really fun — quick and easy. Do come in and share our enthusiasm, we have finished samples too.

Watch for announcement of our Reynolds Trunk showing of new knits.

Stamps Mark Special Occasions—Public and Personal

Commemoratives Win Increasing Audience

Staff Writer
by JOAN LORENSON

A young woman of southern birth wanted stamps for her wedding invitations that would be "different" and suggest her southern heritage.

Addison Postmaster Robert Nelson sold her the Civil War commemorative stamps for the "northerners" and the Sam Houston stamps for the "southerners on her invitation list.

The first commemorative stamps appeared in 1893 with the issuance of the Columbian stamps. These depicted the important events concerning Columbus' discovery of the new world.

POSTAL AUTHORITIES believe there is increasing interest in collecting the commemorative stamps. Each post office reports it has regular customers — predominantely male — who buy new stamps the day of issue.

The United States postal system issues about two new commemorative stamps per month. Local post offices get a certain number based on the total of their customers. Arlington Heights, for example, gets 50,000 of each issue with 5,000 going to Rolling Meadows and another 5,000 to Elk Grove Village.

Many people who buy stamps will ask for certain commemorative issues. Arlington Heights Postmaster Virginia Dodge commented that some customers will ask for other stamps, however, if they do not like the design or find them too unwieldy.

Businessmen also request the regular issue instead of commemorative stamps. The regular stamps are smaller.

ALL THE AREA post offices report their most popular commemorative stamp was the one honoring John F. Kennedy, issued several months after his death. The Kennedy stamp with its face and torch on blue-gray had to be reordered at all the post offices.

Nelson said it is difficult to predict what will appeal to people. The event rather than the design of the stamp prompts the highest sales, if the Kennedy and the first space flight stamp sales are indicators.

The Nevada statehood stamp was popular at Addison, Bensenville and Palatine. This was a stamp showing a town done in pastel colors. A homemaker stamp also seemed popular.

Arlington Heights Post Office reported a general negative reaction to the fine arts stamp with its abstract painting. Mrs. Dodge added that her stamp clerks found people dislike the cancer stamp, a deep rectangle with orange letters, and a black stethoscope. In Addison, the Eleanor Roosevelt stamp apparently was cooly received by many Republicans.

"U.S. STAMPS have lousy designs," said Lisle Kauffman, owner of a stamp store in Mount Prospect. The designs for the commemorative stamps are chosen by a committee reviewing entries in open competition. "Not one in 10 chosen represents the best design," Kauffman said.

Usually a stamp collector becomes involved in the hobby after reading an article about philately or seeing someone's stamp collection, Kauffman said. "They need a push into it."

A Mount Prospect stamp collector verified his statement. He had begun collecting stamps as a 12-year-old, when a cousin was interested. Until his adulthood he did not concentrate on American commemorative stamps.

STAMP COLLECTING can be an inexpensive hobby if the collector restricts himself to new issues. An 1893 stamp might be worth $450 — beyond most collectors' pocketbooks.

The date of issue of a new commemorative stamp is posted in post offices. The post office makes no profit except an indirect one in sale of these stamps. Mrs. Martha Webster, postmaster of the Palatine Post Office, explained collectors' purchase of stamps eliminates the service usually expected with it. This would amount to the indirect saving.

The stamp always can be used regardless of age, she added.

At a store a buyer might pay seven cents for a five cent stamp.

The serious stamp collector reads where a stamp will be issued and sends a self-addressed envelope with money for the stamp. He gets a canceled stamp from the place of issue. For example, the Hoover stamp will go on sale Aug. 10 at West Branch, Iowa, birthplace of Hoover. The stamp is sold at all other post offices Aug. 11.

NONE OF THE area post offices has been a place of first day issue. "We've never had anyone famous enough," said Norman Nesser, who handles stamps at the Palatine Post Office.

Stamp designs show people, places and events. They are designed after paintings, engravings, panels on bronze doors or friezes, photographs, statues, etchings, posters, plaques, coins. Almost one-third of the commemorative stamps are devoted to commemorative sets such as the Columbian, the Trans-Mississippi, Pan American, National Parks, Famous Americans, or Overrun Countries.

Famous Americans — authors, educators, poets, musicians, inventors — have been honored. Celebration of 100 years of statehood has been commemorated in stamps. Organizations like the 4-H, Boy Scouts, American Bar Association, American Automobile Association, National Guardsman, and National Atlantic Treaty Organization have been subjects of stamps. Professions have been honored and the newspaper boy on his route.

MOST COLLECTORS regard collecting as a lifelong job. Probably the most famous collector was President Franklin D. Roosevelt. His knowledge from stamp collecting helped him plan an attack after Pearl Harbor. Roosevelt told the New Zeland premier he considered Manga Riva the best place to base an attack on Tokyo. The premier admitted he was not familiar with the island.

Roosevelt had 150 albums of stamps, found in six empty pop bottle crates when he died. It was estimated he had one-quarter million sorted stamps and one million unsorted ones. (A15

Teen Performers On European Tour

A troupe of 36 talented teens and adults left O'Hare Airport Monday evening, for a three-week tour of Europe.

They will visit seven countries doing goodwill shows for European students and American military stationed abroad.

The troupe flew direct to London on a BOAC jet where they were to board a motor coach.

This is the third European tour conducted by the Talented Teen Foundation, an organization dedicated to helping gifted youth. The tour is under the personal direction of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Koehnke, 320 E. Division St., Itasca. Koehnke is director of the foundation.

STUDENTS will be coached as they travel. Shows and concerts will be given at Horsham and Ramsgate, England; Amsterdam and Steenwijk, Holland; Koblenz and Mannheim, Germany; Lucerne, Switzerland, and Nice, France.

Twelve educational side tours are planned to famous cathedrals, castles, concert halls and historical spots.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. Upon being introduced for the second time to Miss Jones, is it all right to say, "I already know Miss Jones"?

A. This sounds a little abrupt, almost as though it were too much trouble to make a second acknowledgment. I think it would sound much better to say, "I have already had the pleasure of meeting Miss Jones."

Q. When lettuce, parsley, or watercress are placed around an item of food to garnish it, may this properly be eaten?

A. If this is a part of your individual serving, and you wish to eat it, you have a perfect right to do so.
